THE GHOST DANCES

Cavalry on the March to Fort Meade in the Southwest.

THE REGIMENT DUSTS IN TEN HOURS.

Sitting Bull Leading the Dance In Person; From the "Seat of War."

DENVER, Col., Dec. 2.—The following telegram to the Associated Press from Fort Wingate, via Coledge, N. M., says:
The greatest excitement prevails at the present writing (1.30 a. m.) A dispatch was received by Gen. Carr, from the war department, directing that the Sixth cavalry proceed, with the least practicable delay, to Fort Meade, S. D. Hundreds of lanterns were seen flitting to and fro, men and officers were hurrying hither and thither, Gen. Carr was up in a moment superintending and giving orders to expedite the movement. The general has had vast experience with the Sioux and is most eager to meet some of them again. Wagons were loading baggage all night, and horses are being shipped as fast as possible.
It is believed that in from ten to eleven hours the whole regiment will have left here on its way to the front. This speaks volumes for the gallant colonel and the gallant Sixth, who have braved fifteen years in Arizona and New Mexico, the most harassing of Indian warfare.
Lieut. Col. Marrow with troop G, Sixth cavalry, will join the command at Watrous Station, N. M., which will make in all a total of seven troops at headquarters of the Sixth cavalry. They will arrive in Denver probably Wednesday.

Sitting Bull Leading.
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 2.—A special from Fort Reno to Gen. Wesley Merritt, in command of the department of the Missouri, says: "Ghost dances are at present being held at the Washita river cantonment and the Red Hills, the Red Hills' dance being conducted by Sitting Bull in person."
A northern Arapahoe, who has been in the vicinity for months, claims to be a disciple of the new Christ. Sitting Bull has announced that when the dance is completed he will return to his home in the North. As he has already collected a herd of forty or fifty ponies, presents from the believers in the new Christ, his announcement is probably correct. When he goes it is probable the excitement among the Indians will subside.

Gen. Merritt has received orders to send the troops at Fort Lewis, Col., to Fort Meade. The troops are cavalrymen and number 100.

An Agent Talks.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Indian Commissioner Bill has his from Special Census Agent Lea at the Pine Ridge Agency.
"As there are many stories about and being transmitted to the interior department from this agency in regard to the present trouble, assigning as a cause the suffering of the Indians for want of food. The facts are my work takes me in each house and habitation occupied by the Indians, thus giving me a splendid opportunity to make observations. I have yet to see the first sign of suffering from want of food. Asking the question, 'are the rations you draw from the government sufficient for your subsistence?' I never heard a family complain and say 'no,' and not in the first single instance has an Indian, who is reliable and intelligent complained to me of suffering among their people. It has been only a few weeks since one mixed blood woman, having six in her family, told me that they had all the provisions that they could use, and that if the people would take care of their rations, as she did, they would have plenty."

Hunger has nothing to do with the present trouble. The whole trouble has been brought on by the old bucks who begin to become restless, partly from illnesses, partly from a desire to regain their influence over the people and partly from the undue influence of designing whites.

Orders in Washington.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Gen. Miles was in consultation with the war department officials this morning in regard to the latest change in the Indian situation.
The action of the Sioux in going to the Bad Lands is regarded with dissatisfaction and concern. Dispatches received indicate that the situation otherwise is practically unchanged and nothing positive appears to be known of the intention of the Indians in the bad lands. Four companies of cavalry have been ordered from Fort Leavenworth and are now on their way. They are selected from the First, Second, Fifth and Seventh regiments. Orders have also been sent to the First infantry stationed on the Pacific coast, the Fifth regiment in Texas and the Seventh regiment at Denver, to hold themselves in readiness to start.

In Indian Territory.
GUTHRIE, O. T., Dec. 2.—The Messiah craze is fully on in the Indian Territory, and the Cheyenne, Arapahoe, Osage, Missouri and Seminole tribes are the most uneasy. The Kickapoo, twenty-five miles south of here, a tribe which has always been more or less uneasy or superstitious, a number of them passed through here yesterday on their way to Red Rock, Cherokee strip, to consult with their friends, the Missouri, Ponca and Osage.

Word was received here last night by wire from Ponca that the depot agent, section hands and inhabitants would be compelled to leave there on account of the menacing attitude of the Indians.

This dispatch inquires if troops could be had, stating that these tribes were becoming almost crazy in their ghost dance.

Ghostly Dancers of Fort Hall.
BOISE CITY, Idaho, Dec. 2.—It is reported that a ghost dance is in progress among the Indians on the Fort Hall reservation at the camp of Pug White, a Bannock Indian, an intimate friend of the bogus Messiah Johnson, who is well known at Fort Hall.

Why Don't They Collide.
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—At the army headquarters this morning, orders were given that all orders should remain at their desks unless special leave were granted.
Important telegrams were received from the Indian country. Gen. Brooke telegraphs that "a number of Rosebud Indians with some from Pine Ridge agency and some from the Lower Brule and Standing Rock agencies, are gathered to the number of 600, on White river, about the mouth of Wounded Knee, and these Indians are very defiant."

May "Collide" Now.
OMAHA, Nov. 22.—Advices from Pine Ridge agency report that the campaign against Indians will probably open up today. The troops expect to advance to Bad Lands at night, and every provision is being made for a long and arduous campaign. The government has advised for forage and transportation.
Indian scouts report more depredations.
The army officers at Pine Ridge predict the expedition will be as tough and important as in Indian history.

A DEATH
Out of Which Chicago Papers Proceed to Make a Mystery.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—A strange tragedy was enacted in the southern part of the city late last night. Rose Martell, a French woman, 27 years old, fatally shot an unknown man and the reason for killing him cannot be ascertained.
The woman is under arrest and tells a peculiar story. She says that a man rapped at her door and asked for something to eat. She told him she had nothing to give him. She alleges that he then stepped inside and asked for her money, with remarkable coolness she then asked him to get her a drink of water. As he went into a rear room she saw a revolver, and as he again appeared, fired two bullets through his body. Two policemen heard the shooting, entered the house and found the man lying unconscious on the floor.
He had not enough life left to tell the story of the shooting.

Illinois Coal Strike Settled.
DECATUR, Ill., Dec. 2.—At a special meeting of 3000 coal and mine laborers held yesterday at Locust grove, it was decided to order all employees to keep away from the coal mines until the increase of wages asked was allowed.
After a meeting of the operators the Jupiter Mining company and Bailey &
Browning company announced that the Columbus scale would be paid. This virtually settles the strike.

Electing Peck's Successor.
MILWAUKEE, Dec. 2.—The special election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mayor Peck is in progress today. The fight is between Acting Mayor Somers, the regular democratic nominee, and John Stippel, president of the federal council, and who became the candidate in accordance with a call signed by 5000 artisans and law league endorsed by the anti-Bennett law league and will probably be elected by a large majority.

Surgeon General Baxter.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—While there has been no decided change in Surgeon General Baxter's condition since last night, he is still in an extremely critical condition. The whole of his right side (not left as stated) is completely paralyzed and he has at no time regained consciousness since the stroke. He is resting easily but shows no sign of returning consciousness.

Elastic Chicago.
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—By the annexation of West Roseland and Washington heights in accordance with the vote of the suburbs at the recent election, an area of five square miles was today added to the limits of the city of Chicago. The formal turning over of the keys and seals of office of the annexed territory to Mayor Cregier took place this morning.

A Cattle Disease.
PARIS, Ill., Dec. 2.—A disease called
"Blackleg" has attacked the cattle of Eldridge township a few miles southeast of this city and is causing much apprehension among the stockholders of that section. A number of fine animals have died and a general epidemic is feared.

Sault Passages.
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 2.— [Special to The Herald].—Down this morning, Colgate Hoyt, 103, 11. Arrived up: Wm. H. Stevens.
The Hoyt reloaded, lightened a portion of the cargo of the barge 107, and left for Buffalo at noon.

King Kalakaua Coming.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—King Kalakaua is coming to San Francisco on the cruiser Charleston and will arrive this week.
The journey is made solely in the interest of his health and will not extend beyond California.

Big Damages Against the Coffee Man.
ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 2.—In the court of appeals this morning in the case of Campbell vs. Arbuckle, for breach of promise, the judgment of the lower court was affirmed and therefore the complainant recovers $45,000 damages.

The Late Gen. Belknap.
DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 2.—It is understood that the secretary of the late Gen. W. W. Belknap is in bad shape, and that his widow is in need of ready money.

SHAKY SUPERIOR BANK.

The West Superior Bank of Commerce Goes Under.

QUEER AFTER ITS STATEMENTS.

Which, for the Week, Have Been of the Most Wonderfully Satisfactory Nature.

WEST SUPERIOR, Dec. 2.—[Special to The Herald].—The West Superior Bank of Commerce, organized under state laws of Wisconsin, has suspended payment. Its doors were closed this morning, and all day long the institution has been surrounded by a crowd of creditors.
On the day of the bank failure the bank staggered under a big run, but outside aid came to its rescue and the evil time was tided over until last night, when the officers, at a meeting held about 8 o'clock, decided to close doors. The same causes that made Bell & Eyster assign were instrumental in this failure.
The crash came as a surprise to West Superior people, who supposed that the aid given the West Superior Bank of Commerce by other banks and capitalists would put the institution on its feet, and this supposition was made firm in the minds of all by the statement of Cashier Brooks and others, that the bank was on firm footing.

Bank officers cannot make a statement until 2:30, and it is utterly impossible to get at them now. The street rumors amount to nothing, and although it is certain that the bank will resume business, it is impossible to say when. My information is to the effect that the deposits are about $600,000 and are amply secured, but a trouble about rediscouting cause the suspension.
There is no excitement. It is safe to say that one of the causes, if not the cause, of the suspension, is the action of the city funds in directing that the city funds be divided among the other banks.

Officers and stockholders in the Bank of Commerce are among the wealthiest men in the city and President Catlin is worth $1,000,000, all of which accounts for the equanimity of depositors.
The bank officials have been in session this afternoon, and the following statement has been issued: Assets, $610,000; liabilities, $520,000. The bank is capitalized at $100,000. The stated cause of the failure is the withdrawal by the North American bank of New York of its open credit and the distribution of the West Superior city funds among the other banks.

A Wise Move.
At the first session of the directors of the Marine National bank, held yesterday afternoon, it was resolved in view of the general financial stringency, and in view of the fact that the bank had every reason to feel confidence in its business, that the officers be authorized to buy first-class commercial paper and to extend all proper accommodations to its customers.

The Country Banks.
H. A. Soriver, cashier of a flourishing country bank in east central Minnesota, is in Duluth today on business. To a Herald reporter he said: "The country banks of Minnesota have never had so much money as now. This is not because they have restricted loans, for they have not, but because of the great increase in deposits by farmers and tradesmen generally. That's where the country banks lead those in the cities."

THE KEYSTONE BANK.
The Run Continues With Unabated Vigor and All are Paid.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—The run on the Keystone bank continues today with unabated vigor. The crowd began to collect shortly before 10 o'clock and when the heavy iron door of the bank was raised they swarmed into the building and in a few minutes a line of 300 or 400 was formed.

All persons presenting checks for $100 or less were paid in currency, but any whose demands exceeded that amount were paid only the $100 in cash and given clearing house due bills for the balance.

The promptness with which every check was met and the heavy deposits made by a number of business houses restored confidence in the stability of the bank, and by 2 o'clock the run was over.

ALABAMA MINERS.
Six Thousand Coal Miners Are Out and Cripple All Industries.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 2.—The strike of the coal miners of Alabama went into effect yesterday, but all the men did not go out as expected. Of the 8000 free miners in the state, it is estimated that 6000 are out.
The only sensational feature of the strike is a report that it was brought about by the efforts of Pennsylvania iron manufacturers who want to cause a shut down of the furnaces in this district. It is claimed these iron men have promised the miners strong financial support in the event of a prolonged strike.

A number of the mine operators are going to fill the place of the strikers with negroes. They expect eventually to operate their mines entirely with negro labor. What the outcome of the strike will be, it is impossible to say, but a number of furnaces will shut down and probably all in this district.

THE ENGLISH FUSS.

More of the Nationalist Party's Present Dilemma.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—It is expected that a general meeting of the liberal members of the house of commons and the house of lords will shortly be held to consider the political situation.
At yesterday's meeting of the parliamentary representatives of the nationalist party, Mr. Sexton, who opposes Parnell, made an allusion to the statement made by Parnell in his recent manifesto, that radical wire pullers had sapped the integrity of the nationalist party. Parnell angrily retorted that his statement referred only to a section of the party, and inadvertently upon the conspiracy existing in every hole and corner of the house of commons, between Irish members of the house, and Henry Labouchere and Professor Stuart. Mr. Sexton claimed that he himself and his friends had been loyal to the party, and added:
"We are your colleagues, Parnell, not your slaves."

The Star, in an article inspired by Professor Stuart today, repudiates Par-nell's statement that there was a conspiracy in the house of commons between himself, Labouchere and certain members of the nationalist party.

Pursuant to adjournment, the meeting of the Irish members to consider the advisability of removing Parnell from his position as leader was resumed at noon today. Parnell was the first to arrive.
All hopes of the nationalist meeting reaching a decision on the main issue this afternoon have been abandoned. A meeting of the National league branches at Ballylanders sent a dispatch to Mr.
Mr. Finerucane, saying he must either report to Mr. Parnell or resign his seat in parliament.

A sharp controversy took place concerning the dispatches which had been sent to the United States. Mr. Koney admitted that he had cabled his own views to the delegates. Mr. Sexton said that the supplementary dispatch sent in the party's name, after the conference held last Friday night, did not accord with the arrangement which had been made at the conference. Campbell described the proceedings of Parnell's opponents as infamous. Parnell was appealed to to decide whether the expression used by Mr. Campbell was orderly.
He replied that the country would decide.

The cablegram sent by Messrs. Redmond and Kelly to Hamilton was as follows: "Return to England at once if you want to save the country. Affairs are in a critical condition and your help is much needed. Implore the other members of the visiting party to come also."

JONES OF ALABAMA.

He Discusses the Question of Disfranchisement for Ignorance.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 2.—In the course of his inaugural address yesterday, Governor Jones said that he did not think that the people would adopt any amendment to the constitution making property a qualification for suffrage office. As to an educational qualification, he believed there was a still wider divergence of opinion, "but when we remember," he continued, "that by the last census there were over 20,000 white voters who could not read or write—many of whom have borne arms in defense of the state—it is hardly reasonable to expect them to submit to disfranchisement in order to disarm negroes who cannot read or write, from participation in the government. Any attempt at this time to make a change in this direction would bring divisions among our people, and would be productive of more harm than good."

Upon the school question, the governor said in part: "Separate schools are demanded alike by the constitution and the holiest instincts of our nature, but great hardship has resulted in the apportionment of the present scant funds in communities where there is a great preponderance of the children of one race over those of the other. For this condition of things there is no effective remedy except a sufficiency of school money to educate all."

There is a strong popular demand that the amount appropriated by the state for public schools shall be supplemented by local taxation, but unless the amount furnished by the state and the local taxation will give a sufficiency for all the children, the evils referred to do not entirely disappear and various propositions have been discussed looking towards a remedy for them."

Graveyard Against the Rock Island.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 2.—A number of the grievance committee of railway conductors will leave this city for Chicago tonight in response to the call of Chairman C. S. Gispell. This meeting is called for the purpose of adjusting differences regarding salaries on eastern divisions of the Rock Island road. At a joint meeting of the superintendents and the grievance committee last June, a schedule fixing salaries for conductors all over the Rock Island system was adopted, and now it appears that the superintendents east of the Missouri river have been cutting.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The Bethlehem Iron company, of Bethlehem, Pa., has increased its capital stock from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000.
The increase will be expended in the construction of new ordnance buildings in which armor plate and gun forgings will be made.
Representative Cutcheon of Michigan, has introduced a joint resolution in the house that the secretary of war issue to the state of South Dakota 1000 rifles and ammunition not to exceed fifty rounds for each arm, to enable the state in putting down the Indian depredations.

LOOKING WESTWARD.

The business men of Boston see a threat to them in the recent railway revolutions and are awakening to the call to save and extend their ties with the West. The tendency of events in railroading, as one representative journal declares, is to put Boston farther and farther from the West. It is an old story that the great stretch of country from the Hudson to Chicago is held by railroad interests either hostile or indifferent to Boston. Practically on American soil, the lines that cross and serve this vast territory are controlled by cities which are the mercantile rivals of Boston. New York, with its own interests to serve before others, dominates the situation. It takes the commercial lion's share, and what is left goes to Baltimore, which is the original terminus of one great system, and to new ports like Newport News and Norfolk. Boston has felt that the Canadian Pacific was its main dependence to keep down rates on Western business to a point that gave it at least a chance for competition.

While existing railroad alliances will continue to keep Boston a port which the great Canadian line will be anxious to serve, there are reports from Canada that it is seeking an independent line to New York, and may build down through the Empire state as it has built down through Maine. While the situation beyond the Hudson as affecting Boston's interest is an old story, changes accomplished or threatened in railroad ownership in the West bode little good for Boston. By its charter the offices of the Union Pacific must remain in Boston, but the actual control of the road is today in the hands of those to whom Boston investors and their interests are of little consequence. There never was a day when assured connections with the head of the lakes, the trade center of the great Northwest, were of such vital and recognized importance as at present. While every day draws and holds Chicago more exclusively to New York, Duluth is looming up as the natural consort of Boston. The question most frequently asked of the New England railway men at the meeting of the senate committee on Canadian relations, was: "How much nearer are you to Duluth by Canadian connecting lines than by our own national lines?" The railway managers of New England already fully appreciate the worth of Duluth connections. The business men of Boston and all the leading New England ports will soon grasp the situation too. So much the better for them and Duluth.

THE WINTER AHEAD.

The New York Times has been making a careful study of weather indications, with results that are rather depressing to everybody but coal dealers and Southern hotel proprietors.

In the first place, the California rainy season is said to have been unusually raw and chilly; and this, as well as the rather short crops between the Rocky mountains and the Alleghenies, is thought to be a sign of a hard winter. The failure of the fruit crop at the East is reckoned as another indication that nature needs, and is therefore likely to get, cold weather and plenty of snow. In country stores, according to the report, hens are described as being unusually loath to bring out fall broods of chickens; pigs are being born with triple instead of double twists in their tails; old cows are dying off, the leaves fall prematurely and the corn shocks were heavy. The hunter also contributes his stock of forebodings, based chiefly upon the fact that squirrels are observed to be wearing fur coats of great thickness, and that coons and foxes are unusually fat. Along the Hudson river the thickness of clam shells gives cause for alarm, and the character of the famous goose bone, as studied in Connecticut, is thought to portend an old-fashioned winter.

The chief reliance of the dismal prophets, however, is the trio theory, according to which the average of cold for every three winters is about the same. Consequently, 1888 and 1889 having been very mild, 1890 should be very cold. But anybody who thinks that, in this matter, "all signs fail," is quite entitled to his opinion, and could make a very pretty argument in support of it.

Straight in line with The Herald's statement of the rock bottom and strength of the Duluth banks comes the timely set of resolutions adopted yesterday by the directing board of the Marine National bank, expressing the temper and spirit of the body of the city banks and auguring a progressive and prosperous winter season for Duluth's business interests. It is such firm and justly-confident declarations and acts as this that hold up the hands of a city and strengthen its heart.

Notable is the doubling of the number of books drawn from the public library during the past month, compared with the record for October. The library is not large, but it is exceedingly well selected and diversified. Nearly one-third of the books on hand are now in circulation, and it is of special interest to note that the demand thus far has been chiefly for the best kind of reading. Duluth's public library is certain to be one of the most valued institutions of the city, and with every day's growth its power for good and the good it does are advancing. By complying with the simple certificate regulation, any one in the city can use the library, and every reader in the city will soon be glad to use it more or less. The call should be doubled again this month.

Parnell is clinging to his post at the head of the Irish nationalists with the grip of a drowning man, and it is a pitiful sight to see one who has been so great a leader insisting now on dragging his cause down with his own fall. National disruption and alienation of English liberal support are the certain outcome of his desperate course if he keeps his grip and that means the wreck of the home rule cause for a term that cannot be measured. He has staked all on his personal cast, and all Ireland should now recognize this and refuse to be sacrificed to any man's reckless ambition. The time has come to choose between country and Parnell, and Parnell must be put down. Great as his services have been, he has now forfeited all claim to the allegiance of Ireland. He is no longer the deliverer of his country, but a wrecker, insanely or selfishly. His hands must be torn off.

The sore spot in our American financing is directly touched by The New York Epoch in its note that the hard times through which Wall street is passing are largely the result of over-capitalization. So long as promoters are allowed to spend say $5,000,000 to build a piece of railroad, and then to slap on it, for example, $5,000,000 of first mortgage bonds, $5,000,000 of second mortgage bonds, $5,000,000 of preferred stock and $10,000,000 of common stock—or, in other words, $25,000,000 of securities which represent only $5,000,000 of outlay, so long will panics threaten Wall street. The law should step in, in every state of the Union, and regulate just how many bonds and stocks shall be given out. We may not then have so many men worth $5,000,000 apiece and upwards, but it will be far better for the ordinary investor who, half the time, is sorely puzzled how to invest his hard-earned money. That is the truth in a nutshell, and the quicker it controls our national action, the better.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Agent T. H. Larke: The South Shore is taking east its share of flour. The close of navigation will bring rates up. Ernest Lachmund: Duluth is a mutually inclined city. Musicians have generally large and appreciative audiences.

J. M. Anderson: The new Woodbridge building gives us by far the finest music hall in the city. We will call it "The Steinway," and will fit it up as nicely as our old hall in the Metropolitan building was.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Three vessels aggregating 4701 tons burden were launched from Maine shipyards last Wednesday.

A tree recently felled at Kirkwood, Cal., contained 1000 pounds of honey.

The Swiss railway companies are shortly to introduce the zone tariff for passengers which has been so successful in Hungary.

A wild grape vine grafted to roses, which bore four varieties of these flowers, was one of the curiosities at a horticultural exhibition in Santa Cruz, Cal.

Somewhere has coined the word, "motorneur," to designate the person who manages the motor on an electric car.

A farmer at Riverside, Cal., has taken eight crops of alfalfa from one field this season. It is worth $17 per ton.

A service of carrier pigeons is to be established between Zanzibar and Lake Nyassa, in Africa. The stations will be thirty miles apart.

A late novelty is an invalid's chair, propelled by electricity. The battery will drive it over an ordinary road for nine hours at the rate of six miles per hour.

SEEN AND HEARD.

The secrets of the merchant's success now-a-days are advertising and display. These two words, carried out to the full extent of their meaning, bring business as no other thing will or can. A. T. Stewart, the millionaire merchant of New York, realized this as no other man of his time did, and he made money at the rate of $10,000 a day. Every merchant makes more or less of a display about holiday time, but few there are who know that such an arrangement the year round will bring business. Duluth has built and is now building a few distinctively merchants' buildings. Those occupied by two big furniture houses are built for display purposes. M. S. Burrows' new store will be a fine example of a display building. On the first floor the window space will be 130 feet long, 80 feet on the avenue and 50 on the street.

"I notice," said Rev. George H. Kemp, who is an old time friend of Gladstone, "that the papers speak of the 'short remnant of Gladstone's life.' But when I last saw Gladstone he looked as though he had the stuff in him for ten years of work yet, and he can do more business at this time than most men who have not lived half his years. I would not be surprised if the tree-chopper of Hawarden should be a leader in imperial politics till near the close of the century. He has the call on the Parnellites, and it is Gladstone and not Parnell who is the man."

"I like the singing of birds," said a Duluth business man who lives in East Duluth, "there are times when the song of the coffee mill is as pleasant music as a man can hear. There is one house that I pass in my walk before breakfast in which at exactly the same hour every morning some methodical person is at work grinding coffee; and while I am an admirer of nature I am bound to say that the sound of that coffee mill quickens anticipation, and adds to the pleasure of the morning."

I notice that it takes a long time for people who use street cars to grasp the fact that cars stop for passengers only on the far side of avenue crossings, that is going west on the west side and going east on the east side. The rule was made when the electric cars were first put on, but has not been very plainly promulgated and I have seen hundreds of ladies who have stood waiting at the wrong side of the crossing and have been made to wade across the avenue following a car in its flight—surely not a very dignified looking procedure. If people would bear in mind the fact that cars are not allowed to blockade crossings, they would save much unnecessary wandering.

It must please the ladies to see the men look at the goods displayed in the windows of the new retail stores. A fine show of neckties is always sure to attract attention. Not all of the styles produced to supply the constant demand for novelties are artistic in design, but there has been in recent years a great advance in the beauty and tastefulness of the materials used.

The School Question in Manitoba. The Northwestern Witness: We fear our esteemed city contemporary, The Herald, has not a clear conception of the school question in Manitoba. Its editorial on "The Manitoba School Law" is astray. Manitoba never had, strictly speaking, a system of denominational schools. When Manitoba, as a province, entered the Canadian confederation in 1870, she did so with the express understanding that the Catholics of the province should be secured in their right to have separate schools. Now the present government of Manitoba has violated this pact, and seeks to rob the Roman Catholics of the province of the schools which were guaranteed to them at the time they entered the confederation. That it is an injustice to Catholics to be robbed of these schools, after having built and equipped them, no person will deny. And no province has the right to disturb in any way privileges which were secured to its people at the time it entered the confederation.

THE SUN.

FOR 1891.

Some people agree with THE SUN's opinions about men and things, and some people don't; but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind.

Democrats know that for twenty years THE SUN has fought in the front line for Democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose; it is not THE SUN's fault if it has seen further in the distance.

Eighteen hundred and ninety-one will be a great year in American politics, and everybody should read THE SUN.

THE YEAR IN NAVIGATION.

Figures as to Arrivals and Departures of 1890.

A GOOD INCREASE IN TONNAGE.

But the Actual Increase is a Good Deal More Than is Shown.

The season of navigation is practically closed. The Dixon was the last clearance of the season and the Sitka, 104 and Stevens are the only boats now on the way to Duluth. The latter passed the Sault today. They will winter at this port. This morning the ships were frozen over for the first time this season, though the Superior side of the bay and the harbor there has been frozen some days.

The report of the custom house for the month of November shows the following business. Coastwise—arrivals 94, tonnage 131,310.73; departures 92, tonnage 111,549.57. Arrivals of foreign vessels from foreign countries—10, tonnage 9714; departures 10, tonnage 9714. Arrivals of American vessels from foreign countries—8, tonnage 1330; departures 8, tonnage 1330.

For the year total coastwise arrivals were—1104, tonnage 1,273,946; departures 1125, tonnage 1,281,300. Foreign vessels from foreign countries—arrivals 94, tonnage 131,310.73; departures 92, tonnage 111,549.57. American vessels from foreign countries—Arrivals 73, tonnage 23,202; clearances of American vessels to foreign countries, 67; tonnage, 11,831.

The total arrivals for the year were 1268, and the gross tonnage 1,374,285; departures, 1272; tonnage, 1,365,002 tons, making a total for the season of 2537 vessels with a gross tonnage of 2,739,287. The following are comparative figures:

Year.	Arrivals.	Departures.	Tonnage.	Avg. No. of Vessels.
1890	1268	1272	2,739,287	1.90
1889	1250	1250	2,475,106	1.92
1888	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1887	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1886	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1885	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1884	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1883	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1882	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1881	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92
1880	1240	1240	2,475,106	1.92

It will be seen that in this year for the first time Duluth jumps with average tonnage of vessels out of the hundreds and to considerably above a thousand tons. An average of 1300 tons register per vessel, including every ship that arrives and clears, tug, pleasure, yacht and all, means an average cargo of freight ships of double that total, and the constant and steady growth of the last five years is itself a great card for Duluth and her business.

The increase of the year would be still more but for the fact that many vessels, loaded with the bulk of all their cargo for Duluth, cleared to and from Superior.

THE TELEPHONE.

Manager Van Brunt Gives his Views on the Recent Complaints.

Complaint of the telephone service of the city has become aggravated during the past two months, and there is reason enough for it. Many telephones are not working at all, or, at least, very imperfectly. It is urged however by Mr. Van Brunt, the manager, that the public should be considerate in view of the extraordinary obstacle with which the telephone company is now contending. The stretching of the electric wires has greatly interfered with the telephone wire currents, and put the company to heavy expense in remedying the breaks and diversions. A dozen expert line handlers have been kept constantly at work for the past six weeks in repairing the service, and with every effort, it has been impossible to keep pace with the interruptions and calls for remedy. The company is doing all in its power, as the manager says, to put the service in good order, and will do so at the earliest possible moment. Realizing the importance to the city of the rapid extension of the improved transportation service, it has put no block in its way, although suffering thereby to the extent of thousands of dollars, and made no claim for damages. Mr. Van Brunt gives the most positive assurance of the desire of the company to do the best it can for its patrons, and asks for their consideration while it is so actively and urgently pressing the work of accommodation. The Herald has never been slow to trust the service for any apparent defects, but it believes in fair play and the manager's statement calls for it.

Big Lake Engines.

The following marine engines are in course of construction at the Globe Iron works, Cleveland: Triple expansion engine, cylinders 24 and 36, and 42-inch stroke, for new steel steamer now building to the order of the Menominee Transit company. One triple expansion of similar dimensions nearly completed for the new steamer building at the yards of the Chicago Shipbuilding company, Chicago, for the Minnesota Iron company, and a second engine which will be finished in five weeks for No. 2 building at the Chicago Shipbuilding yard. Fore-and-aft compound engine, cylinders 24 by 44, for the new wooden passenger steamer now building by the Cleveland Dry Dock company to the order of the Goodrich Transportation company, Chicago.

A Later Start.

The Imperial mill, which was booked to start up with 2500 barrels daily capacity yesterday, did not do so, nor will it till late in the week. All the machinery is not ready. There is a large amount of wheat in the new elevator and both elevator and mill machinery, so far as tried, work excellently. The mill is now crowded with orders far ahead for flour.

Building Permits.

Permits to build have been issued to Claus Jeronime for a two-story frame residence on Fourth street, between Lake avenue and First avenue west, to cost $300, and Fred Salberg for an ice house on Park street to cost $400.

THE WEST.

Making Eighty Wheels a Day: a Big Sale: General News Notes of West End.

Last July Williamson & McCormick purchased eleven acres at South Superior and had them platted. Yesterday at the office in the First National bank building, a very lively sale was made, the whole ninety-six lots being sold in thirty minutes time, and at a profit of over $20,000 to the owners. There was a large crowd present, some having waited around the doors for hours, and many failed to get property, there not being enough to go round.

Eighty Car Wheels Daily.

Mr. Mason, who is to have charge of the foundry at the Iron Car works, says the shops and machinery are in fine shape and that work will be commenced tomorrow, and that they will be able to average eighty wheels per day. They have a good crew of wheel moulders just arrived from Detroit, Mich.

A Business Addition.

The Wells-Chapin Hardware company commenced moving their immense branch stock into their new store in the Silver building today. Another hardware firm will soon occupy the store they move out of with a good stock.

West Duluth Notes.

J. O. Hancock returned this morning from his Thanksgiving visit to his parents at Red Wing, and reports having had a very pleasant time.

The tickets for the Lichmund concert tomorrow evening are still selling rapidly.

Engineer Dibble of the Incline, has been summoned to Cloquet as a witness in court there and the former engineer, Mr. Jacobs, is running in his stead.

J. S. Anderson returned from Minneapolis last evening and brought his bride with him. They are stopping with L. L. Aune and family at present, but will at once commence housekeeping in their own house in the Fifth division, it being already furnished.

A slight fire occurred at the steam laundry of Rand & Bahr this forenoon. It started around the chimney and was burning briskly when discovered by Johnson Bros, who gave the alarm, and it was soon stopped with small damage. A Thompson has gone on a visit to his old home in Quebec.

The Misses Sawyer gave a party at their home Friday evening.

Miss Annie Carroll of the West End will act as directress of the choir at the Catholic church.

WEST END.

A fire broke out in the Mission church, corner of Second street and Twentieth avenue west, about 7 o'clock last evening. A temperance meeting was to have been held, and the hall was being heated for that purpose. A small hole was burned in the roof.

The ladies of Grace Methodist church have made great preparations for their fair in the Vincent building, and open this evening.

John Sorenson and wife received a fine girl into their family this morning. Martin Martinson, foreman at the coal docks, was presented by his wife this morning with a nice boy.

O. G. Kinney of Kinney, Peeson & Co., started this afternoon for a trip to the pueries on the Brule river, and will be gone several days.

THE FOREIGN SUITOR.

Why He is so Attractive to the American Girl.

Mrs. John Sherwood in Harpers Bazar: One reason why American girls wish to marry abroad is that foreigners have, as a rule, a certain enamel of manner which is very attractive to women. The hand-kissing, the flattery, the deferential manner, all these are the most agreeable beginnings of an acquaintance. It is, to an idle girl, a great pleasure to find a man who has all his day to devote to her.

The European man has made a study of how to amuse himself all day long, and no doubt he has picked up education and much that is very agreeable along with this effort to get rid of time. The American man has had no such difficulty in disposing of the golden hours; he has worked hard to make his living; he has had a terrific struggle for it, and his love-making has been a thing apart, an interlude in his busy life. He has had no time to ennoble himself with foreign manners, and to an idle and a selfish girl he is far less agreeable than a man who can take her to picture galleries, to races, to the Bois de Vincennes, to the Bois de Boulogne, who knows all about dressmakers, their prices, their degree of style and their costumes.

A European man is a gazette, a newspaper amongst other things, and he is full of delightful anecdotes. He knows all the gossip about the Prince of Wales, about Lady Agatha, and the Duchess of Nowhere; he is selfish in everything else but he is not selfish in this. He does try to make himself amusing, and agreeable, and to do him justice he generally succeeds. If he goes to theater or opera with a party of ladies, he knows the history—and it is apt to be a piquant one—of every prima donna, every tenor, every basso. He remembers what happened at Nice two winters ago, and he has an amusing story about the Grand Duchess of Pimpernickel. We all know that there is no more fascinating reading for the idle and cultivated than stories in which titles abound. And perhaps, when treated with the genius of "Quixote," they are very good reading for anybody who has nothing else to do.

THE PARNELL QUESTION.

Timothy Harrington on the Stand of the Bishops.

IT CANNOT BE UPHOLD BY PRIESTS.

Mr. Parnell and His Followers in the House; The Warm Meeting.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—In an interview as to whether he saw any reason for changing opinion already expressed by him on Parnell leadership, Mr. Harrington, one of the Irish envoys, said: "I am sorry to observe that some of the best known among the Irish bishops have expressed themselves against Mr. Parnell being continued in the leadership, and I am still more sorry when I remember the ground upon which they have based their opinion. If we are selecting a leader for the Irish people, I think it might naturally enter into our consideration to give weight to charges against Parnell, but that is not the position. To my mind, the majority of Irish priests will not follow the lead of the two Irish archbishops in this matter. Mr. Parnell is Protestant. They have no spiritual charge over him and they will see the absurd inconsistency of setting him aside and calling upon their people to follow the leadership of English politicians, some of whom the Irish priests and the Irish people—even in respect of the charge alleged against Mr. Parnell—stand upon infinitely worse ground."

Parnell's Plea.
LONDON, Dec. 2.—At the meeting of the Irish members of commons, called to consider what action the nationalist party shall take in regard to the leadership of the party on reassembling after supper, Parnell addressed the meeting, displaying much passion.

He called attention to the service he had rendered those who now sought to overthrow him. He referred to Gladstone as a "garrulous old gentleman who monopolized conversation." He said Harcourt refused to make any reply to the same proposals, and Harcourt would be the leader after Gladstone. After stating that none of the liberal leaders were to be trusted he continued: "If I am to leave you tonight I should like to leave you in security. It is not an unfair thing for me to ask to see you within sight of the promised land, or that I should come with you, having come so far, until you are absolutely sure of Ireland and I can go no further."

An enthusiastic outburst of cheering followed the speech. The motion for the retirement of Parnell was made by John Barry. Parnell ruled out of order any reference to his conduct in the O'Shea case, and this brought him into frequent collision with the different speakers.

"Politician or Patriot."
NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The following dispatch was sent to the President of the Irish national league tonight by the Terme branch of the league. O'Brien, Dillon and associates have ignored the national league and by doing so, insulted all its members. They proved ungrateful to the American-Irish organizations that did so much for them. They have completed their ingratitude by throwing overboard the able and honest leader, Parnell. That American-Irish opinion may not be misrepresented, we suggest that you call a convention to decide if we shall have Gladstone, the British politician, or Parnell, the Irish patriot.

Political Complications.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ALL SITTED UP OVER LEGISLATIVE LEGAL POLICE.
CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 2.—The legislature assembled today in special session. The political situation is decidedly complicated. The session has been called by Governor Goodell in opposition to the desires of the democrats, who declare that it is illegal, and are supported in that opinion by two of Massachusetts' most eminent jurists.

The clerk of the house, John Boakey, has recently resigned, and it is claimed that the assistant clerk, under the constitution, cannot call the roll. The making of the roll is a very important point, as on it depends what party shall control the legislature. New Hampshire elected three classes of representatives this year—the regular classed ones, the extra ones that would come on as a result of increased population to the regular districts, and the ones that resulted from a town hitherto classed with another, attaining a point where it could be represented by itself. Only the first class of these representatives have any legal seat now in the house, and the last legislature failed to arrange for their admission.

The republicans now claim that an extra session should be called to elect a new clerk and admit these new representatives to the next house. They would thus hold control of the house and elect their governor and United States senator. The democrats maintain that the assistant clerk can make up the roll and that the new representatives must be admitted only by the new legislature.

INTO ANOTHER STATE.

The Stickney Stock Yards Railway Scheme go With Armour and Swift CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Negotiations have been in progress for several days between the big packers, Armour, Swift and Morris, who have recently purchased a large tract of land at Hammond, Ind., on which to erect slaughter houses, and Mr. Stickney, representing the railway and other interests concerned in the proposed new stock yards in the township of Lyons, situated west of this city. It is understood that an agreement has been practically reached by which the packers will relieve the present owners of the Stickney tract of their obligations, and in return, the Stickney syndicate will shift its railroad and other interests to the Indiana tract. If this deal is carried out, it will practically settle the stock yards packing and slaughtering interests of Chicago into another state.

BILLIARDS.

Slosson-Schaefer Match the Current Talk: Sporting and Amusement Notes in General.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Slosson-Schaefer billiard match is the sole topic of conversation in this city. Bets are made even, for the Chicago man has many friends here. Both men are playing the practice games of their lives, and the contest tonight is bound to be a close one.

Notes.

"Tit" Willis is the only man Omaha has signed for '91.

Denny Lyons is likely to guard third for St. Louis next season.

The California horse Homestake, 2:14 1/2, has won eleven races, and in only one, in which he got a heat, has he failed of first money.

Most of the association folks seem to point on Chicago with a team captained by John Montgomery Ward.

James F. Donaghue, America's champion skater, has arrived safely in Christiania, Norway. He was given a cordial reception.

Stacy has a football eleven in the school for Christian Workers. They know how to play, too, for they recently defeated Yale's freshmen 38 to 0.

Harvard will lose a majority of her great football team of this year, including Capt. Gunnock, in the spring unless they come back to one of the post-graduate departments. The inter-collegiate rules allow men to play five years.

None of the Harvard team has played over four years, but as Harvard is not a member of the International Collegiate league, this rule does not apply to her. Still, she will, without a doubt, be in the league next year.

Amusement Notes.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" is an early attraction at the temple.

"A Barrel of Money" is the evening's entertainment at Temple Opera. This play is of the milder melo-dramatic order, and is said to be very interesting in plot and action. One of the character parts is that of a Swede. It is portrayed by Theo Steinmetz, said to be the son of a Swedish government minister.

"Ole Olson," the first Swedish character play to be presented in Duluth, follows "A Barrel of Money" at Temple Opera. It comes Friday and Saturday, and is said to be one of the funniest comedies ever seen. The hero is a Swede, who comes to this country a raw youth, but soon takes to sportive ways. The sale of seats begins Thursday.

The Duquesne Opened.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—The wealth, beauty and culture of this city turned out in full force last night on the occasion of the formal opening of the new Duquesne theater by the Emma Juch Opera company, and the scene presented when the curtain rose was one of the most brilliant ever witnessed here, on a society occasion. The theater, which in its construction, appointments, and decorations, is one of the finest in the entire country, is owned by David Henderson, the well-known theatrical manager, who also controls the Chicago Opera house, and the spectacular productions of "Bluebird" and the "Crystal Slipper." The house, which in prices and attractions will be the leading one of the city, represents an investment of over $100,000.

Unlocked a Fortune.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—The heirs of Clayton Kelly, an elderly bachelor, who died a few days ago at his home in Pemberton, N. J., have discovered $50,000 hidden away in the vaults of a Philadelphia Trust company. Kelly had always lived in a very unostentatious manner and no one supposed he had any money, and he left no will or anything to show that he was worth a dollar. The discovery of a small safe key finally gave the clue, and inquiries were made among the trust companies here with the result of the discovery of the securities.

Wanted—A Change.

Old King Solomon said: "There is nothing new under the sun." Probably he made the remark in a fit of disgust after vainly endeavoring to get some hair-pulling discussion among the thousand ladies who each claimed a share in him as a husband. At any rate, the mind of man is so constituted as to desire change, variety, something new. The world is built on that plan, too. No two mountains are just alike. No two faces in all the world's millions are exactly similar. Shakespeare said of one of his characters: "Age cannot wither or custom stale his infinite variety." No man likes to have, or should have, his life always bounded between four walls. We all like to have a change of scene now and then to see new faces, to travel to far countries. The United States has a greater variety of climate and scenery within its borders than any of the Old World states. About now is a good time to plan a journey to the South—the land of delightful winter resorts. Low rates are made for excursionists, and "The Burlington" is the route par excellence to all points South. For tickets and information call on any of its agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

The Child of an Evil Parent.

Malvolio says in Shakespeare's Comedy of Twelfth Night "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." So it is with nervousness. Some are born nervous, some achieve nervousness by their own imprudence and neglect, and some have nervousness thrust upon them by disease. The basic starting point of the disease, which grows rapidly and assumes alarming proportions when it reaches the stage of hypochondria and chronic sleeplessness, is weakness, the child of indigestion, part of many evils. For the incapacity of the stomach to digest food, and of the system to assimilate it after digestion. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has ever proved a sovereign remedy. Sleep becomes tranquil, appetite improves, abnormal sensitiveness of the nerves is succeeded by steadiness and vigor in those delicate tissues, bodily substances increase when that signal restoration of digestion is systematically used. Conquer also with it malaria, rheumatism, kidney inactivity, liver complaint and constipation.

Relative Values.

Referring to the lot on the corner of State and Madison streets, Chicago, the value of which was estimated of sixteen thousand five hundred dollars per foot, it is worthy of note that in every town there is always a center of extraordinary value, and values fall off rapidly in all directions according to their distance from this, as out in the outskirts (of Chicago) where platting is going on it would take more than a hundred acres, and two or three miles further a thousand acres to equal this lot in value.

Belmont Park and Sharp's additions are but a few blocks from the center of values in West Duluth. This fact, in connection with the paving of Central Avenue, makes lots there the best investment at the head of Lake Superior.

The Secretary of the Treasury Makes His Annual.

INFORMATION ON EVERY SUBJECT.

Canadian Railway Traffic; The Finance and Circulation; American Tonnage, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The annual report of the secretary of the treasury was made public at noon today. It is as usual a lengthy document, containing sixty-seven printed pages, with the different departments of the government's finances tabulated and itemized. The total revenue of the government from all sources for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1890, is $463,963,080. The expenditures for the same period were $358,618,584. The mints this year have exceeded their past record, putting forth a total of $90,254,433, of which $22,021,748 was gold and $35,923,810 was silver. The revenues of the government for the fiscal year of 1892 are placed at $373,000,000. The estimated expenditures for the same period are $357,852,200, and the surplus, $15,147,730.

The total of moneys set free by the redemption of bonds since June 30, 1890, is $98,276,082, and of treasury notes issued for the purchase of bullion between Aug. 13 and Nov. 23, $18,807,000. The revenues and expenditures of postal affairs, though not controlled by the treasury department is included in its report. Deducting these from both sides of the account there remains a surplus of $105,344,496. Of this amount after the purchase of bonds, etc., $57,249,031. As compared with 1889 the receipts from all sources have increased $16,030,923.

For the present fiscal year the revenues are estimated at $400,000,000, and the expenditures for the same period, $354,000,000, leaving an estimated surplus of $52,000,000. The secretary directs attention to the unsatisfactory condition of Canadian railway traffic in the United States, touching the bonding and sealing of cars, and says it is manifestly unjust to accord Canadian corporations privileges denied our own. It certainly is not the intent of congress to relieve these roads from obligations imposed upon our own transporting companies, yet the practical working of the law under the present construction leads to that result.

The entire tonnage of American vessels, as reported by the bureau of navigation, is 4,424,497 tons. Of vessels built there were 505 sailing vessels, 410 steam, 48 canal boats and 96 barges, having a total tonnage of 234,122. Distributed among the different navigation districts the vessels constructed in the last three years were apportioned as follows:

DISTRICT.	1888.		1889.		1890.
	No.	Tons	No.	Tons	No.	Tons
Atlantic & Gulf	601	81,068	657	93,919	603	130,556
Pacific Coast	104	21,956	112	17,939	95	12,355
Northern Lakes	222	101,103	233	107,080	191	108,529
Western Rivers	84	11,850	83	12,302	104	16,506
Total	1,011	215,977	1,065	223,238	993	267,946

Besides the above there were built a large number of inferior craft, not documented, aggregating a tonnage of several hundred thousand, and a considerable number of canal boats, harbor lighters, etc., only enumerated once in ten years.

Particular stress is laid upon the necessity of legislation creating new ports for Alaska. The industrial development of the territory demands it, and a further neglect will wholly arrest its natural progress.

An exhaustive report concerning the World's fair is rendered. Plans for the necessary buildings are in course of preparation. An official report is given to the commissioners for their methods of procedure. The expenditures in connection therewith up to Nov. 15 was about $47,000.

An Average Day on the Duluth Board.

THE WEEKLY FLOUR STATEMENT.

Shipping Naturally Light Since the Close; Imperial Mill Still Shut Down.

Wheat opened this morning $\frac{1}{4}$ lower for cash and December 1 hard, steady and unchanged for other grades, and for May delivery. Good business in "spot" 1 hard and 1 northern followed at steadily declining prices during the first hour.

Trading in "wheat futures" was principally in May 1 hard, with fair transactions in 1 northern for May delivery.

The reported failure of one of the new banks at West Superior created some bear sentiment. It was in no way connected with Duluth commission houses or elevator companies.

Cash 1 hard commenced with sale of 10,000 bu at $\frac{1}{4}$ below yesterday at 40 $\frac{1}{2}$, followed by sales at 40 $\frac{1}{4}$, closed at 40 $\frac{1}{2}$ sellers. No 1 northern opened at 89 $\frac{1}{2}$, good trading at $\frac{1}{4}$ decline at 89, dropped to 88 $\frac{1}{2}$, closed at 88 $\frac{1}{2}$. No. 2 northern small business at $\frac{1}{4}$ decline at 83, closed at 82 $\frac{1}{2}$. December 1 hard sold $\frac{1}{4}$ below at 83 $\frac{1}{2}$, closed dull $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 83.

December 1 northern no transactions, closed at 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ nominal. May 1 hard opened at 102 $\frac{1}{2}$, declined to 101 $\frac{1}{2}$, recovered to 102 $\frac{1}{2}$, closed at 102. May 1 northern sold at 98, closed at 97 bid.

The Weather.
We are to have warmer weather and snow tomorrow, so the signal service prognosticates. The cold snap of today has extended over the Northwest, but snow and warmth are coming from Montana.

Railroad Conference.
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Another conference of general managers of the principal roads running west from Chicago to consider what action can be taken in the direction of limiting free transportation during the coming year, is in progress today in the Kookery building. At the last meeting only thirteen out of thirty-one roads invited were represented.

A report was presented by a sub-committee in which various plans were suggested for reducing free transportation to a minimum. It is said that this report recommends the non-issue of free transportation to politicians and confines it almost solely to newspapers in return for advertising purposes.

Republican Ideas in Holland.
THE HAGUE, Dec. 2.—Since the death of King William the Dutch republicans have been particularly active in propagating their principles. The police throughout Holland have already seized a large number of republican placards, and measures have been adopted to prevent any public dissemination of republican ideas.

An Old Will Admitted.
The will of James W. Dabberly of Union county, South Carolina, was admitted to probate today. The will was made in 1861, the testator at the time being a brigadier-general in the Confederate army. The estate amounts to about $30,000.

TALKS ON IRON.
H. S. Pickands on the Vermilion and Attokan Ranges.

H. S. Pickands, one of the directors of the Minnesota Iron company, was in the city today. He says the prospects of the Minnesota Iron company were never better than at present. Recent finds on lower levels, which heretofore had been considered as exhausted, seem to be proof positive that the supply of ore is practically inexhaustible. Further explorations of the property will be made next year.

Mr. Pickands is also a heavy owner in the recently discovered Anticokan mines north of the Canadian line. He has unbounded faith in the new mining lands, believes that the development next year will show as rich a deposit as any mine on the Vermilion range.

A very small boy
In a very big vest
May be looked at as something
Resembling a jest,
And a very small boy,
It must be confessed,
Makes a very big joke
In his big father's vest.
He doesn't look bad
In the vest of his dad,
And he's splendidly dressed
In his father's fine vest.

The cream of this entertaining little joke is that the father was judicious enough to buy his vest from M. S. Burrows. His vest wouldn't have had half so fine a point if he had purchased it anywhere else.

"TAY PAY" COMETH NOT,

At Least Not Yet, so he Telegraphs From Chicago.

NO IRISH ELOQUENCE TOMORROW.

And None Until the Question of Leadership on the Other Side is Settled.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—[Special to The Herald].—Messrs. Gill and Sullivan of the Irish envoys' party, left the city this morning for Dayton, Ohio, where they are to deliver addresses tonight. Mr. O'Connor was to have gone to Duluth to address a meeting to be held there tomorrow night, but he decided that pending the decision of the leadership question in London, it would be inadvisable for him to leave the city. Accordingly, he telegraphed to M. B. Harrison of Duluth this morning asking that the meeting be postponed.

Mr. O'Connor's Telegram.
Duluthians who are interested in the success of the Irish cause are much disappointed over the word received from T. P. O'Connor, asking for a postponement of the address. The following is his message to Hon. M. B. Harrison: "Pray postpone demonstration. Am detained here by the uncertainty of the outcome of affairs in London." Mr. Harrison immediately telegraphed O'Connor: "When may we expect you?" Up to the hour of going to press, no answer had been received.

A Compromise Proposed.
DULUTH, Dec. 3.—The Freeman's Journal says: "At today's meeting of the nationalist members of the house of commons in London to consider the advisability of retiring Parnell, a suggestion of resolution or some form of amendment will be submitted which will preserve the unity of the party and set the home rule cause on a certain and satisfactory basis."

The London correspondent of the Journal says that at today's meeting Mr. Clancy, with the approval of Parnell and his followers, will propose a compromise for a settlement of the difference between the two factions of the party.

The meeting of the nationalist members of the house of commons to further consider the question of retention of Mr. Parnell in the leadership of the party, resembled at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the room of the house of commons, the meeting adjourned until tomorrow morning. It is probable that a compromise between the opponents and supporters of Parnell will be effected.

Parnell Means Destruction.
CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—After reading the text vote in the Parnell meeting in London received here last night, William O'Brien, on behalf of his colleagues, sent the following cablegram to United Ireland: "Stand by us unless our party deems it injudicious. Insist that representatives of the people shall not be bullied."

They speak from solemn conviction that Parnell's leadership means destruction. Mr. Dillon sent a cablegram to Dublin yesterday of which the following is the substance: "If you rigidly maintain the position we have taken, the cause of Irish success in parliamentary legislation is assured. If you do not, all the success of the last few years will result in final failure."

Cork Stands by Him.
CORK, Dec. 3.—The national members of the municipal council of Cork have adopted by a vote of twenty-one to nine, a resolution expressing confidence in Parnell, and urging him not to recognize any adverse action that may be taken by his opponents in the Irish party. The resolution was passed after a very hot and noisy debate, the minority making a strong effort to prevent its adoption. The Catholic bishop of Elphin, county of Roscommon, calls upon Parnell to resign.

Goes Back on Dillon.
CORK, Dec. 3.—A committee of the Cork Young Ireland society, of which William O'Brien is president, has adopted a resolution supporting Parnell.

A DAKOTA COLONY.

A Scheme Organized in Binghampton, N. Y., to Bring Out Emigrants.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Dec. 3.—A company is being formed in this city to colonize a tract of land in North Dakota. The scheme was inaugurated by Messrs. George Coon, William Lawton and Edward Jones, of Binghampton. The charter list has 110 members and the company will be known as the "Industrial Co-operative Company of North Dakota." The company has an option on a tract of 250,000 acres of land southwest of Bismarck, North Dakota. A large portion of this land is railroad property and the members can pre-empt such government land as may be desired. The intention is to organize with about 1100 members. It is expected that the first 500 members will be ready to start early in the spring. Each man will be a stockholder and the land will be worked on the co-operative plan. The members, after the first 100 subscribers, will be divided into fifty classes, averaging from $2 to $4 a class. At the end of five years those who wish to draw out of the corporation will receive 100 acres of land and a pro rata share of all property.

The early bird will get the best in 48. 16 at the lowest price.

ANOTHER SUPERIOR BANK.

A Run Today on the Bank of West Superior, Wis., Withstood.
WEST SUPERIOR, Dec. 3.—[Special to The Herald].—It is evident, from reports received here, that the bank trouble is not all over. Depositors of the Bank of West Superior are nervous over their accounts. There were a number of withdrawals of deposits today. Those connected with the institution claim it is sound and able to withstand any run.

THE DAY'S FIRES.

A $100,000 Blaze in Detroit, Hundreds Out of Work Thereby; Cotton Mills in England.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 3.—The fine cut department of the Scotten tobacco works was destroyed by fire early this morning. It was worth $100,000. The stock was also a total loss, but the value is unknown. Two firemen were killed and two injured. The dead are O. G. Robinson, pipeman and Lieutenant Patrick Coughlin. Peter Cullen, pipeman and Lieutenant Peter Denny were seriously hurt. Snow rendered it difficult for the engines to reach the fire. The blaze spread rapidly and in three quarters of an hour the whole side of the building on Campau street was in flames. At this time the firemen were at work on the front street side. The cornice of the front was seen to totter and the order was given to fall back; it was too late, however, and Robinson and Coughlin were killed by the terrible rain of brick. About 600 girls are thrown out of employment by the fire.

English Cotton Mills.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The mills of the Coventry Cotton Spinning company at Coventry have been damaged by fire to the extent of many thousands of pounds. The fire throws 200 hands out of employment.

In Alabama.

OXFORD, Ala., Dec. 3.—Fire at 3 o'clock this morning burned the Afling hotel, the stores of J. H. Berter, T. B. Melior and O. W. Cooper and three storehouses of L. C. Humphrey. The total loss on buildings and goods was $33,000, insurance $20,000. Five firemen were badly injured.

A SWISS JACK.

Crime Similar to Those of Jack the Ripper in Switzerland.

BERNE, Dec. 3.—This city has been startled by a crime similar in many respects to those which were committed by Jack the Ripper in the Whitechapel district of London. As some men were passing through a forest in the vicinity of this city today, they discovered the body of a young peasant girl who had been murdered and mutilated in a most shocking manner. There is no clue to the murderer.

AWAY WITH HIM!

For His Lymph Won't Cure all the Diseases of the Flesh.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—The Medical Weekly publishes articles on the Koch remedy written by Staff Surgeon Behring and Dr. Kitasto. The writers admit the results that have been attained by the use of the lymph in cases of tuberculosis and lupus, but state that from the results of Professor Koch's experiments in the direction of a cure for other diseases he is not able to secure immunity from diphtheria and tetanus.

The Coolness.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Chicago is just at the edge of the snow storm this morning. New York is getting the first snow storm of the season. Sidney, in the Prince Edward Island, reports twenty-eight inches of snow, Toronto six inches and Rochester has four inches to credit. The storm is moving East with the storm center in Ohio. There is a good prospect for a heavy snow fall in New York and the New England states. The Indians are commencing to shiver and the threatened uprising will be postponed if the cold continues. At Rapid City, near the Rosebud agency, the thermometer registers 8° above zero; Fort Sully, 6° above.

A New Jersey Storm.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Dec. 3.—A heavy storm is raging on the New Jersey coast. The surf is very strong and cutting away the beach. No wrecks have been reported between Sandy Hook and Barnegat Bay inlet.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

At Black Hawk, W. Va., yesterday, John Hagar, a 17-year-old, quarreled with a man named Wiley Cook, striking him on the head with an iron bar and killing him. Hagar fled and is still at large. He had a bad reputation previously, having been in jail for petty offenses.

Yesterday afternoon, Joseph N. Asier, cashier of the Allerton Packing company, Chicago, was held up by two men in his office in broad daylight and relieved of $3200.

The schooner off Alton, Ill., on account of an epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever, have been closed.

A scheme is on foot in Binghampton, N. Y., to organize a colonization company to colonize 250,000 acres of land southeast of Bismarck, N. D. Each member is to be a stockholder on the co-operative plan. At the end of five years any member who wishes to withdraw from the company will receive 100 acres of land and a pro rata share of the property.

PASSES THE HOUSE.

The Copyright Bill Another Step Nearer a Law.

SENATE DISCUSSES THE INDIANS.

And the Issuance of Arms in the Dakotas; Live Washington Topics.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Up to the present time the democratic senators, while unanimous in their opposition to the national elections bill, have not found it necessary to unite upon a distinct party policy of antagonism. Such opposition as has been shown has been of an individual character. Yesterday's proceedings in the senate, where for a time there appeared to be a difference of opinion between democratic senators as to the best method of procedure, caused the more experienced senators on the minority side of the chamber to realize the importance of united party action. Accordingly, it was suggested this morning that a conference might be held with advantage and the indications are that it will take place immediately after the adjournment of the senate today.

In the senate in presenting a petition for an amendment to the tariff bill in relation to the rebate on manufactured tobacco Mr. Allison said that the conference on the part of both houses had agreed to that section of the bill—as the conference reported would disclose—but that it had been omitted in the enrollment. He had no doubt that the matter would receive early attention. Mr. Cullum introduced a bill to reduce letter postage to one cent. Referred.

A long and interesting discussion took place on the subject of the threatened Indian war. Apropos of a joint resolution to issue arms to the settlers of North and South Dakota and Nebraska, Mr. Voorhees having charged the situation to the fact of the Indians being starved and being replied to by Messrs. Dawes and Pierce.

The debate was interrupted at 2 o'clock by the election bill coming up as the unfinished business. Mr. Hoar, in charge of the bill, said that in view of the fact that in reporting the bill at the close of the last session he had addressed the senate upon it, he would not forego any opening of the debate but would content himself with answering whatever objection should be made to the bill on the democratic side of the chamber.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—After the reading of the house journal, the speaker declared the pending business to be the further consideration of the copyright bill. Mr. Simonds of Connecticut stated that the friends of the measure were willing to have a vote taken immediately on the bill, but that they would wait any time that its opponents might desire. The debate on the copyright bill lasted until about 2 o'clock. Springer, Peters, Oates and Kerr opposed the bill. Brucebridge of Kentucky, Fairquhar, McAdoo and Butterworth spoke in its support. A vote was then taken and resulted yeas, 133; nays, 95. So the bill was passed.

Presidential Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The President today sent to the senate the following nominations: Lathrop B. Kinney, probate judge in Sevier county, Utah (to correct error in name in nomination of last session); Everett B. Sanders, register of the land office at Wausau, Wis.; Robert H. Johnson, receiver of public moneys at Wausau, Wis.

Broker Smith Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Albert H. Smith, who was convicted in the general session of the term in the first degree, in raising a seven share certificate of Lake Shore stock to a seventy share certificate, was sentenced by Judge Fitzgerald today to 17 years' imprisonment. Smith was the firm of Robson, Ferguson & Smith, bankers and brokers, and perpetrated a number of forgeries.

ON THE ROSEBUD.

Affairs Quiet and Unchanged, Other News From the Front.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Gen. Schofield received a telegram this morning saying that affairs were quiet and unchanged at the Rosebud agency. This was only information received in regard to the Indian situation. Orders were received today for the First, Fifth and Seventh infantry to proceed at once to the scene of the threatened outbreak.

The Sixth Cavalry.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 3.—The Sixth cavalry, consisting of nineteen officers, 335 men, 300 horses, arrived yesterday afternoon from Fort Wingate on their way to Fort Meade, to the Black Hills. They were delayed last night by the wreck of a freight train. They were paid off here, before leaving to the extent of $7000. The regiment has been fourteen years in New Mexico, and is glad to get a change, some old Indian fighters are among them. Two companies of infantry left at Fort Wingate will be reinforced by a troop of cavalry from Whipple barracks. Gen. Carr, commander of the Sixth cavalry, interviewed, said he thought there would be no trouble with the Navajo Indians or Arizona. Lieutenant C. B. Rhodes of the Sixth was married to Miss May Counselman of this city, last night. Rhodes is a West Pointer. Their honeymoon will be spent in a trip with the regiment to the Black Hills.

CHAMBER MEETS.

The Weekly Session of the Chamber of Commerce Held Today.

The regular business meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held this morning, eleven of the newly elected directors being present. The committee on the revision of the by-laws read its report, and the matter made a special order of business for the next session. The resignation of M. B. Harrison from the directorate was accepted, and Messrs. Clark, Bowen and Kant were admitted to membership. S. A. Thompson was elected secretary for the coming year, at a salary of $2500. The members of the Chamber expressed themselves as much pleased with Mr. Thompson's work.

The election of treasurer was postponed until next meeting. The Chamber will also decide next week as to the advisability of sending a delegate to the annual meeting of the national board of trade at New Orleans.

A NEW MILL.

The Star Elevator and Grain Company Starts Grinding in Duluth Next Week.

Duluth has quietly gained a nice industry in the accession to her ranks of the firm of Gude Bros., formerly of Minneapolis, who for the past sixty days have been at work fitting up old elevator Q, more generally known as "the hospital" for a feed and coarse grain mill. They have put in a large platform on the Michigan street side of the building and have fitted up the grinding floor with five double rolls, of John T. Noye make, 9x36 inches, and other necessary machinery, and have overhauled the engines and drying machinery in the elevator. So far along is the work that the company, under the firm name of Star Elevator & Grain company, will start business about Dec. 10.

The Gude Bros. are from Minneapolis, where they have been in the flour, coarse grain and feed trade for ten years. They have done a great deal of business in supplying lumber firms and others near Duluth, and decided last season that they could operate to greater advantage from this place than from Minneapolis. Therefore the move. Contracts have already been made by them to furnish feed and coarse grains to a large share of the lumber and timber contractors up the line of the Duluth & Winnipeg, along the St. Paul & Duluth and others about this city. The firm has also a well-established trade at Minneapolis and St. Paul that it expects to keep, so it will start in with an excellent business at once.

In the spring bolted meal and rye flour mills will be added, and the dry house will be fitted to cure for any wet and damaged grain that may be received by grain dealers at Duluth. Improvements already made have cost several thousand dollars.

A SAD DEATH.

That of Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Casts a Gloom Over Very Many.

The many friends of Mrs. C. E. Richardson were pained to learn of her death this morning at her home on West Third street. The deceased had been suffering for the past two weeks from pelvic cellulitis, resulting from child birth and this was the cause of her death. Her age was 22 years and she was born in England, coming to Duluth a number of years ago. She was Miss Eva and was married to Mr. Richardson about a year ago.

The Ladies' Fund.

The $600 insurance money due the Duluth Ladies' Library association was today turned over to the public library, according to an agreement made when the public library was started. It is the desire of the ladies that the money be used for some specific purpose and it is probable that it will be put into reference works. It may not be remembered by many, but the ladies of this library associations were, when their own collection of books was destroyed, the most instrumental factor in procuring for Duluth the now prized public institutions. The ladies wish to state that there are a number of books belonging to the old library, which were saved from the burning by the fact that they were drawn, these should now be taken to the public library.

A Suit Against Forrestal.

A suit was filed today in the district court by the city of Duluth against Forrestal Bros., Henry H. Bell and Jas. H. Triggs. The complaint sets forth that on May 31, 1890, Forrestal Bros. entered into a contract with the city of Duluth, to erect the contract of paying Michigan street, and that in completing such contract they obtained material from the Duluth Storage & Transfer company, to the amount of $501.44, which amount has never been paid, and the suit is brought to compel the bondsmen, to pay the amount.

Winter in New York.

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Central New York was visited by the second, severe snow storm of the season today. A light dry snow has been falling and a sharp wind blowing from the East all day. The snow has paralyzed traffic on the belt line electric cars.

Washington, Dec. 3.—There has been no change in Dr. Barker's condition since last night. He is still in a comatose state with no indications of returning consciousness.

FUR TRADE IS BRISK

Expectation of Much Fur Near Duluth This Winter.

TALK ON THE SEAL TRAFFIC.

A Local Furrier Who Predicts New Fashionable Winter Clothing.

The winter, say the jobbers in the native furs that are found in this section, will be a good one. Already large quantities are reported as trapped by Indians of the Net lake and Grand Portage reservations, which will be bought by Duluth dealers in the season, and before spring it is confidently expected that the catch of lynx, beaver, fox, muskrat, mink and the coarser furs will be fully up to, if not greater, than that of any previous year.

This trade is a good deal larger than most people imagine, and many thousands of dollars are realized every year in this city by those who are in it and know what they are doing. All the fur trade of the northern part of Minnesota lying east of Little Fork has been from time immemorial monopolized by a couple of Duluth firms who have been in a position to enjoy the confidence and command the trade of the Indians.

"The fur trade is better than it ever has been before," said a representative of a local fur factory. "Almost everything in the line of fur is selling well this season, and the trade has opened a little earlier than usual. Most ladies anticipated the increase in the price of seal skins, and they bought before the price went up."

The Herald's informant stated that capes had practically superseded anques and jackets for fashionable winter wear. Of course in the coldest weather the heavier fur garments will be worn, Indian English walking coats, from 28 to 32 inches long, being quite a favorite. Still capes seem to have captured the female fancy. A combination of black marten and seal is a great favorite, and astrakhan is being extensively used for capes. Some striking combinations are made of seal and Persian lamb. The favorite trimmings are Persian lamb, black marten and astrakhan, ranking in the order named.

Every furrier hates to see the advance in the price of seal, which was chronicled Monday. Alaska seal, which is used for all the finer garments, advanced 38 per cent at the London sale, and cost to add jobbers' commissions and other items of expense, and the per cent will run up to 100. Northwest coast seal went up 55 per cent and Copper Island seal advanced about 32 per cent. This will leave seal skins in fewer hands, as only those manufacturers who import direct and who attend the sale will have any quantity of seal on hand in 1891.

"Of course we were very sorry the advance has occurred," said the local dealer, "but it could hardly strike dealers in general at a better time. There has been plenty of prediction and we all knew seal would be higher, so we are all stocked up. I have more bales of good Alaska skins than ever before."

The price of seal skin garments has gone up in consequence, and other furs will come into more general use. Dyed otter will probably be a favorite fur before the year has passed.

A General Meeting Held Last Evening;
Reports From Rochester.

The Christian Endeavor societies of the head of the lakes held a pleasant and profitable union meeting in the First Presbyterian church last evening. Mr. Cline, president of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church, presided. The meeting was opened by song and a prayer by Rev. Wm. Moore, after which, after a few minutes of prayer, the delegates to the late state convention at Rochester were read. They reported not only a pleasant but a good time, with many helpful hints about future work, especially in temperance and missionary departments.

It was suggested that if every member of a Christian Endeavor society would pledge the small sum of two cents per week for missions it would be a help since there are some 7,000,000 members in the United States, and many are doing so. The remark that they had seen no report of the state convention of two months since their return, was met with laughter. Some few benighted beings failed to see the point of the joke, but probably it had a point.

On Feb. 21, 1890, a local union was formed here consisting of three societies. Last night Miss Conrad was elected secretary pro tem, the constitution of the union was read and other societies were invited to join. There are now seven societies of Christian Endeavor in Duluth, West Duluth and Lakeside. It is hoped, and expected, that they will join the union at the next meeting which will be held some time in January. A program committee for that meeting was appointed, consisting of two members from each of the three societies already in the union, and plans for work discussed after which visitors were asked to remain and become acquainted.

"JAY COOKE'S NEPHEW."

How He Did Up St. Louis Gentlemen for the Sum of $70.

Journal of Finance: "Down at Naragansett Pier I made the acquaintance of a fine-appearing young man, who said he was a nephew of Jay Cooke," said the St. Louis gentleman. "I didn't much care whose nephew he was, for he was one of the nicest young fellows I ever met, and he gave me over a dozen different points in billiards. One day, after I had known him about a week, he put a lot of greenbacks into an envelope and beckoned me aside and confidentially whispered:

"I am not always what I seem. I have a mania for gambling, and am safe only when I have no money in my pockets. Will you be kind enough to keep this $300 for me and do it out as I want it?"

"I suggested the office safe, but he had three or four reasonable excuses, and after telling him that I would not be responsible for any loss, I locked the envelope in my trunk. It was very bulky, and he knew him about the face of his name and that it contained $300.

"The very next day he struck me for $10, and I gave it to him out of my own wallet. The day after it was $5, and the day after that it was $10. In one week he drew $45 from me, but of course I was protected and felt easy. The second week he had drawn $25 when a sad accident occurred. He went into the surf to bathe and was not seen again. We found his clothing in the bath house, but we could not find his body. It was scarcely known that he was drowned before five orders of $10 each were presented to me by guests, and the landlord would not let me out of the envelope. I went to it to find two $1 bills and a lot of cut paper—enough to make up a bulky package. Two weeks later, while in Providence, I met the drowned young man in the postoffice. He was looking well and hearty, and when I asked him whether he was really alive, he did not look to his heels and outran me in a way to satisfy me that he was."

FOR SAULT CONTRACTS

Bids Called for the Entire Work of Improvement.

THE CANAL CLOSES TODAY.

Capt. McDougall on the Accident to the 107; Whalebacks for the Coast.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 3.—The contract for furnishing the materials and labor and building the masonry of the new government lock at the Sault will be let on Tuesday, Jan. 27, by Gen. O. M. Poe, at his office here, and another great step will have been accomplished in the construction of a project of vast importance to the interests of the inland seas and the eastern, northern and western sections of a great country.

This masterpiece of engineering skill will be 300 feet long between the gates, 100 feet wide and 43½ feet deep. The capacity will be 3,440,000 cubic feet. The depth of water on the miter sills will be 20 feet and the lift of the lock 18 feet. The volume of water in the lock when filled to the level of the canal above will be 23,333,000 gallons, over six times the capacity of the first one built. It is expected that four vessels, each 350 feet long and 46 feet wide, can pass through at one lockage.

The advertisement for proposals states that preference will be given to materials of domestic production or manufacture. The government will reserve the right to reject any or all proposals and also to award the contract on other considerations than the price. It is the evident intention of the government engineers to have the successful bidders commence active operations as early next spring as possible.

Plans and specifications are not yet completed but they will be ready for examination a few days. They will require a long time to build the walls of the massive structure and have it ready for the vessels that will be necessary to carry the immense amount of freight that will be moved on Lake Superior. The new lock cannot be put into operation any too soon. By the terms of the act of congress authorizing this contract, Gen. Poe is allowed to let contracts for the entire work though appropriations are available at present for only about a quarter.

Capt. McDougall on the Late Accident at the Canal.

The 107 arrived in Buffalo yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Capt. McDougall came back from the Sault this morning, and says that the accident demonstrates the stability of the whaleback boats. The 107 stove a hole in her bottom last week, and lay on the bottom of the river just off the canal. The accident was caused by a large boulder upon which the boat floated when the water was let out of the lock gate during the boat's down passage. The 107 had a cargo of 95,000 bushels of wheat from Duluth. Into the two middle compartments of the water bottom the hole let 450 tons of water. To float the boat required the removal of 15,000 bushels of her cargo. After this was done the 107 passed down, encountering, in her disabled condition, the severest storm of the season on Lake Erie without further damage, arriving in Buffalo in safety.

"It is a high endorsement of the thoroughness with which the McDougall boats are built that, although the bottom held 450 tons of water, yet not one particle of her cargo was wet or dampened."

The Sitka and 104 left Waikiki bay last night and will probably arrive in Duluth tonight or tomorrow morning.

Nine Ocean Whalebacks.

There are five steel whaleback ships now in course of construction at the yards of the American Steel Barge company. All will be ready to launch at, or slightly before, the opening of navigation. Of the five, three are to be steamers and two tow barges, and all are to go down to the coast and enter the Cuban one trade, carrying to Sparrow Point or Philadelphia, from the east coast of Cuba. With them will go down the steamer, Chas. L. Colby, recently launched, and the tow barge 103, probably accompanied by others of the fleet now on the lakes. These, with the two whaleback barges built at Brooklyn and now in the ocean coasting trade, will make at least nine vessels of the whaleback pattern in the Atlantic trade next spring. The five boats mentioned will be the only ones built during the winter.

THE SAULT CLOSED.

Canal Work Over for the Season; The Hoyt Beyond Detour.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—The canal is closed this noon for the season. Steamer Myles will winter at Port Arthur. The steamer Colgate Hoyt and the "103" passed Detour at 9 o'clock last night.

The Ethiopia Safe.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The Anchor line steamer Ethiopia, Capt. Wilson, from New York, Oct. 16, for Glasgow, concerning whose safety some anxiety has been felt, she being several days overdue, passed Tory island this morning. Her shaft is broken. This accident was the cause of her delay.

Steamship Arrivals.

Queensdown—Arrived: Nova Scotian from Baltimore, for Liverpool.

Seattle Bank Excitement.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 3.—Financial circles were somewhat agitated yesterday by the statement that W. J. Thornell, cashier of the Boston National bank, was short in his accounts. A run was started on the bank, but was stopped in a short time by the announcement that the shortage had been made good. Thornell came here in 1882 from Denver. He is now sick with typhoid fever, and the amount of the shortage is not known. He will not be arrested.

THE RIGHT VERDICT.

Christian Scientists Legally Sat Upon in Missouri.

MARSHALL, Mo., Dec. 3.—Isaac Hamilton, aged 57, a prominent farmer of this vicinity, died Monday of typhoid fever. His wife and daughter, it is alleged, believe in the doctrine of Christian Science and for three weeks before his death the patient had no medicine or medical treatment. About a week after he was taken sick physicians were summoned, but after they had made a few calls, Mrs. Hamilton instructed them not to come any more, her husband finally consenting to try the efficiency of Christian Science.

The coroner returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death by criminal neglect of those who had him in charge after medical treatment had been abandoned.

AN ILLINOIS MURDER.

Marital Feud Culminates Fatally; The Murderer Arrested.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Dec. 3.—News of a tragedy that occurred in Henderson county, Ill., across the river, is brought here by courier. An old man named Hawley married a daughter of Joseph Brown several years ago. The match was unhappy and resulted in the wife leaving her husband and going home to live. She returned a day or two later for her clothes, where she was roundly abused by Hawley. This she reported to her father and brother. This enraged Barney, her brother, and leading his musket he started out, as he said, to have "some kind of a settlement with old Hawley."

Late Monday night Hawley was found lying across his desolate hearth, shot through the heart. Brown confessed he did the deed, but claims he did it in self-defense, as the old man had attacked him with an axe. The boy is in custody.

Southern Coal Mine Strike.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 3.—The striking coal miners were yesterday joined by nearly all the men who were at work Monday, and all the miners are idle, except where convicts or negro miners are worked. At the Blocton, where 2000 men are employed, the conservative element tried to get all men to return to work but failed, and those who worked Monday went out. Eight thousand miners are now out. Nearly half of the furnaces in the district will go out of blast this week, and others will follow as soon as the stock of coal is exhausted. The strikers are very quiet.

The Kansas City in Lumber.

DEBUQUE, Iowa, Dec. 3.—In the United States court now in session here, a complaint is brought against the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railroad for violation of the interstate commerce law. In September last, an agreed date was made on several roads for passenger rates to the St. Louis carnival. The Kansas City's ticket read via Chicago.

The Missing Millionaire.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The family of Benjamin H. Campbell, the north side millionaire, still hopes that he will be found alive and well. The lady had a fascination for him, and the family is led to believe that he may have gone to the docks and taken passage for a trip to some port.

OUR LAKE TRADE.

The showing made in The Herald last evening of the marine business of the port of Duluth for the season now over, is a most flattering one and adds another to the facts indicating the growth of the traffic of the lakes. Not only was the number of vessels at this port greater than ever before, making the magnificent total of 2537, but the tonnage was increased by nearly 300,000 tons, and the average tonnage per vessel was brought to nearly 1100. The figures for Superior if included, would make the total of vessels at the head of the lakes 3777, with tonnage rating of about 4,100,000 tons.

It is a fact worthy of note that no port in the United States, seaboard or interior, can show such an average tonnage rating as do those at the head of Lake Superior. The exact figures are not obtainable for Ashland and Superior but, owing to the class of commerce of those ports, heavy bulk freight, their average tonnage is probably even greater than that of Duluth. The average of either place is larger than that of any ocean port.

The year has been a good one, too, in the matter of freight rates and vessels plying to this port, have made money. Freight rates have been low on ore and coal but have been enough to give good returns on the investment. The total value of merchandise and goods handled at docks at the head of the lake has been, approximately, $75,000,000, of which about a third should be credited to Superior.

CAUSE OF THE DISTURBANCE.

Edward Atkinson, in the last number of Bradstreet's, undertakes to point out the reason of the recent financial disturbances in this country. He first shows that the trouble was not caused by general inflation nor by collapse. It is impossible, he asserts, to name any signs of weakness in the commercial fabric of the country. This being the case, the conclusion must be accepted that the financial disturbance was "due to the fact that the mechanism of our system of banking and exchange is not well adjusted to the progressive increase of production, trade and commerce."

Mr. Atkinson finds that the amount of railroad traffic has increased in the last five years 55 per cent, while population has increased less than 14 per cent. This increase in traffic represents an increase in the merchantable product of the country of at least $1,000,000,000. The mechanism of exchange has not developed in anything like an equal measure, and the country has nearly been swamped, financially, by the very greatness of its resources.

A more increase in coins or notes of any kind will not meet the demand, and the situation brings into view the curious paradox which may be stated in these words: "How an increase of product, wealth and capital may for a time put up the rate of interest on short loans and create a great financial disturbance."

In suggesting a remedy, the writer believes that the conditions will aggravate themselves until bank reserves may be held and maintained in fullest measure at the very time when crops are gathered, and where the products are largest, in order that such reserves may then and there serve as the basis of the widest extension of credits. Yet, under present conditions that is the very time of the year when reserves are most heavily drawn upon. In order that this end may be attained measures should be taken for the issue of convertible bank notes or other transferable instruments of credit.

He does not believe of course the devices which have been suggested to meet the emergency, emanating from farmers' alliances; and he desires not to be understood as recommending an increase in the circulating medium of the country. The solution of the trouble does not rest, he asserts, upon abundance of cash, but in adequate provision for the use of credit.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker calls as loudly as ever for penny postage. The Herald hopes to see Mr. Wanamaker carry it through. There is hardly a particle of doubt that in within two or at least three years the increased business would reduce remarkably the deficit in the revenue. We believe that in time it would finally be wiped out altogether. Mr. Wanamaker is still enthusiastic for a postal telegraph, and hopes to see a pneumatic system at work in Chicago by the time the World's fair is in progress.

The cloud hanging over the nationalist party and the cause of home rule looks blacker than ever. Parnell is as stubborn as ever, and it looks as if a considerable section of the party was resolving to stick by him through thick and thin. Every day widens the division between men committed in heart to the same cause, and what the upshot will be no one can tell. The hardest blow that has been struck at Ireland in the present generation has been dealt from within her own camp. Balfour at his worst could never injure the home rule cause a tithe as much as Ireland's loved leader Parnell.

One of the best and most popular of the army regulations is that permitting deserving young men who held non-commissioned positions to compete for commissioned places. The good in that regulation is, however, threatened. It is claimed that the sons of rich men, politicians, or army officers who fail to pass the West Point examination are enlisted in the army with the understanding that after a short term of service they shall be promoted over the ordinary private, making their way to an examination for a lieutenancy easy. It is not necessary to point out how unjust this is. It is apparent on its face. There was a good purpose in the regulation itself, and unless preferred promotions are done away with and honest merit substituted, the regulation is in danger of being repealed.

One common-sense step has been taken in treating the Indian troubles. The interior department has determined to live up to the agreements made with the Sioux. An increased issue of rations has been ordered to conform with the contract of 1877, from which there has been a departure on the assumption that the Indians were providing better for themselves and did not need the full issue. When the hungry Sioux are well fed they are likely to be less bent on ghost dances and war. Congress should act promptly also upon the recommendation of the acting Indian commissioner that the appropriations agreed upon by the Sioux commission should be made. At least three-fourths of the present Indian troubles are due to the failure of this nation and its agents to keep their agreements and to the notorious mismanagement of the Indian bureau. There can never be any assurance of peace on the reservations until the Indians are fairly treated and properly managed.

The resolve of the republican senatorial caucus to make good the pledge of the last session and take up at once the national elections bill shows that the recent election which has not rattled the stalwarts. It is clearly right, we believe, to stand by this and every other pledge and call up the bill for action, at least. If the debate shall show that there are enough members who oppose the bill or doubt its expediency to prevent its passage, so be it, but there is only one way to reach this decision, and that is by trial. Defeat is by no means so bad a thing for the party as demoralization and there is no surer sign of demoralization than the failure to keep the party's pledges. The republican party has been hard hit, but that has been the fortune of the party time and again before, and of other parties before it. Let all loyal republicans now rally and stand shoulder to shoulder. The triumphing opposition is made up of diverse and discordant elements, and the alliance division does not pretend to be acting in concert with the democracy. Fads of a day have their day, and no party founded on class interest and wild conceits can endure for long. Justice to all, protection for all, the rights of all are the articles of faith of the republican party, and this platform of principles does not rest on sand and cannot be swept away. So let our party stand on it however high the waves may roll and threaten to break.

WHAT A BOY CAN DO.

These are some of the things that a boy can do:
He can whistle so loud the air turns blue;
He can make all sounds of beasts and birds,
And a thousand noises never heard.
He can crow or cackle, or he can cluck
As well as a rooster, hen or duck.
He can bark like a dog, he can loo like a cow,
And a cat itself can't beat his "meow."
He has sounds that are ruffled, striped and plain;
He can thunder by as a railway train.
Stop at the stations a breath and then Apply the steam and be off again.
He has all of his powers in such command
He can turn right into a full brass band.
With all of the instruments ever played,
As he makes of himself a street parade.
You can tell that a boy is very ill
If he's wide awake and keeping still.
But earth would be God bless their noise
If dull pipes if there were no boys.

BEEN AND HEARD.

There are many men in the wholesale trade whose business ideas and judgment are warped by the prejudice they have against home competition. The other day I heard one of these men making some pretty hard remarks about a brother competitor, and in the same breath cursing the railroads for discrimination against Duluth in his line of freight. Note the inconsistency of his thinking! When Mr. McGraw, the "Saginaw" lumberman, was here last month I had an interesting talk with him on Duluth's future as a whole selling point. There was wisdom in what he said. "I want to see the day when Duluth will be able to supply a large part of the United States with lumber. Let other mills come here; there is room in Duluth and business enough for all. The great obstacle in building up a jobbing center is the railroad, strange as it may seem. The roads discriminate in favor of those towns that ship and receive the most freight. There is nothing that will bring a railroad to time quicker, than for a large number of manufacturers of similar products to make a concerted movement for low and just rates. It is in any line of business. The more houses established to do business in any one line the cheaper the rate obtainable; just as soon as low rates come the market is of course extended. Let the jobbers all come in; there's room here for everybody. The more the better!"

"A BARREL OF MONEY."

There is an heroism not known to the outside world, an heroism that does not and cannot embellish the pages of history. It is the heroism that comes of mental struggles conquered. Such heroes were they who sat in Temple Opera last night and listened to the whole of "A Barrel of Money." The proprietors will never make a barrel of money out of Duluth audiences. The play is simply a very bad melodramatic farce, badly staged and worse acted. No talent could lend dignity or interest to such a production, and there was no talent visible last night. In view of Manager Miller's statement that no poor play would be seen on Temple stage, the public has generously believed he did not know what kind of a "holly show" "A Barrel of Money" was capable of making of itself.

WHAT THEY ALL SAY.

Robert Lowden: Lumbermen will probably have no cause for complaint as to lack of snow this season.

E. G. Pike: We will put up the Mitchell & McClure mill as fast as men can do it.

Mayor Davis: Superior will suffer more from her bank failure than Duluth will from hers. Our improvements have been paid for as they have been completed. Superior has paid for hers by issuing a large amount of bonds, and there is bound to be a great amount of kicking.

Harmonester Miller: The people of Duluth have not the remotest idea of the vast amount of good that the new channel is going to do for this city. It is the best thing that ever happened to Duluth.

This Reads Well.

The following from The Marquette Journal, referring to the fact of the late run on the West Superior Bank of Commerce, and to the fiction of money being put up for the bank by capitalists of the city, reads very prettily just now:

"When the run on the Bank of Commerce at Superior started, the other banks there came promptly to its rescue, one placing $20,000 in cash at its disposal, another $30,000, and others lesser amounts. In order to show their confidence in the bank, the business men generally began depositing money in its vaults while the panic-stricken depositors were crowding in to draw theirs out, and as a consequence there was more on deposit in the bank when the run was over than when it began. The incident illustrates the public spirit of the capitalists at Superior, and which, manifested in other ways, has accomplished such wonders within the past few years in building up that city. The people there have differences among themselves, but like Lochin's clan, 'their avowed thousands, their bosoms are one' when an issue affecting the welfare or reputation of their city arises. The manner in which the other banks and the business people of Superior stood by the Bank of Commerce when the run on it resulting from the failure of the Bell & Eyster banking house at Duluth was made the other day is infinitely to the credit of that city, and will go far to strengthen confidence in its future throughout the country."

ON THE MESSAGE.

St. Paul News: The message of President Harrison is a plain, business like document. There is no attempt at anything extraordinary in its production, but it gives a fair insight into the affairs of the country. In behalf of the tariff bill he makes the regular plea of his party that it has not yet had a trial and that when it has been fully tested it will be approved.

Minneapolis Tribune: The main features of President Harrison's message are strong arguments in support of the tariff bill passed at the late session and in favor of the passage of what is known as the Forbe bill at the present session. The president is cool and nerry, and the result of the late elections has not fazed him a bit. His argument in support of the tariff bill is symmetrical, clear and forcible. He shows that the effect of the bill has not been to raise prices generally, and is not likely to be, neither has it cut down our imports.

St. Paul Dispatch: Whatever may be thought of the Presidential message, it is at least a circumstance that will be gratifying in the highest measure to every voter who believes in the republican policy of protection, that that policy as embodied in existing laws is sustained without equivocation or compromise.

This increase in traffic represents an increase in the merchantable products of the country of at least $1,000,000,000. The mechanism of exchange has not developed in anything like an equal measure, and the country has nearly been swamped financially, by the very greatness of its resources.

A mere increase in coins or notes of any kind will not meet the demand, and the situation brings into view the curious paradox which may be stated in these words: "How an increase of product, wealth and capital may for a time put up the rate of interest on short loans and create a great financial disturbance." In suggesting a remedy, the writer believes that the conditions will aggravate themselves until bank reserves may be held and maintained in fullest measure at the very time when crops are gathered, and where the products are largest, in order that such reserves may then and there serve as the basis of the widest extension of credits. Yet, under present conditions that is the very time of the year when reserves are most heavily drawn upon. In order that this end may be attained measures should be taken for the issue of convertible bank notes or other transferable instruments of credit.

He does not believe of course the devices which have been suggested to meet the emergency, emanating from farmers' alliances, and he desires not to be understood as recommending an increase in the circulating medium of the country. The solution of the trouble does not rest, he asserts, upon abundance of cash, but in adequate provision for the use of credit.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker calls as loudly as ever for penny postage. The Herald hopes to see Mr. Wanamaker carry it through. There is hardly a particle of doubt that in within two or at least, three years the increased business would reduce remarkably the deficit in the revenue. We believe that in time it would finally be wiped out altogether. Mr. Wanamaker is still enthusiastic for a postal telegraph, and hopes to see a pneumatic system at work in Chicago by the time the World's fair is in progress.

The cloud hanging over the national party and the cause of home rule looks blacker than ever. Parnell is as stubborn as ever, and it looks as if a considerable section of the party was resolving to stick by him through thick and thin. Every day widens the division between men committed in heart to the same cause, and what the upshot will be no one can tell. The hardest blow that has been struck at Ireland in the present generation has been dealt from within her own camp. Balfour at his worst could never injure the home rule cause a title as much as Ireland's loved leader Parnell.

One of the best and most popular of the army regulations is that permitting deserving young men who held non-commissioned positions to compete for commissioned places. The good in that regulation is, however, threatened. It is claimed that the sons of rich men, politicians, or army officers who fail to pass the West Point examination are enlisted in the army with the understanding that after a short term of service they shall be promoted over the ordinary private, making their way to an examination for a lieutenancy easy. It is not necessary to point out how unjust this is. It is apparent on its face. There was a good purpose in the regulation itself, and unless preferred promotions are done away with and honest merit substituted, the regulation is in danger of being repealed.

One common-sense step has been taken in treating the Indian troubles. The interior department has determined to live up to the agreements made with the Sioux. An increased issue of rations has been ordered to conform with the contract of 1877, from which there has been a departure on the assumption that the Indians were providing better for themselves and did not need the full issue. When the hungry Sioux are well fed they are likely to be less bent for ghost dances and war. Congress should act promptly also upon the recommendation of the acting Indian commissioner that the appropriations agreed upon by the Sioux commission should be made. At least three-fourths of the present Indian troubles are due to the failure of this nation and its agents to keep their agreements and to the notorious mismanagement of the Indian bureau. There can never be any assurance of peace on the reservations, until the Indians are fairly treated and properly managed.

The resolve of the republican senatorial caucus to make good the pledge of the last session and take up at once the national elections bill shows that the recent election whirl has not rattled the stalwarts. It is clearly right, we believe, to stand by this and every other pledge and call up the bill for action, at least. If the debate shall show that there are enough members who oppose the bill or doubt its expediency to prevent its passage, so be it, but there is only one way to reach this decision, and that is by trial. Defeat is by no means so bad a thing for the party as demoralization and there is no surer sign of demoralization than the failure to keep the party's pledges. The republican party has been hard hit, but that has been the fortune of the party time and again before, and of other parties before it. Let all loyal republicans now rally and stand shoulder to shoulder. The triumphant opposition is made up of diverse and discordant elements, and the alliance division does not pretend to be acting in concert with the democracy. Fads of a day have their day, and no party founded on class interest and wild conceits can endure for long. Justice to all, protection for all, the rights of all are the articles of faith of the republican party, and this platform of principles does not rest on sand and cannot be swept away. So let our party stand on it however high the waves may roll and threaten to break.

WHAT A BOY CAN DO.

These are some of the things that a boy can do:

He can whistle so loud the air turns blue; He can make all sounds of beast and bird, And a thousand noises never heard.

He can crow or cackle, or he can cluck As well as a rooster, hen or duck; He can bark like a dog, he can loo like a cow, And a cat itself can't beat his "meow."

He has sounds that are ruffled, striped and plain; He can thunder by as a railway train, Stop at the stations a breath and then Apply the steam and be off again.

He has all of his powers in such command He can turn right into a full brass band, With all of the instruments ever played, As he makes of himself a street parade.

You can tell that a boy is very ill If he is wide awake and keeping still, But earth would be—God bless their noise! A dull place if there were no boys.

BEEN AND HEARD.

There are many men in the wholesale trade whose business ideas and judgment are warped by the prejudices they have against home competition. The other day I heard one of these men making some pretty hard remarks about a brother competitor, and in the same breath cursing the railroads for discrimination against Duluth in his line of freight. Note the inconsistency of his kicking! When Mr. McClure, the "Saginaw" lumberman, was here last month I had an interesting talk with him on Duluth's future as a whole selling point. There was wisdom in what he said. "I want to see the day when Duluth will be able to supply a large part of the United States with lumber. Let other mills come here; there is room in Duluth and business enough for all. The great obstacle in building up a jobbing center is the railroad, so much as it may seem. The roads discriminate in favor of those towns that ship and receive the most freight. There is nothing that will bring a railroad to this quicker, than for a large number of manufacturers of similar products to make a concerted movement for low and just rates. It is so in any line of business. The more houses established to do business in any one line the cheaper the rate obtainable; just as soon as low rates come the market is of course extended. Let the jobbers all come in; there's room here for everybody. The more the better!"

"A BARREL OF MONEY."

There is an heroism not known to the outside world, an heroism that does not and cannot embellish the pages of history. It is the heroism that comes of mental struggles conquered. Such heroes were they who, sat in Temple Opera last night and listened to the whole of "A Barrel of Money." The proprietors will never make a barrel of money out of Duluth audiences. The play is simply a very bad melodramatic farce, badly acted and worse acted. No talent could lend dignity or interest to such a production, and there was no talent visible last night. In view of Mr. Miller's statement that no poor play would be seen on Temple stage, the public has generously believed he did not know what kind of a "holly show" "A Barrel of Money" was capable of making of itself.

WHAT THEY ALL SAY.

Robert Louden: Lumbermen will probably have no cause for complaint as to lack of snow this season.

E. C. Baker: We will put up the Mitchell & McClure mill as fast as men can do it.

Mayor Davis: Superior will suffer more from her bank failure than Duluth will from hers. Our improvements have been paid for as they have been completed. Superior has paid for hers by issuing a large amount of bonds, and there is bound to be a great amount of kicking.

Harbormaster Miller: The people of Duluth have not the remotest idea of the vast amount of good that the new channel is going to do for this city. It is the best thing that ever happened to Duluth.

This Reads Well.

The following from The Marquette Journal, referring to the fact of the late run on the West Superior Bank of Commerce, and to the action of the money put up for the bank by capitalists of the city, reads very prettily just now:

"When the run on the Bank of Commerce at Superior started, the other banks promptly to its rescue, one placing $50,000 in cash at its disposal, another $30,000, and others lesser amounts. In order to show their confidence in the bank, the business men generally began depositing money in its vaults while the panic-stricken depositors were crowding in to draw theirs out, and as a consequence there was more on deposit in the bank when the run was over than when it began. The incident illustrated the public spirit that prevails at Superior, and which, manifested in other ways, has accomplished such wonders within the past few years in building up that city. The people there are proud of their city, and are proud of the fact that their city is one of the few in the country where the welfare or reputation of their city is a matter of concern to the business people. The business people of Superior stand by the Bank of Commerce when the run on it is resulting from the failure of the Bell & Eyster banking house at Duluth was made the other day is infinitely to the credit of that city, and will go far to strengthen confidence in its future throughout the country."

ON THE MESSAGE.

St. Paul News: The message of President Harrison is a plain, business-like document. There is no attempt at anything extraordinary in its production, but it gives a fair insight into the affairs of the country. In behalf of the tariff bill he makes the regular plea of his party that it has not yet had a trial and that when it has been fully tested it will be approved.

Minnesota Tribune: The main feature of President Harrison's message are strong arguments in support of the tariff bill passed at the late session and in favor of the passage of what is known as the Force bill. At the present session the president is cool and berry, and the result of the late elections has not fazed him a bit. His argument in support of the tariff bill is symmetrical, clear and forcible. He shows that the effect of the bill has not been to raise prices generally, and is not likely to be, neither has it cut down our imports.

St. Paul Dispatch: Whatever may be thought of the Presidential message, it is at least a circumstance that will be gratifying in the highest measure to every voter who believes in the republican policy of protection, that that policy as embodied in existing laws is sustained without equivocation or compromise.

WAS ALMOST A HORROR

But the Brakes Stopped the Train on the Edge.

TWO LOADED SHORT LINE CARS

One of Them Topples Within a Foot or Two of the Lake

Bank.

What came near proving a railroad horror occurred this morning on the Iron Range short line near Seventh avenue east, and many of the passengers shuddered when they thought of the narrow escape they had. It was certainly a miracle that none of them were injured.

Two cars of the short line train which arrives in the city at 8 o'clock, and was crowded with passengers, were thrown from the track by a large stone which was between the rails. How the stone came to be there is still a mystery. The engine succeeded in passing over it safely, but the forward coach was derailed and the rear twisted over within about two feet of the edge of the lake shore bluff, which at this point is about twelve feet high. The front trucks of the second coach were thrown from the rails several feet, but the rear truck stuck to the track. The rear car remained on the track.

The two cars which left were tipped part way over and what kept them from going over the embankment is hard to tell. The train was not moving very rapidly and was stopped as soon as the cars left the track.

Both cars were crowded with passengers, and as soon as they came to a stop, a wild scramble for the doors ensued, but no one was hurt. The trucks of the two cars are badly damaged, and the track is in bad shape, but the wreck will soon be cleared away. Fortunately there is a side track at this point and the wreck will not interfere materially with the regular trains.

THE WEST.

Seventh Division's Building Room; General News of the West End and West Duluth.

The Seventh division has already taken on a building boom even before the grading is completed. Frank Tins has three houses which he will have ready for occupancy by Jan. 1. C. W. Hoyt has also commenced several houses which he will rent. First class side walks of good width are being constructed on a number of streets, even before the graders are fairly out of the way, there being over sixty horses and a large number of men still at work, and builders ready to follow them up as fast as they can get out of the way.

West Duluth Notes.

E. E. Burley has returned from a ten days' visit to Taylor's Falls, his former home. He is strong in his belief that West Duluth is the coming town.

David Stevenson of Vermilion was in town on business yesterday, he having established a good trade in lumber with the Iron Car company.

Thomas Mellette came home from St. Mary's hospital yesterday and is much improved in health.

The number of the Dakota colony in West Duluth was increased yesterday by the arrival of A. J. Felner and Frank Brown from Frankfort, S. D. They have come to stay.

Two new barber shops are to be started in town in a few days, one in the present postoffice and one in the basement of the Silvey building, which will have a nice set of baths connected. The last will supply one of the great wants of the town.

L. L. Thomas returned this morning from St. Cloud, where he has been on business, and brought with him O. W. Baldwin, one of St. Cloud's most prominent lawyers.

F. C. Smith has decided to locate his loan and real estate business at West Superior, but his family will continue to reside here.

C. A. Everett & Co. have placed the agency of their houses with Williams & McCormick, who will rent and make the collections.

Occupants are moving into several of the offices of the Silvey building today, and P. M. Mallory says the post office will be transferred to its new quarters this week.

Contractors Davis & Cooper moved their grading outfit, cars, etc., over near Walbridge today, where they have a large job, and are employing 125 men.

Fred Johnson, from Moorhead, a practical painter and paperhanger, is in town looking for a place for business.

The new Burrows building will be opened tomorrow evening for business, and the West Duluth band will announce the fact.

WEST END.

The ladies of Grace church were much pleased with the attendance at their fair and supper in the Vincent building last evening, and they announce that admission this evening will be free and a good supper assured. They have a large number of very pretty and useful articles left that they wish to dispose of at their own price. Call and see them.

Joseph Murphy, a Cloquet lumberman, is at the Clarendon.

Dr. Horace Davis has received a very fine adjustable operating chair, which cost about $100.

Joseph Burns is fitting up his West End skating rink.

The Mendelssohn Choral Union have postponed their concert until Dec. 17.

The Estey W. C. T. U. will begin the study of the book "Glances of Fifty Years" on Friday, and it is hoped a full attendance will be present.

The young people of the Presbyterian church are much interested in the Christmas for Friday evening's entertainment. Ten different countries will be represented.

To Inspect Tomorrow.

The party of state officials, Messrs. Langdon of Minneapolis, Potter of Aitkin, and Munger of Duluth, appointed to inspect that portion of the Duluth & Winnipeg road built this year, go up the road tomorrow morning. They will leave here in a special train about 8 o'clock, and will be accompanied by several state officials and others interested.

The number of the Dakota colony in West Duluth was increased yesterday by the arrival of A. J. Felner and Frank Brown from Frankfort, S. D. They have come to stay.

Two new barbor shops are to be started in town in a few days, one in the present postoffice and one in the basement of the Silvey building, which will have a nice set of baths connected. The last will supply one of the great wants of the town.

L. L. Thomas returned this morning from St. Cloud, where he has been on business, and brought with him O. W. Baldwin, one of St. Cloud's most prominent lawyers.

P. C. Smith has decided to locate his loan and real estate business at West Superior, but his family will continue to reside here.

C. A. Everett & Co. have placed the agency of their houses with Williams & McCormick, who will rent and make the collections.

Occupants are moving into several of the offices of the Silvey building today, and P. M. Mallory says the post office will be transferred to its new quarters this week.

Contractors Davis & Cooper moved their grading outfit, cars, etc., over near Walbridge today, where they have a large job, and are employing 125 men.

Fred Johnson, from Moonhead, a practical painter and paperhanger, is in town looking for a place for business.

The new Burrows building will be opened tomorrow evening for business, and the West Duluth band will announce the fact.

WEST END.

The ladies of Grace church were much pleased with the attendance at their fair and supper in the Vincent building last evening, and they announce that admission this evening will be free and a good supper assured. They have a large number of very pretty and useful articles left that they wish to dispose of at your own price. Call and see them.

Joseph Murphy, a Cloquet lumberman, is at the Clarendon.

Dr. Horace Davis has received a very fine adjustable operating chair, which cost about $100.

Joseph Burns is fitting up his West End skating rink.

The Mendelssohn Choral Union have postponed their concert until Dec. 17.

The Estey W. C. T. U. will begin the study of the book "Glimpses of Fifty Years" on Friday, and it is hoped a full attendance will be present.

The young people of the Presbyterian church are much interested in the costumeing for Friday evening's entertainment. Ten different countries will be represented.

To Inspect Tomorrow.
The party of state officials, Messrs. Langdon of Minneapolis, Potter of Atkin, and Munger of Duluth, appointed to inspect that portion of the Duluth & Winnipeg road built this year, go up the road tomorrow morning. They will leave here in a special train about 8 o'clock, and will be accompanied by several state officials and others interested.

Building Track at St. Louis.
The Northern Pacific company is at work putting in 1000 feet of sidetrack at St. Louis. The station at Walbridge will probably be removed to this point.

THE AGE OF ALUMINIUM.

It Would Appear to be Actually Coming,

IF THIS REPORT IS AT ALL TRUE,

But Advance Reports of This New Metal Are Hardly to be Trusted.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Dec. 3.—The "age of aluminium" hitherto predicted only by enthusiasts, would seem to be nearer than has generally been supposed. For some time the Cowles Electric Smelting & Aluminium company of Lockport, has been preparing to produce aluminium by a new process, which is claimed to be a successful solution of the problem of the cheap extraction of this metal from common clay. Eugene H. Cowles, president of the Aluminium company, said today:

"We now expect to offer a pure metal made by a new process that is radically different from anything yet known to metallurgists—a process that is radically different in operation and almost theoretically perfect. By reason of two chemical discoveries it is found that the pure metal can be extracted direct from the clay. This can be done without the use of electrical heat. When operated on a large scale as that on which iron is produced aluminium will be produced at a cost permitting it to sell at $200 per ton, a price less than the present price of copper."

"Alterations will be made immediately in our works here to make the metal on a large scale. Capitalists in New York are preparing to build immense new works of probably twenty times the capacity of the Lockport works. One of the large plants will undoubtedly be at Niagara Falls, where 10,000 to 12,000 horse-power will be required to produce it."

"As soon as the plant at Niagara Falls is in operation—say by July, 1892—the world can expect a supply of aluminium at least 99 per cent fine at prices not to exceed fifty cents per pound. As methods have lately been discovered by which the metal can be hardened and its strength greatly increased without interfering materially with its toughness and lightness, it would really seem as if the aluminium age were at hand."

LONDON NOTES.

Nerisy Hens of Interest From the Foggy City.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The official list of the queen's presents to the Princess Victoria of Prussia on the occasion of the marriage of the latter a couple of weeks since has just been made public. It includes a superb pendant of diamonds and emeralds, a quantity of exquisite lace, three Indian shawls, and what society is laughing at—a bale of oriental dress stuffs, and half a dozen large pieces of silk for dresses. The Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught send a five row necklace of Indian pearls with the pendant in the center of each row—the first of diamonds, the second of sapphires, the third of moonstones, the fourth of emeralds and the fifth of rubies, together with a Russian tea set of pure gold with the spoons, teapots, cups and sugar bowl all exquisitely enameled.

The Ditchborne claimant is now engaged as a bartender in a saloon in Birmingham. In the day time he makes himself generally useful in serving drinks from the bar, and in the evening lectures in the smoking room on his trials and tribulations and the conspiracy by which he has been kept out of his peerage. For this combination of physical and mental application he receives a salary of $60 per week, board and lodging.

The attack of apoplexy with which Lord Chief Justice Coleridge was overtaken a few days since, has revived the old superstition to the effect that whenever the historical clock in the tower of the law courts gets out of order, either sickness or fatality is certain to overtake one of the judges. This weird warning, it is said, has not once failed in a score of years. On the day before the sudden illness of the lord chief justice the clock struck one when it should have tolled eleven. An hour after Lord Coleridge was stricken down.

Parrell Can't Do It.

New York, Dec. 3.—A number of public men in this city have expressed the opinion that was Mr. Parrell to make the only reparation left in his power by marrying the divorced wife of his former friend, Mr. Gladstone, John Morley, together with his colleagues of the Irish parliamentary party, might be induced to overlook the position in which he has placed himself and to continue to recognize him as the leader of the Irish people. Those who take this view, however, are altogether ignorant of the procedure in English divorce court. A prominent English lawyer now visiting this city said today that even were Mr. Parrell inclined to adopt the suggestion, there is an insurmountable barrier in the way of legal technicalities.

Assured of Good Long Life.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Dr. Mary Walker, who is reported dying at her home at Bunker Hill, six miles west of Oswego, was visited by an associated press reporter last night. Her condition is much improved, and she will soon commence work preparing papers to be presented at the second session of the fifty-first congress relative to her pension claim. She said she was determined to live until she should obtain justice at the hands of the government.

Union Pacific Economizing.

OMAHA, Dec. 3.—Over 100 more men in the employ of the Union Pacific will be thrown out of employment by an order issued from the headquarters of the road for further reduction of the force. These men are now employed at the Council Bluffs transfer yards and the company's machine shops in this city. This will make a total reduction within the last few days of 220 men.

Brazilian Question Settled.

RIO JANEIRO, Dec. 3.—The crisis in the ministry arose from a dispute between President De Fonseca and the members of his cabinet regarding the punishment of the officers who wrecked the offices of The Tribune. The difficulty has now been settled.

COSTLY HOTELS.

Boom in Building a Result of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Within the next two months work will have been commenced upon hotel structures which will cost in the aggregate over $13,000,000, which are to be completed within four months of the opening of the World's fair. One structure costing $1,000,000 is to be erected on the lake front within a few hundred yards of the exposition, while one mile south on the same thoroughfare; N. K. Fairbank, the great lard magnate, is to build a hotel worth $500,000, while a third to cost $350,000 is to be put a half mile south, and a fourth to cost $250,000 still another half mile to the south.

George M. Pullman has decided to erect a $1,000,000 structure in Hyde park, and architects are now engaged on the plans, while a convalescence of equal size and cost is already under way within a quarter of a mile of Jackson park, where the main features of the exposition will be located.

KALAKUA COMING.

Report Says He Takes an Occasional Hand at Poker.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—The cruiser Charleston is expected to reach here tonight or early tomorrow morning. Among her passengers is King Kalakua of the Sandwich Islands, who proposes to remain several months in this country, traveling incognito and incidentally paying a visit to Washington. He had intended passing through this country last year on his way to the Paris exhibition, but was kept at home by the insurrection among his subjects.

Advice from Sandwich Islands say that the dusking monarch brings with him about $300,000 and as he has a mania for poker playing and especially for playing without limit, the probabilities are that his visit will be in the nature of a god-send to the gaming circles.

Today's Alliance Session.

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 3.—The annual conference of the Farmers Alliance and Industrial union was resumed this morning. Thirty-five states are represented. The delegates from the Knights of Labor have, it is said, decided that it would not be politic to attempt to form a new party at this time. A call will, however, be issued next week for a convention of representatives of all farmers and labor societies to be held early in the new year, and an effort will be made to organize an industrial political party. The convention today will discuss several topics affecting national legislation.

New Masonic Order.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The latest addition to the secret societies growing out of the Shrine, the Nobles of the Desert, the Ovals, etc., is the Mystic Order of the Enchanted Realm, which is shortly to be launched in this city. The membership will be strictly confined to thirty-third degree Masons, and it is said that the secret work in the baroque, is it is termed by some Masons, will be more than ordinarily weird and impressive.

A Coming Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—A cablegram from Sidney says Joe Chynski of this city, who last week defeated Jim Fogarty of Sydney in a fight to a finish for a purse of $25,000, has been challenged by Tom Lees. The Fogarty-Chynski battle was a desperate one, the betting being six to five against the American, owing to the fact that his opponent had previously defeated Bill Dunn and Tom Taylor, two of the best pugilists of the South Wales. Fogarty is badly used up. The San Francisco man will accept Lees' challenge.

Wanted—A Change.

Old King Solomon said: "There is nothing new under the sun." Probably he made the remark in a fit of disgust after vainly endeavoring to quiet some hair-pulling discussion among the thousand ladies who each claimed a share in him as a husband. At any rate the mind of man is so constituted as to desire change, variety, something new. The world is built on that plan, too. No two mountains are just alike. No two faces in all the world's millions are exactly similar. Shakespeare said of one of his characters: "Age cannot wither or custom stale his infinite variety." No man likes to have, or should have, his life always bounded between four walls. We all like to have a change of scene now and then to see new faces, to travel to far countries. The United States has a greater variety of climate and scenery within its borders than any of the Old World states. About now is a good time to plan a journey to the South—the land of delightful winter resorts. Low rates are made for excursionists, and "The Burlington" is the route par excellence to all points South. For tickets and information call on any of its agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

A Thoughtful Person.

Consults his best interests by having a box of Krause's Headache Capsules at hand; taken as directed will prevent or stop any kind of a headache, no matter what the cause; in fact if your skull was cracked it would prevent pain. The frequency of the attacks will diminish, and by taking the capsules at the approach of a headache you will never have another. For sale by all leading druggists.

The Child of an Evil Parent.
Malvolio says in Shakespeare's Comedy of Twelfth Night "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." So it is with nervousness. Some are born nervous, some achieve nervousness by their own imprudence and neglect, and some have nervousness thrust upon them by disease. The basic starting point of this ailment, which grows rapidly and assumes alarming proportions when it reaches the stage of hypochondria and chronic sleeplessness, is weakness, the child of indigestion, parent of many evils. For the incapacity of the stomach to digest food, and of the system to assimilate it after digestion, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has ever proved a sovereign remedy. Sleep becomes tranquil, appetite improves, abnormal sensitiveness of the nerves is succeeded by steadiness and vigor in those delicate tissues, bodily substance increases when that signal restorative of digestion is systematically used. Conquer also with it malaria, rheumatism, kidney inactivity, liver complaint and constipation.

THE HERALD BINDERY.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of his children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. Relative Values.

Referring to the lot on the corner of State and Madison streets, Chicago, the value of which was estimated of sixteen thousand five hundred dollars per foot, it is worthy of note that in every town there is always a center of extraordinary value, and values fall off rapidly in all directions according to their distance from this, as out in the outskirts (of Chicago) where platting is going on it would take more than a hundred acres, and two or three miles further a thousand acres to equal this lot in value.

Belmont Park and Sharp's additions are but a few blocks from the center of values in West Duluth. This fact, in connection with the paving of Central Avenue, makes lots there the best investment at the head of Lake Superior.

Syrians Who Find Duluth's Climate Just About Right.

A DWELLER AMONG THE CEDARS.

Mr. Magabghale Talks Interestingly of His Far Home to a Herald Reporter.

S. Magabghale and wife, native Syrians from Mount Lebanon, those historical hills of rock, famous in Biblical times for cedars, are visitors in Duluth today. Mr. Magabghale and his wife have only been in this country about six months, having come here for pleasure as well as for the purpose of familiarizing themselves about the great America. The gentleman's two brothers are also in the United States, having been here two years. The three are native Syrian missionaries, having been for the past nine years connected with the American board of missions.

"I and my brothers," said Mr. Magabghale, "are traveling in America both for pleasure and improvement. We are connected with the American board of missions in Syria, and have delivered a number of lectures during our sojourn here. We intend to remain in the United States a year or so longer. I expect my brothers to come to Duluth, although we may postpone a lengthy visit until next summer, when it is warm. We like America very much, and think it is a wonderful country. At Minneapolis and St. Paul we met Nathan Ford, the music man, whose brother is a missionary in my home. We also saw Professor Benton, a gentleman who was a missionary with my father thirty years ago.

"Snow is no new thing to me. We have it on the Syrian mountains, sometimes to the depth of four feet; yet we do not have the cold you experience in Duluth for our winters are mild.

"The mountains of Lebanon are about 11,000 feet above the sea level, and about 500,000 people out of Syrian population of 3,000,000 live upon them. Along the seacoast the summers are extremely hot and unhealthy, and then the inhabitants come to the mountains to live. We have a little rain in spring, a little rain in autumn and no rain in summer.

"We are building a railroad in Syria now. It will extend from Joppa to Damascus and then branch into the northern country. The travel is now by post roads and stages. I learned my English at the American mission college. All the missionaries speak Arabic, though, Mr. Ford speaks it as well as I do. The American board is doing wonders in Syria, and her redemption will be due mainly to it."

ODDS AND ENDS.

R. Clarke Forsyth, a Chicago genius, has invented a plan for an elevated electric railway. The cable is stretched from towers erected at the intersection of streets, each tower being composed of four ornamental iron posts planted on the street corners and meeting overhead. The cars are suspended to the cable which is to have a strength of 500 tons. The last bank failure in Baltimore was in 1837—fifty-three years ago. No city in the country can beat this record. A Spanish potato, raised at Clarksville, Ga., this season, was 4 feet 8 inches in length. The principal of the public school at Antioch, Fla., is A. B. Hendry, a lad of 14 years. A bell weighing 900 pounds, in massive silver, has just been placed in the cathedral at Karkow to commemorate the miraculous escape of the Czar from death in the railway accident at Borke in October last year.

"Things Are Seldom What They Seem." While the above is, in the main, true, still there is an exception to the general rule, as is the case in many instances. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are not only all they seem, but more. In torpid liver, indigestion, sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness and headache, the relief afforded by their use is wonderful.

For Fifteen Years I have been subject to headaches and have suffered such tortures that at times I had to resort to hypodermic injections of morphine. I tried Krause's Headache Capsules and they have not failed to cure or prevent all attacks. I weigh eight pounds more than ever before and it is because I am free from these terrible headaches. A Telegraph to the Brain From the stomach is the great sympathetic nerve in the epigastrium. Let digestion become seriously disordered, and that disorder is sure to find a reflection in symptoms which react disadvantageously upon the organ of thought. Insomnia, nervousness, causeless depression and anxiety are all manifestations of dyspepsia. The best means of remedying and restoring tranquility to brain and stomach, and of regulating it may be added, bilious secretion, is to take a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters before meals during the day and before retiring. This course begun, reform in the direction of complete bodily well-being has begun with it. Constipation, sick headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism and malarial complaints are among the troubles in which the Bitters is speedily and thoroughly beneficial. Don't delay, but take the sure course at once.

LIVES LOST BY FIRE.

Pittsburgh Adds Another to the List of Horrors.

A BUILDING WITHOUT FIRE ESCAPES.

Miraculous Escape of Some of the Inmates; The Owner Guilty of Criminal Neglect.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 4.—It was about 3 o'clock this morning before the firemen succeeded in subduing the fire in the Dickson, flat on Pennsylvania avenue and it was several hours more before they gave up the search for bodies. No more were found, and it is pretty certain that Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, the janitor and his wife were the only victims.

When the fire broke out there were forty occupants sleeping in the flat, but they were mostly men and all have been accounted for.

It was a terrible night for a fire, a strong, cold wind, filled with flakes of ice snow, was blowing from the west. When the firemen arrived, smoke was issuing from all the windows, and the tongues of flame shot occasionally from crevices in the roof. Half dressed forms of men shouting for help were seen at all the windows, but sight that filled the spectators with horror was a woman and two babes at a third story window. It was Mrs. G. W. Moore, the wife of the steward at the Hotel Anderson. Instantly ladders were run up and she was among the first rescued.

The top floor was occupied by sixteen persons, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin and four teen men, employees of the Hotel Anderson. At the first alarm, Irwin ran down the stairs which were filled with smoke, to alarm the occupants of the rooms. He went as far as the second floor, and then rushed back to assist his wife, when he returned to his room she was not there. Filled with anxiety for her welfare he began a search of the building. He dashed from room to room on the fourth floor, and not finding her, started for the third. It was there he discovered her. She was lying on the floor, overcome by the smoke he sought exhausted near the rear wall on the floor, and at the other end of the hall the wife for whom he died had perished. She had started down stairs but was suffocated before reaching the third floor. Her body was found on the third landing dead. Her body was covered with plaster, and in the darkness had been trampled over by the firemen long before discovered.

The building was a four-story brick. The first floor was used by Joseph Kimball & Co. as a drug store and the other three floors for sleeping apartments. The fire is supposed to have started in the basement from the heating boilers. There was no watchman and the flames had reached the fourth story before they were discovered. The loss was $10,000 which is fully covered by insurance. There were no fire escapes on the building.

Assistant Chief Conates said this morning that the fire escape committee had recently notified the owners to have the fire escapes constructed on the building as required by law. He contends that had the notice been obeyed there would have been no lives lost by the conflagration.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

Montreal Switchmen Plunge an Engine into the River.
MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 4.—The switchmen at the Grand Trunk station at Lachine station this morning mistook the Western express for a Lachine suburban train and switched it onto the wharf line. Before a mistake was discovered the engine of the express train had plunged into the river. The cars remained on the track with the exception of the baggage car, which hung suspended half way between the top of the wharf and the water, and Joseph Hires, the engineer, is missing and has undoubtedly been drowned. The fireman escaped by jumping into the water. No passengers were injured.

Advance in Rates.
CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The Western Passenger association has decided to advance the rate from Chicago to Pacific coast points Dec. 15 from $72.50 first class to $75 and from $47.50 to $50 second class. This action was taken in conformity with the demand of the Transcontinental association lines for increased proportions of the through rates.

Will be Amicably Settled.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 4.—The commission appointed by the Cherokee nation to negotiate with the United States government commission for the sale of the Cherokee outlet met yesterday and organized, and afterwards conferred with the government commission. A method of procedure was adopted and an adjournment was taken until tomorrow. The most friendly relations exist between the commissions, and a speedy and favorable termination of the negotiations is expected.

In Blank Vermont.
LYNDENVILLE, Vt., Dec. 4.—Fifteen inches of snow fell last night. Railroad traffic is somewhat impeded, all trains reaching here being from three to four hours late. The lumbermen will commence operations at once.

Here is Brotherly Love.
OCALA, Fla., Dec. 4.—At 12:20 p. m. the National Colored alliance in a body in the Convention hall. The visit was one of fraternal greetings and introduction speeches, one being made on both sides.

A PLEASANT JUNKET.

State Officials and Newspaper Men Eat Heartily at Grand Rapids.
GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., Dec. 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—A large party of state officials, railroad magnates and newspaper correspondents reached here at 1 p. m. on a special Duluth & Winnipeg train. The party was met at the depot by several prominent citizens who accompanied them to the end of the track on their tour of inspecting the Winnipeg line. Returning here the party sat down to an elegant spread of wild game, fish and oysters, the new hotel having today been leased to C. B. Waite, late manager of the Ryan at St. Paul.

IT IS TOO MUCH.

Catholic Ireland Can no Longer Tolerate Such a Man as Parnell for a Leader.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—All the Irish members at present in London were in at the meeting last evening. Mr. Parnell occupied the chair. After the meeting had been called to order, one of the members read the manifesto issued by the Catholic hierarchy in Ireland, declaring that in consequence of the revelations of the O'Shea divorce case, which convict Mr. Parnell of one of the gravest offences known to religion and society, Catholic Ireland cannot accept as a leader a man wholly discredited, and that the continuance of his leadership would imperil the cause of Ireland. The reading of the manifesto was greeted with cheering by Mr. Parnell's opponents.

SALISBURY'S ROAST.

He Pours Hot Shot into the Ranks of Anti-Parnellites.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Lord Salisbury, in his speech at Waterford, Lancashire, last night, asked what right Messrs. Healy and Sexton and others who were trying to overthrow Mr. Parnell to earth, had to pose as apostles of the republic. First they backed Parnell and then the severest commandment, changing from one horse to another with as much indifference and cynicism as a man hedging on a race course. He said that the severest thing detrimental to his favorite "When" said Lord Salisbury, "the enthusiasm of the Healyites is disintegrated, it is worthy of the highest applause that it is merely a screen for political maneuvering it is worthy of the deepest condemnation." Lord Salisbury proceeded to denounce the Gladstonians for offering the chief secretaryship for Ireland to Parnell while the foulest things were alleged of him and a divorce case pending.

A STORMY SCENE.

A Regular Killikenny Affair at Kansas City Last Evening.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 4.—The committee of Irish-Americans which has in charge the arrangements for the coming of the Irish envoys met last evening. The session was a stormy one. Messrs. Dillon, O'Brien and others were censured for signing the manifesto declaring confidence in Parnell. Father Dalton, the chairman, ruled the resolution of censure out of order. Then followed a wild scene, in which several members tried to talk at once. Finally, Father Dalton restored order, and arrangements were made for a demonstration on the arrival of the Irish parliamentary leaders. A meeting of Mr. Parnell's supporters will be held tomorrow night.

Anti-Parnellites Victorious.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—A London special says that Mr. O'Brien's compromise resolution was rejected at the Irish parliamentary meeting today. This is an anti-Parnellite victory.

A King Buried.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 4.—The body of the late King of Holland was interred at Delft today with impressive ceremonies.

District Court Notes.

Alice L. Lindner, as administratrix of C. P. Lindner's estate, has commenced an action against O. L. Young and Jennie W. Young to determine the holding of certain half interest in three lots on St. Louis avenue, Lower Duluth. Judge Ensign has sent in an order in the matter of the estate of E. J. Richvine, insolvent, directing the assignee to distribute the funds in his hands without any reference to the alleged claim of John Lesh.

Judgment of the plaintiffs in the case of the Wells-Stone & Lementie company vs. Holland & Thompson company et al. has been ordered by Judge Ensign. An order to the sheriff to satisfy a judgment of $1753.11 in the case of John Fraser vs. Robert Osborn has been entered, a one-third interest in certain lots has been seized in pursuance of the order.

A satisfaction of judgment in F. W. Smith vs. H. W. Pearson, as receiver of the Iron Range Lumber company, amounting to $3400.58, has been filed.

Judge Mills has finally filed his "conclusions of law" in Olaf P. Stenson vs. Frederick Prentice. He finds judgment for the plaintiff and vests him with full title to several lots in dispute. The plaintiff pays the costs.

Merrick, Thompson & Macauley have sued Lydick Bros. to recover $204.22 for goods etc. delivered.

Frank W. Higgins has brought suit against Laura Shelby Blood et al. and "all persons claiming an interest in the NW 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of 22-50-14." The object is to compel a partitioning of the said property in order to set at rest the question of the title.

ARMS WILL BE ISSUED.

The Senate Passes the Joint Resolution.

SENATOR VOORHEES OBJECTS TO IT.

He Has Assurances From Gen. Foster That the Sioux Are Simply Starving.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Among the numerous petitions presented and referred in the senate today was one by Mr. Hiscock from bankers, importers and merchants of New York city, asking for an extension of time for the withdrawal of goods from bond under the former tariff rates. Among the bills introduced and referred, was one by Mr. Paddock for a permanent tariff commission, also one by Mr. Stewart for the free and unlimited use of silver as money. The joint resolution reported yesterday by Mr. Hawley to issue arms to the states of North and South Dakota and Nebraska was taken up. Mr. Hawley said that if anything was to be done in the matter it should be done quickly. He hoped that if possible any elaborate discussion of the Indian question would be postponed.

Mr. Voorhees said that he did not want to delay the passage of the joint resolution, but after what had transpired yesterday he thought it due not only to himself but to Gen. Miles, as well as to the country, to submit some matter which has since come to his hands, and that was an interview with ex-Governor Foster of Ohio, published in The Cincinnati Inquirer. All the senators were acquainted with Mr. Foster, who had recently served on an important Indian commission and his views ought to have, and doubtless would have, great weight.

Mr. Foster said in that interview: "In my opinion, the difficulties might be easily avoided. The whole matter has been brought about by a combination of policy and of the inconsistency of some officials. The Sioux are starving. Give the Sioux plenty to eat and there will be no further trouble." After a long discussion the joint resolution to issue arms to the states of North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska was passed, and then, at 2 o'clock, the election bill was taken up and Mr. Pugh addressed the senate in opposition to it.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The unfinished business in the house this morning was the bill for the punishment of every guardian, conservator, curator, committee, tutor or other judiciary agent for the administration of the pensions of a ward.

A COLD SNAP.

It Extends as Far South as Alabama and Georgia.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—12 o'clock.—The United States signal office furnishes the following special weather report bulletin to the press: Unusually cold weather prevails this morning over nearly the entire country east of the Rocky mountains the line of freezing temperature extending as far South as southern North Carolina and including the northern portion of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. A fall of 20° to 30° in the past twenty-four hours occurred through the region extending from West Virginia southwestward to southern Alabama and Mississippi and the temperature in Wisconsin, southern Illinois and the northeastern Iowa is more than 20° below the normal for the season.

It will probably be still colder tomorrow morning in the South Atlantic and Middle states and New England, but the existing low temperature condition east of the Mississippi is not likely to be of long continuance, as the storm central this morning in western Nebraska will in its movement eastward cause warmer weather.

NEW PENSION VOTES.

Senator Quay Would Pay Good Pensions to the Disabled.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Senator Quay yesterday introduced a bill granting to all persons whose names are now on the pension list, or may be hereafter placed on, who have lost both eyes or both feet, or who are otherwise totally disabled, a pension of $100 a month; also to all persons who have lost an arm at the hip joint or a leg at the hip joint, a pension of $50 a month; and to those who have lost an arm below the elbow or a leg below the knee $35 a month. Those who have lost a hand or a foot or have been totally disabled in the same are to be entitled to $50 a month.

The bill provides further that persons who have contracted two or more disabilities shall receive a sum per month equal to the total of the rates for all of the disabilities mentioned.

VALUABLE DATA.

An Interesting Addition to the Congressional Directory.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Clerk Michael of the senate committee on printing has just prepared a supplement to the congressional directory, giving correct maps of the states, showing the boundaries of congressional districts and counties, giving the population of states by counties according to the recent census, and the total population of states as shown by the census of 1880 and of 1890. The supplement contains in addition to other valuable information, the apportionment law of 1880 and a list of titles of all congressional references to representation in congress.

Retains His Job.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The President has re-appointed Joseph T. Jacobs of Ann Arbor, Mich., a member of the board of Indian commissioners.

Everything Not Lovely.

RIO JANEIRO, Dec. 4.—Notwithstanding that the difficulty between the president and the ministers regarding the punishment of the officers who wrecked the offices of The Tribuna has been satisfactorily settled, the city is agitated. The newspapers demand that the government give guardians securing the liberty of the press. Troops are patrolling the streets for the purpose of preserving order.

CUNNING INDIANS.

They Seemed to Have Learned a Thing or Two About Modern Modes of Warfare.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 4.—The Bee has the following from its special correspondent at Pine Ridge Agency, S. D., via Rushville, Neb.: "The hostile Indians are making use of every moment's delay on the part of the military to move on them, by strengthening their now almost impregnable camp in the dreaded Bad Lands. The 500 or 600 squaws with them are working day and night digging rifle pits about the camp.

This is something very unusual if not wholly unprecedented on the part of the Indians preparing for war. The reason for this move is, our scouts say, more to insure the protection of the immense quantities of stolen beef and provisions in the camp than to insure a greater slaughter of soldiers.

The moment that these supplies are captured by the military, that moment the Indians must surrender, unless their thirst for blood is so intense as to lead them to fight until they are downed, either by starvation or by United States bullets. At best, whether the military can capture the bulk of the hostile supplies or not, the Indians have undoubtedly secured small quantities, sufficient in the aggregate to run them for at least eight or ten weeks.

Agent Royer fulfilled his promise to reward the friendlies who continue staying in the vicinity of the agency, and has made a special issue of provisions. More than 500 squaws presented themselves at the storehouse yesterday and went away loaded down with food. There was not a male Indian in the throng.

It is rumored that Two Strike, the chief under whom the hostiles are marshalled, is wheeling around within shooting distance of the agency for the purpose of getting additional pointers on the military.

LAWS FOR LO.

The Ponca Indian Commission Demand That Priceless Goods Be Returned.

OMAHA, Dec. 4.—At a meeting last night of the Ponca Indian commission, held in this city to consider the troubles among the Sioux Indians the following resolution was adopted:

"We believe that the only remedy for the Indian troubles on our reservation is the establishment of a government of law on these portions of our national domain and would respectfully call upon patriotic citizens East and West to take this position and uphold by voice, vote and influence this proposition to extend to the Indian the cheap but priceless benefits of just and equitable laws."

STORIES OF SUFFERING.

The People of Western Nebraska are in Need of Assistance.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 4.—The commission appointed by Governor Thayer to devise means for relieving the suffering due to the shortage of crops in Nebraska, has submitted a report showing an almost total failure of crops in twelve counties and that 10,000 families are in need of assistance. The governor discourages appeals to outside states lest it injure the credit of the state, but promises relief when the legislature meets.

In Frontier county there are 8000 people and a large portion of them are becoming desperate. Wheat only yielded one or at least two bushels to the acre. There are no vegetables. All the available stock has been disposed of and that remaining is being killed. The animals are too small and poor to furnish much food. Being a new country, the people are mostly in debt.

The committee says that the destruction is greater than that caused by the Johnstown flood or the Chicago fire. Practically the same story comes from Canadian county, Oklahoma.

Mizner's Successor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A special from Washington says that the President and Secretary Blaine are seriously considering the appointment of Congressman Morrow of California, as minister to Guatemala in place of Lansing B. Mizner, recalled.

Fatal Explosion.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4.—By an explosion in a tank in the Chemical works in the eastern part of the city this morning three men were fatally injured and two slightly. The tank was 24 by 7 feet, 3 feet deep and was used for making yellow prussiate. No one knows how the explosion was caused.

Kalakaia is Here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 4.—The United States steamer Charleston with King Kalakaia of Hawaii on board, entered the harbor at 11 o'clock this morning.

OUR BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

Report of the Health Department for November.

A SLIGHT INCREASE IN THE DEATH RATE.

Although There Were Forty-One Cases of Typhoid Fever Only Four Deaths Resulted.

The report of the health department for the month of November was completed today. There were thirty deaths during the month resulting from the following causes: One each from enteritis, meningitis, gastro enteritis, purpura hemorrhagica, heart failure, enteritis, measles, hydrocephalus, softening of the brain and cerebral hemorrhage, 2 each from infantile convulsions, cancer of the uterus and incontinence, 4 from typhoid fever, 6 from tuberculosis and 4 deaths were accidental.

Of those who died 10 were under 1 year of age, 1 was between 10 and 20 years, 12 were between 20 and 40 and 7 were between 40 and 60. Nine were born in Duluth, 1 in Minnesota, outside of Duluth, 5 in other states and 15 in foreign countries. Twenty-three were males and 7 females; 23 were single, 6 married and one widowed.

The annual death rate per 1000 for the month was 9, quite an increase over the preceding month. For the same month in 1889 there were 20 deaths and 60 births.

There was during the month 1 case of scarlet fever but no deaths; 41 cases of typhoid fever and 4 deaths; 4 cases of measles and 1 death.

There were 67 births, of which 31 were males and 36 females and 1 illegitimate.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

The Building at 622 and 624 West Superior street Partially Burned.

The double frame store and tenement at Nos. 622 and 624 West Superior street was partially destroyed by fire last evening. The fire started in the picture frame establishment of Myers & Krutz, who had a new stock of goods and will lose about $2000. They held but little insurance. The upper story was occupied by Dr. Brunet, who will lose about $1000 on household effects. John E. Ennis, the contractor who had an office on the ground floor and lived in one of the tenements, suffered considerable loss by smoke and water. He had no insurance.

The Duluth Trunk factory, which occupied No. 622 and the entire basement for a workshop, will be damaged to the extent of nearly $2000, which is covered by insurance. The building was owned by John A. Willard of Mankato. The loss on the building will be about $1200, making a total loss of about $7000.

"Ole Olson."

"Ole Olson," the great Swedish character actor, opens an engagement at the Temple tomorrow evening. This is the original tour of this kind of drama, another of the kind now being arranged under the management of Jake Litt, who will produce "Ole Olson." "Ole Olson" is a very laughable piece, a comedy success of two years. The company is said to be an excellent one. The advance sale has been large.

MEET TODAY.

Several Organizations in Session; Salvation Army, Fish Commission, Alliance, Etc.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The great western council of the Salvation Army ends today. The staff officers, to the number of 400, are in secret session at Englewood for the purpose of considering a proposal to change the style of uniform. One of the results of the council will be a great revival of Salvation Army work throughout the western and northwestern states, and its operations will be carried into many cities and towns which have hitherto been neglected. A large number of exhorters will be brought from the eastern states and nothing will be left undone to fire the western territory with religious zeal and enthusiasm.

For a Fish Exhibit.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 4.—The special committee of the state fish commissioners of the United States, is in session here today for the purpose of preparing a statement of the needs of the United States and of the various fish commissions in order that an appropriate fish exhibit might be one of the features of the World's fair. Several plans have been proposed. It is now thought that an aquarium exhibit of all the states, each exhibit retaining the identity of its state, will be the most economical and satisfactory plan. Today's meeting will therefore work on this basis and also decide upon the amount of the appropriation to carry out the exhibit.

National Colored Alliance.

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 4.—The annual convention of the National Colored alliance opened last night and was resumed this morning. The Rev. R. N. Humphrey, a white Baptist preacher of Houston, is presiding. The alliance claims 1,000,000 members, covering twenty-two states. It has cordial relations with the National Farmers' alliance now in session here, and will be guided in its action, very largely, by the outcome of its deliberations. President Humphrey says that the formation of the colored alliance will solve the race question, as the white Farmer's alliance has solved the sectional question.

Lake Propeller Stranded.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Word has been received that the propeller Van Raalte was on the rocks near Kenosha. A tug left for the scene at midnight. The Van Raalte is owned by W. A. Snyder of Grand Haven and is valued at $8000.

Effective Medicine.

Minneapolis Tribune: The only way out of an Indian war once begun is to fight it out, and one good way to prevent an immediate resumption of hostilities is to hang or shoot the braves chiefly responsible for the trouble. Gen. Sibley pursued that policy after the Sioux massacre in this state in 1862. As fast as he made prisoners he made good Indians of the worst of them by hanging as many as thirty in one day.

"Things Are Seldom What They Seem."

While the above is, in the main, true, still there is an exception to the general rule, as is the case in many instances. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Pink Pills, which are not only all they seem, but more. In torpid liver, indigestion, sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness and headache, the relief afforded by their use is wonderful.

The Mackinaw Towed Through Welland Canal in Two Pieces and Reunited at Montreal.

Mr. Holmes so well pleased with his service that he has contracted for the steamer at Bay City, to be likewise brought through the Welland canal, to engage in trade on the Atlantic coast. The vessel is designed for a coal trade, but is very commodious and up and finished in birch and oak. The cabin is commodious and the twelve staterooms are neatly arranged. She is to be a very staunch vessel in service, and will be engaged between Cape Breton and New York. The Government has already attracted the attention of the navy department, and possibilities of the new era in shipping are considered very great by the experienced naval architects in the city.

Tragic Romance.—Maurice, Dec. 4.—Monsieur Roque, the lover of the Countess Wies, the wealthy society lady of Ain-Fozza in Algeria, who attempted to murder her husband, a high public functionary, by a system of slow poison, has committed suicide in prison. It now develops that the Countess Wies had been an accomplice in the crime, was arrested and lodged in jail at the request of the French ambassador. He was left alone for a short time and availed himself of the opportunity to blow out his brains with a revolver. Meanwhile, the wife is dying of the love and the husband who was to have been the victim, has nearly entirely recovered.

MR. BLAINE'S STATEMENT.

In a hearing before the treasury department Mr. Blaine makes a strong statement of the administration position on Canadian relations. He appeared avowedly as an American citizen, and was careful to disclaim any appearance in his official capacity, but for all that his declaration has in effect the force of a diplomatic utterance. He emphasized two points, first, that the administration is not opposed to reciprocity on the basis proposed by the Canadian railways, but that it is of the opinion that under the existing system the Canadian railroads receive from the United States very much more than the American railroads receive from the Dominion government. Second, that there is no reciprocity between the two countries on the fishery question, and that in this particular the Dominion government does not extend to American fishermen the same favorable terms that are granted to Canadian fishermen in American ports.

This will generally be received as an indication that the administration means to press, at the first fitting opportunity, a better adjustment of these vexed questions. If the British government or the Dominion does not meet the move half way, there will be no more dallying. Resolutions will be introduced in congress at once affirming the American position and providing for its maintenance by discriminating legislation against Canada. What the outcome of these strained relations will be, nobody can foresee, but the resolve of the administration to bring the issues to a head is obvious. The present unsatisfactory condition of things cannot be suffered to hang any longer. One of two parties must act and if Canada will not, the United States must go ahead alone.

Senator Cullom introduces a bill for penny postage, and we believe the time has come to put it through. The postmaster-general, who may be presumed to have given the effect of such a measure more careful and expert consideration than anybody else, is strongly in favor of it, and the public at large will certainly welcome it. The nation can well afford to bear any possible deficit for the sake of the certain advantages of penny postage.

Dr. Koch, in striving to be a philanthropist has become a martyr. Rival physicians have opened on him their batteries of abuse, and are doing their utmost to belittle him. The favorable opportunity has been seized by quacks who are advertising to treat patients with lymph—that is bogus. Back of it are all the thousands on thousands of pale-faced consumptives eagerly awaiting the heralded remedy that means salvation to them. The spectacle is pitiful, its faith born of greed. The anxiety of consumptives is natural; they have a large stake in the matter and should receive all possible sympathy and attention; but the rest, with its detraction, its envy and its mercenary cravings is miserable. In the present case the opinion of even the wisest and most unprejudiced physician is of no account, unless he have experience of the thing of which he speaks. It is not a subject of opinion or of argument, but is a plain matter of fact. Dr. Koch either has or has not made a discovery of inestimable value to humanity. Time alone can tell, but the exalted reputation of the discoverer and the weight of evidence already presented count heavily in his favor.

Reapportionment of the present representation will unquestionably be pressed in congress, this season, and notwithstanding the certain democratic opposition, it should be carried through. Opposition to it will be purely partisan and dictated simply by the wish to give the democratic majority in the next house control of the measure, with power to perpetuate existing irregularities and injustices of representation. The states of the West demand, as they have a clear right to do, the fair recognition of the large increase of population within the last decade, and a corresponding allotment both in congress and the electoral college. Whether it will be decided to increase the present number of representatives is uncertain, but in spite of the familiar objections to an increase of the total membership, the strong set of the older states against any reduction of their representation will probably turn the balance in favor of some extension of membership at least. The superintendent of the tenth census, Francis A. Walker, is emphatically in favor of a determination, at the outset, of the final number of representatives, and using this number as a divisor in obtaining the ratio of representatives to population. This is clearly the logical method, but personal or presumed state interest may be held above logic, and the cart may be put before the horse through a long wrangle.

The practically unanimous set of the press of this country is against the course of Parnell, and the organs of liberal opinion in England are of like accord. Can Ireland afford to disregard the friendly public opinion of all her allies? His forlorn hope, amid distraction at home and revolts abroad, has something great in its temerity, but like the charge at Balaklava, it is not war. The world is called on to believe that Gladstone, Morley and the loyal liberals of England are humbugging or traitorous. There may well be difference of opinion on points of expediency or methods of advance, but the pretence of treason is preposterous.

THE BROOK BENEATH THE SNOW.

[S. W. Foss in Yankee Blade.]
Way down in dad's old meadow, where the pussy willows grow,
I used to go an' listen to the brook beneath the snow.
Above I heard the roarin' 'win' an' saw the snow gust whirl;
But the brook beneath the snow an' ice danced, sluggin' like a girl.

I'd put my ear down to the ice, I didn't min' the cold,
An' w'en I heard its music, there wuz summer in my soul!
An' w'en I had linked me, an' my heart 'ud bile an' overflow,
I would go an' hear the music of the brook beneath the snow.

An' then my soul 'ud change to shouts, an' sorrow change to glee,
For it strewn along its music from the mountain to the sea.
An' I'd stretch my ear to hear it, an' my heart 'ud swell an' glow, W'en I listened to the music of the brook beneath the snow.

Since then the wintry blasts of life have blown me here an' there,
An' snowstorms they have blocked my way an' hidged me everywhere;
But sheltered from the hazy haze, within the valley low,
I listen for the music of the brook beneath the snow.

For I know beneath the snow an' ice that there's golden sand,
By that glorious streak of melody that wiggles through the land;
The storm beats hard; the wind is high; I cannot hear it blow,
For I listen to the music of the brook beneath the snow.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A dozen strong young men applied at the Essex Market police court, New York, the other day to be sent to prison. They were without homes and had no employment. They were placed in care of the commissioner of charities and corrections.

While a man at Renovo, Pa., was felling a tree the other day, a bear, howling with rage, dropped out of a hole in the tree, and both the man and bear took to flight in opposite directions.

A wolf was released at Livingston, Ga., last week, and twenty-one hounds and a large number of men and boys started in pursuit. After running a little way the wolf stopped and whipped the whole pack of hounds.

A wealthy baroness who died recently in Vienna is believed to have destroyed securities worth 1,000,000 florins in order to deprive her step-children of their expected inheritance. After her death no money could be found, and her maid testified that she had seen the baroness burning share certificates by the hand-fall.

Dr. Julian J. Chisholm of Baltimore by inspecting the Babylonish cylinders in the British museum, has discovered that the street costume of a society woman who lived 2300 years before Christ was very similar to the costumes worn by the ladies of today, even to the tight fitting waist and sleeves and the accordion clinging skirt.

ON THE MESSAGE.

Minneapolis Tribune: As a writer of state papers Mr. Harrison is a model. He does not make Mr. Cleveland's mistake of considering himself the government and beginning every sentence with the pronoun I, nor does he, like Mr. Arthur, trip lightly over matters demanding extended discussion. He goes carefully into detail in reviewing the operations of each department of the government, yet his message does not greatly exceed in length the average of its predecessors in recent times. It has evidently been "edited."

Winnipeg Free Press: President Harrison may be the head of a great nation, but he is little more than a country corn-cob politician for all that. Much of his message to congress is devoted to a dispute with foreign newspapers as to the merits of the McKinley tariff legislation. A person occupying the proud position of President of the United States, in an official communication to the parliament of his country, should have a too proper sense of the dignity belonging to his office than to engage in a dispute of that kind.

Minneapolis Times: It is a voluminous document, but written in clear and forcible style, and contains much information of value to every citizen. It adheres closely to the policy and measures of the last session of congress, and for that reason is open to severe and just criticism, but it must be conceded that President Harrison has the gift of simplicity and vigor of statement. The features of the message are those that relate to silver coinage, the tariff bill and the Federal elections bill.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"The death of Ed Jordan the other day," said a well-known life insurance man to me yesterday, "is the first loss I've had and I have written two or three millions of life insurance in Duluth. He had $500 in our company and had paid one annual premium. I've already sent his family the cash. We life insurance 'bonds,' continued the friend, "meet lots of sad incidents. Now, a year ago I tried to insure a well-known man here for $10,000, he laughingly said he would go to my funeral, and indeed it looked so. A few days after he was taken sick and died of pneumonia. His family is in utter want. As a general thing it is nowadays unnecessary to tell a man of the duty of insurance for his family, he understands that fully, so the job of a life insurance agent is not so bad as of old. I am told by the companies that in no city in America, and for that matter, in the world, is there so large a percentage of the young men who are married and single, carrying life insurance as here in Duluth."

"It is a fact," said a fire insurance agent, "that the business of several of our old American insurance companies has been seriously affected by the rivalry of the foreign companies that have established branches here. Our own companies are safe and sound, but their foreign rivals are taking risks at rates far lower than those that have prevailed here, and capitalists find that they can make a more profitable use of their money than by investing it in insurance stock. But I believe that our leading American companies will hold their ground against all competition, and will continue to do a business advantageous to all concerned in them."

Not long ago at a little gathering of modish and wealthy men in the dressingroom of one of our most fashionable residences—the ladies and young people being down stairs dancing—one told how he earned his first dollar, and thereupon a dozen of the others gave their narratives in the same line. They all spoke with the utmost frankness, and some interesting revelations were made. One had earned his first dollar by sawing wood, another by peddling milk, another by the practice of law, another by stringing tobacco, another by the practice of medicine, and others by raising potatoes, by acting as treasurer of a fund, by working in a button factory, by reading to a blind man, by building fires in school, by picking wintergreen, by service aboard ship, by serving as a messenger boy, by cruising in the China seas, by piling cordwood, and so forth. All who gave these experiences are men who have got along very well in the world, and they were not in the least ashamed to give their stories.

The excitement over the threatened Indian uprising in the far West has extended across the ocean to Europe, and the interest aroused there by the somewhat brightly-colored reports called over was taken advantage of in an interesting and amusing way by a smart American engaged in the show business in England. This was Mexican Joe, a late escapee of Buffalo Bill, who some time ago started a Wild West show on his own account, and has been exhibiting in Liverpool for some time past with a band of cowboys and Indians. As the excitement died away the attendance at the exhibitions was not so satisfactory as could be desired, when the Indian scare came to the rescue. A couple of weeks ago Mexican Joe had Liverpool placarded with flaming posters headed in letters a foot long, "Blood on the Moon," which stated that the moon Saturday would positively be the last night of his exhibition, as he and his band had been ordered back to the United States to fight the hostile Indians. Crowds flocked to see the prospective heroes and doctores, and the week fairly boomed. On Saturday, as announced, the band broke camp and moved out, but their orders to proceed to the seat of war were evidently countermanded, for a few days later the show opened up again on the opposite outskirts of the city.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Amos, Shepherd: The Street Car company ought to make good thing out of its Fourth street line. Enough people come up to the court house each day to make it paying.

Capt. McDougall: The 107, with a hole in her bottom, withstood the worst storm on Lake Erie this season.

Church, School and State.

To the Editor of The Herald: Baptists have not altogether forgotten the hardships which they in an early day endured in consequence of an established religion, or quite renounced their first principles declaring for religious freedom and total separation of church and state. In the "Canadian Baptist" of Nov. 13, 1890, occurs the following:

"The Presbyterian synod for New York recently sent a deputation to the Baptist pastors' conference asking aid in the effort to secure compulsory teaching of the essential doctrines of the Christian religion and morals in the public schools. The pastors' conference adopted a report declining to accede to the request, and declaring that the state should have nothing to do with the teaching of religion, or doctrine. A Baptist conference could have made no other reply." If church and state are to be kept separate in this country, and religious freedom is to be enjoyed as the prospect here and hereafter, it should be, no other reply should be made to such requests. It is to be wondered if those who favor compulsory religious instruction in the public schools, will now class the Baptists, as they have done, with those who oppose the theory, with infidels, foreigners and thugs, and say they are enemies to God, the government, good religion and humanity. HONORS FOR OUR KITTEL.

Halvorsen is the First Prohibition Congressman.

MERIDEN, CONNECTICUT, CELEBRATES.

They Are Proud of Kittel and Propose to Banquet Him, But No Wine.

And yet the old line parties regret the election of Kittel Halvorsen! No one would have indulged in unfavorable comment, could the very splendid outcome of Mr. Halvorsen's election have been foreseen. The honorable gentleman from Stearns county is not alone the successful alliance candidate for congressmen; other and far more momentous principles are maintained and upheld by him. Kittel Halvorsen believes in prohibition. He does not look upon the offering champagne, and the red hue of wine has no charm for him. And in that Mr. Halvorsen is a prohibitionist and has been elected to congress, after having before, at several elections, lost a prohibition ticket, his election makes him the first prohibitionist ever chosen to take a seat in congress. Herein does Mr. Halvorsen do honor to himself and to the state.

Minnesota does not seem to have appreciated the tremendous fact that the recent election marked the greatest event in prohibition history, but even if Minnesotans do not there are those who rejoice over the event. "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country," and this is true in Mr. Halvorsen's case. Connecticut rejoices in Kittel Halvorsen's election, and on the evening of Dec. 12, at the city of Meriden, a banquet will be given in honor of the election of the first prohibition congressman, Hon. Kittel Halvorsen. All the prominent prohibitionists of New England are to be present, and addresses are to be made by several gentlemen of national reputation.

FROM THE WEST.

Interesting Notes About the Doings of the People of West Duluth and the West End.

At the Lachmund concert in the Methodist church last evening the fact was demonstrated that there are a large number of music-loving people in this village. The church was full, every seat being taken, and chimes had been brought in. The program was well selected, well executed and the audience highly pleased, and should Mr. Lachmund come again he would receive a warm welcome.

Several occupants moved into the Silvey building yesterday, among them two real estate firms, both of which made sales, showing that the time has come when first-class offices upstairs are desirable.

The health officer reports that there were twelve births in the village during November. Three boys and nine girls. Mrs. Michael Day died quite suddenly yesterday afternoon. She had made many friends here during her residence in the city, and they deeply sympathize with the young husband, the sisters and other members of the family.

L. J. Nygren, the jeweler, is having a severe attack of that now popular disease, the measles.

Landlord Stone of the Phillips is recovering and expects to be about his business in a few days.

J. H. Hackett and wife of Milwaukee arrived yesterday, and their household goods are expected in a day or two and they will go to housekeeping over the store vacated by Mr. Moles. Mr. Hackett has three car loads of hardware already here and more coming, and will stock the store with a full line of stoves and hardware.

M. O'Meara of Cloquet, is in town looking over the real estate and will invest. Lewis S. Kaatd a workman on one of the streets grades was quite badly injured this morning by the caving in of a sand bank.

WEST END.

The ladies of the Norwegian M. E. church will hold a grand festival and fair this evening. Good music, vocal and instrumental. A gold watch and an easy chair will be raffled off, and admission free.

Born, to Mrs. J. A. Anderson this morning, a daughter.

O. G. Kinney has returned from his trip to the Brule river.

M. C. Littleworth says the bank suspension does not affect the wood business, and that he has all the orders he can fill.

The ladies fair at the Vincent building closed last evening and proved very interesting and quite profitable, the net receipts being about $100.

James Wilkins has so far recovered from his run of fever that he is out and about ready for business.

Mrs. K. B. Oleson has moved from Normanna hall to 1705 Superior street, where she is showing some very fine specimens of work in needlework and also house decorating painting.

The question is not home or foreign missions, but one of foreign missions that will transform into home missions. Fifty dollars will now support a native Christian minister in China for one year. Just support a native Christian at work among his own people in this way and you will do more good than if you went as a foreign missionary yourself. The Mission brigade of Rice Point Presbyterian church are trying to raise $50 for that purpose. They give a good entertainment tomorrow, Friday, evening, dressing in costume and providing refreshments.

BETTER THAN EXPECTED.

The Bell & Eyster Bank Found to be in Broke.

The closed Bell & Eyster's bank has been found by those who have been examining into the condition of the institution to be in a better state than many other banks doing business in this country. The statement is not yet fully made out, but sufficient to show that the assets exceed the liabilities by over $400,000.

"The bank is in a much better condition than any of us supposed," said a gentleman interested. "The statement is near enough completed to show that there is a surplus above the indebtedness of $300,000. I think that there will be no difficulty in effecting a reorganization on a strong financial basis."

A New Trial Wanted.

A motion for a new trial in the case of John Moran vs. The Eastern Minnesota Railway company was argued before Judge Stearns in chambers this morning. This case was tried at the last term of court and resulted in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $12,000, one of the largest verdicts in a personal damage case ever secured in the state. The motion is made on the grounds of excessive verdict. J. D. Spencer appeared for the company and O. W. Baldwin for St. Cloud, for the plaintiff.

Knights of the Macabees.

A tent of the Knights of the Macabees was organized last evening with twenty-six charter members in the hall over Epping Bros' grocery store, by Deputy Commander J. K. Smith of Port Huron. This is the first branch of this order to be organized in this state. The order is an endowment organization and is similar to the Royal Arcanum and A. O. U. W. The next meeting will be held at the same place next Wednesday evening when officers will be elected.

Seems to be Ignored.

The report made by a Philadelphia slate expert seems to have been set aside as worthless. Some time ago a slate man from the Quaker city came up here at the instance of the water power company, and for two weeks made examinations of the slate formation of the St. Louis river. He pronounced them worthless, except for brick making, as the slate had been subjected to too much heat by nature. Specimens brought by Explorer Scott and presented to the Chamber of Commerce have a perfect cleavage, and is slate of unusually fine quality.

DETECTIVES BAFFLED.

A Mysterious Diamond Robbery at Kansas City.

SPARKS WORTH $10,000 TAKEN.

They Were in a Safe Deposit Box Which Was Locked With Two Keys.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 4.—Detectives are at work on the most extensive, as it is mysterious, diamond robbery ever perpetrated in this section.

The diamonds were the property of Mrs. Kirk B. Armour, and when stolen were in a private box in the vaults of a safe deposit company, where they had been stored. They consisted of ear rings, rings and other articles of jewelry, and were worth fully $10,000. As soon as the robbery was detected, a list of the diamonds was made out and detectives were employed to locate them, but the shrewdest of detectives were baffled in their search for a clue and so far as can be learned, not the slightest headway towards the recovery of the jewelry has been made.

The detectives are puzzled to know how the jewelry was transported from the tin box. As it is well known, two keys are required to open the box, each fitting in separate keyholes, one of the keys is held by the deposit company and the other by the party renting the box, and neither can open the lock unless the other is present.

INDIANA FORESTS.

Something Should be Done to Protect the Forests.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 4.—The horticulturists of Indiana are holding a very interesting meeting here. Prof. T. H. Fernow, of Washington, chief of the forestry bureau, yesterday discussed the forests of Indiana. He said that Indiana, once heavily wooded, has in fifty years lost so much timber that only 20 per cent of it is now covered with woods. Over 200,000 acres are waste lands, fit only for the growth of trees.

Prof. Fernow suggested that the secretary should appoint a committee to study and report on the forest condition of the state and its need in development of the natural wood lands remaining and improving the forest condition through out the open country with a view to climatic amelioration and future supplies.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

The Aged Mother of Senator Turpie Buried to Death.

DUBLIN, Ind., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Mary Turpie, over 90 years old, mother of the Hon. David S. Turpie, senator from Indiana, met with a horrible death at her home, near this city, yesterday. She had been living for the past three years with her son, Robert Turpie. Yesterday he stepped out to transact some business with a neighbor, leaving her alone in the sitting-room of the house, in which an open fire burned.

He returned within half an hour and found his aged mother lying dead near the fireplace with nearly all of her clothing burned and her body frightfully disfigured by the flames.

Arranging a Pool.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Whether or not a pool shall be formed on the competitive passenger traffic between Chicago and St. Paul and other Northwestern points, will be decided at the meeting of managers of Northwestern roads which is in progress today in the Rookery building. A special committee presented a report favoring a division of the passenger business on a per centage basis, the per centage to be agreed upon later. In regard to the block of 4000 outstanding tickets issued by the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City road, the committee suggests that they be made good over such lines as will accept them, on the basis of the price at which they were originally sold.

The Fatal Dog.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The British Medical association has printed in pamphlet form an address delivered recently to the students at the government hospital at Vienna, by Professor Nothnagel, which points out that people who keep lap dogs as pets are running considerable risk. The professor says that one of his patients, a lady of great wealth, recently died from a disease of the liver caused by cysticercus. This disease is rapidly increasing and is spread by the small lap dogs. Numerous fatal cases have lately occurred in Königsberg and Vienna, the victims in each case being ladies of the upper classes who kept lap dogs as pets.

Causes Comment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The announcement in the President's message that Minister Mizner of Guatemala has been recalled as the result of his action in bringing about the surrender of Gen. Barrundia to the Guatemalan authorities has created considerable comment in diplomatic circles. The most surprising thing is that, although the recall was announced several weeks ago, the state department managed to keep the fact a profound secret until the President himself announced it in his message.

A Secret Session.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—A secret session of the board of directors of the United National Building & Loan Association of the United States was held yesterday. It is known that the board adopted a plan of organizing district unions subordinate to the National and to co-operate with it. Among those present were Hans Mattson, W. G. Byron and J. B. Butin, Minneapolis; John Douglas, St. Paul; Owen Scott, Bloomington; E. A. Walton, Geneva, N. Y.; E. H. Paramore, Huntsville, Ala.; and T. B. Modica, Chicago.

Canada's Militia Commander.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 4.—Maj. Gen. Herbert, the new commander of Canadian militia succeeding Gen. Middleton, arrived here yesterday. The new commander's experience in Russia will be invaluable in Canada where the climatic conditions of military life are so similar. Gen. Herbert is a fine, military looking man of tall, commanding appearance.

The Anderson Annex Burned.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 4.—Fire at midnight burned the building at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Ninth street. There were about forty occupants in the building, two of whom—Mr. Irwin, the janitor, and his wife—were burned to death. The fire caught in the basement and ascended the flues of the heater. The building was occupied by employees of Hotel Anderson, of whom there were sixteen in the building. Loss, $25,000; insurance not known. Three women have so far been taken out dead.

Hugged to Death.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Dec. 4.—The trial of Henry Henzel for the murder of his wife, last August, is in progress. He pleads not guilty, but District Attorney Martin has a confession which Henzel made to him in which he says his wife died while he had his arm about her neck in an attempt to prevent her from leaving him.

Deserves Congratulations.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Commenting on the passage of the copyright bill of the house of representatives, The News congratulates America on having taken a great forward step in international honesty and justice.

Surgeon Gen. Baxter Dead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Dr. Jedediah H. Baxter, surgeon-general of the army, who was stricken with paralysis last Monday, died at 2 o'clock this morning. He never regained consciousness after the attack, save for an instant on Tuesday.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The body of Byron Comes has been forwarded to his former home in Vermillion, S. D. Comes was killed recently in Kansas City in the Chicago & Alton yards, being run over by a passing engine. It is said that he was allowed to lie on the track seven hours after the accident, two railroad companies interested refusing to touch the body for fear of being held responsible.

Thomas Hudson was seen open yesterday at Ireland, Ind., by getting in the way of a circular saw in a steam wood mill. Five ribs were severed and the abdominal cavity opened. He is still alive.

Last evening in Chickering hall, New York, Henry M. Stanley told the story of the rear guard for the first time in public. He detailed the horror of the incident, exonerating the innocent and accusing the guilty. Bartelot, he said, came to him highly recommended, and it was no wonder that implicit confidence was placed in him.

It is said that South Dakota will lose 100,000 acres of school lands by a legal technicality. The mistake was made at the time of the formation of statehood. The Rittenhouse manufactory of Passaic, N. J., failed yesterday with liabilities of about $800,000. The assets are said to be about $200,000 less.

A sawmill boiler at Berwick, Pa., exploded yesterday killing four employees. Senator Carlisle has received two drafts cashed in the City of Mexico, forged by someone representing himself to be John G. Carlisle, Jr., his son. John G. Carlisle, Jr., proper, is a grandson of the senator and only 2 years old.

Two fishing schooners are said to have been capsized in the Bay of Fundy, going down with all on board. Wrecks have been washed ashore but no bodies have been discovered.

The Austrian government is much disturbed over the discovery that fifty plans of fortifications of the Cracow have been stolen. It is feared that they will dispose of them to Russia.

What Krause's Headache Capsules Are. These capsules were prescribed long before the days of antipyrine which, as is well known, has a depressing influence on the heart and causes a derangement of the kidneys. No drugist should advise or recommend the use of antipyrine any more than chloral, morphine, etc., unless under the directions of a physician. Every box sold on a positive guarantee. For sale by all leading druggists, 25 cents a box.

Wanted—A Change.

Old King Solomon said: "There is nothing new under the sun." Probably he made the remark in a fit of disgust after vainly endeavoring to quiet some hair-pulling discussion among the thousand ladies who each claimed a share in him as a husband. At any rate the mind of man is so constituted as to desire change, variety, something new. The world is built on that plan, too. No two mountains are just alike. No two faces in all the world's millions are exactly similar. Shakespeare said of one of his characters: "Age cannot wither or custom stale his infinite variety." No man likes to have, or should have, his life always bounded between four walls. We all like to have a change of scene now and then to see new faces, to travel to far countries. The United States has a greater variety of climate and scenery within its borders than any of the Old World states. About now is a good time to plan a journey to the South—the land of delightful winter resorts. Low rates are made for excursionists, and "The Burlington" is the route par excellence to all points South. For tickets and information call on any of its agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

A Thoughtful Person.

Consults his best interests by having a box of Krause's Headache Capsules at hand; taken as directed will prevent or stop any kind of a headache, no matter what the cause; in fact if your skull was cracked it would prevent pain. The frequency of the attacks will diminish, and by taking the capsules at the approach of a headache you will never have another. For sale by all leading druggists.

The Child of an Evil Parent.

Malvolio says in Shakespeare's Comedy of Twelfth Night "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." So it is with nervousness. Some are born nervous, some achieve nervousness by their own imprudence and neglect, and some have nervousness thrust upon them by this ailment, which grows rapidly and assumes alarming proportions when it reaches the stage of hypochondria and chronic sleeplessness, weakness, the child of indigestion, parent of many evils. For the incapacity of the stomach to digest food, and of the system to assimilate it after digestion. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has ever proved a sovereign remedy. Sleep becomes tranquil, appetite improves, abnormal sensitiveness of the nerves is succeeded by steadiness and vigor in those delicate tissues, bodily substances increase when that signal restoration of digestion is systematically used. Conquer also with it malaria, rheumatism, kidney inactivity, liver complaint and constipation.

We are binding "The Battles and Leaders of the Civil War" in Morocco with marble edges at $1.50 per vol. THE HERALD BINDERY.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. Interesting Notes About the Newly Organized Educational and Industrial Union.

Many questions are being asked of late with regard to the formation and objects of the new society called the Educational and Industrial Union. The union wishes to answer some of them if possible. It was formed, as most branches of any national organization have been, by ladies from outside, who had already become interested in the work. For the first step toward the accomplishment of any such object is for some one to have their heart in it. Three ladies from St. Paul, Mrs. H. P. Stetson, Miss Francis T. Weed and Mrs. E. R. Gilman came here last fall and, with the aid of two or three Duluth ladies, made an effort to form a branch of the E. and I. union in this city. For the time through a misunderstanding of the time or place, the well-advised call for a meeting of ladies for this purpose was poorly answered and the meeting was adjourned to be called again, this time successfully on Oct. 13. At this time the organization was formed and articles of incorporation adopted. A house was immediately secured and preparations for work begun.

The affairs of the union are managed by a board of nine directors which has authority to elect officers from among its number, fill vacancies in the board from those who may become members later and transact all necessary business. Four classes of members are provided for as follows: Ordinary, for the payment of $1; sustaining, $5; honorary, $10, and life, $25. At this time there are thirty-two members.

Union headquarters are at 211 East Superior street, where it has seven rooms, each conveniently furnished for its intended use—the office, which is also the office of a protective agency, an Employment bureau and the Humane society, with the superintendent, Miss Frances T. Weed in attendance during office hours, from 1:30 to 7 p. m.; the lunch room where women, alone or with their husbands may procure a good dinner for fifteen or twenty cents from 11:45 to 1:30 every day except Sunday. Evening classes are already being formed in reading, writing, geography, arithmetic, singing and sewing. Upstairs is a parlor for the use of ladies who wish a place to wait or rest and a room devoted to plain dressmaking and the sewing class. The object of the union is "to secure every blessing that can be obtained by women through educational and industrial means," and it extends cordial sympathy and offers of assistance to all societies with a similar object and asks and expects the same from them.

The Situation Unchanged in The Alabama Mines.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 4.—The situation among the miners is unchanged. About 3000 men are on a strike. A few men have returned to work. The indications point to an early settlement of difference.

It was rumored yesterday that as soon as the operators recognized the committee, work would be resumed. The miners say they are out for an advance and that the report is untrue. Some operators are arranging to fill the mines with negroes.

A Telegraph to the Brain

From the stomach is the great sympathetic nerve in the epigastrium. Let digestion become seriously disordered, and that disorder is sure to find a reflection in symptoms which react disadvantageously upon the organ of thought. Insomnia, nervousness, causeless depression and anxiety are all manifestations of dyspepsia. The best means of remedying and restoring tranquility to brain and stomach, and of regulating, it may be added, bilious secretion, is to take a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters before meals during the day and before retiring. This course begun, reform in the direction of complete bodily well-being has begun with it. Constipation, sick headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism and malarial complaints are among the troubles in which the Bitters is speedily and thoroughly beneficial. Don't delay, but take the sure course at once.

Nervousness, debility, poor memory, diffidence, sexual weakness, pimples cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. Samples free at Max Wirth's.

A very small boy
In a very big vest
May be looked at as something
Resembling a jest
And a very small boy
It must be confessed,
Makes a very big joke
In his big father's vest.
He doesn't look bad
In the vest of his dad,
And he's splendidly dressed
In his father's fine vest.

The cream of this entertaining little joke is that the father was judicious enough to buy his vest from M. S. Burrows. His vest wouldn't have had half so fine a point if he had purchased it anywhere else.

A SPLENDID SURPLUS.

Bell's Bank Officially Shows a Big Surplus

AND ITS SOLVENCY ASSURED.

Nearly $400,000 Over all the Debts;
The Detailed Statement Out Tomorrow.

The statement of Bell & Eyster's bank was officially footed this afternoon by the assignee, showing a surplus of $398,936.22. The statement is: Assets, $1,189,626.18; liabilities, $790,689.96.

The bank officials and Assignee Clinton Markell have been at work all day on these figures, and they will be used in the official detailed statement, which cannot appear before tomorrow.

The result of the investigation of the bank's finances is very gratifying, showing a surplus of less than $2000 less than The Herald's estimate of yesterday. This large amount of assets assures, it is generally believed, the formation of that new bank which was spoken of in this paper some days ago, with a capital of not less than $200,000 and probably $300,000.

TOO MUCH POLITICS.

Governor Delamater's Head-Office, Pa. Bank Goes Under Today.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—It is reported here that Delamater's bank at Meadville, Pa., has failed. Geo. W. Delamater, late republican candidate for governor, is president of the institution.

Beyond the facts stated no particulars are obtainable. Messrs. Hotchkiss and McClintock, assignees, took possession and are preparing a statement for the public. There is some excitement, although the suspension caused a profound sensation. The Delamaters have heretofore enjoyed the entire confidence of the business public and recent rumors concerning them have been treated as emanating from political rivals. They have the sympathy of the community and hopes are expressed that the suspension will be but temporary.

Talk of a New Damascus.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The influx of Syrians is so great that Syrian capitalists are talking of establishing a Syrian city in the United States. The plan for the enterprise has been partially prepared, and the name of New Damascus has been chosen. Some wealthy Syrian merchants of this city will take stock. The site has not been selected, but it probably will be either in Pennsylvania or California.

The Beauties of Compartment Cars.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—Another during railroad robbery has been committed in the south of France, but fortunately the perpetrator was taken into custody. The chief made an attack with a knife upon a passenger in one of the compartments in a coach, and after seizing upon his money and valuables, jumped from the train. The victim gave an alarm, the train was stopped and the robber was captured and turned over to the police. The affair occurred on the Lyons railroad.

Such Things Don't Happen Here.

LITTLETON, N. Y., Dec. 5.—John S. Clemons of Wayne county, Pa., was frozen to death on Monday night while driving from Honesdale to his home in Alden. His dead body was discovered stretched over the dashboard of his wagon, the next morning, by his brother-in-law, Albert Odell, with whom he lived.

Recognizes Brazil.

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—Germany has officially recognized the United States of Brazil.

Close Call for Phipps.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 5.—It is learned that some inmates of the state prison at Charlestown recently stabbed another convict named Phipps, who was believed to be an informer. Phipps was stabbed in the back, the knife penetrating to within an inch of the heart.

The Novelty Works.

Judge Eric Frankberg, secretary of the Novelty Printing Works company, is in the city looking over the new plant in the Marine addition which is rapidly approaching completion. The building is enclosed and the apparatus will be removed from Piquette Hall and ready for use by the first of the year.

A Fine Hotel.

The contract was let yesterday for a handsome three-story frame hotel to be built at once at St. Louis. The building will be located on the high ground near the water front and will cost $20,000. Contracts were also let for six new houses to cost $2000 each. A large force of men are at work grading the main street from the depot to the water front. The hotel will be located on this street.

A Good Investment.

Is that which yields large returns from a small outlay. Reader, the way is clear! No speculation, no chance, big returns! If you are like most of mankind you have somewhere a weakness—don't feel at all times just as you'd like to—head-ache today, backache tomorrow, down sick next week—all because your blood is out of order. A small outlay and what large return! You invest in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and soon pure, fresh blood courses through your veins, and you are another being!

The early bird will get the best in 48-16 at the lowest price.

Where Help is Needed.

St. Louis, Dec. 5.—Secretary Morgan of the Merchants exchange here has received an appeal for aid from the Ladies Aid society of Paxton, Keith county, Neb. In the appeal it is stated that last summer's drought caused a complete failure of crops in that county, and as a consequence, that the people are destitute. Clothing, boots and shoes and money are needed, and the ladies appeal to the country for aid to assist the settlers through the hard winter now at hand.

GOT A PLENTY.

While Your Gittin' Git a Plenty, so he stole $80,000 of Lumbermen's Funds.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 5.—The lumber district was in a ferment of excitement yesterday. It became noised about that one of the largest firms in the district, that of Henry W. Sage & Co., composed of Dean Sage and Wm. H. Sage, had been swindled out of between $80,000 and $100,000 by a trusted bookkeeper. Creditors of the firm who had suffered loss through the bookkeeper were on hand to secure his arrest and the case was given to the police. They failed to find their man.

Late in the afternoon the body of Joseph Abbott, the defaulting bookkeeper, was discovered in an unused room in the Windsor hotel. Beside it was a bottle of laudanum half emptied. Abbott was about 40 years old and had worked for the firm for many years. He received a salary of $5000 and commissions amounting to between $5000 and $10,000 yearly. He lived very extravagant and was noted for the lavish manner in which he threw money about. He is also reported to have lost heavily at the gaming table.

The discovery of his pecculations was made by Mr. Sage, who, in looking over the books found Charles S. Riley & Co. of Philadelphia indebted to his firm in the sum of $7000. He thought this remarkable and caused a statement to be sent to them. Word came back that the books should show a slight credit in favor of the Philadelphia firm rather than a debit.

An expert was put at work on the books, and he is still engaged in his task, so far, he finds that the statements extend over several years, and he estimates that they will not fall short of $80,000 in the aggregate.

SCARED SETTLERS.

Oklahoma Settlers Who Want Government Protection Against Threatening Indians.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 5.—Capt. Stiles, in command of the military forces at Oklahoma City, is besieged by inquiries as to what step will be taken by the authorities to protect the settlers at Frisco, a small village fifteen miles southwest of here, against an Indian uprising. The scare amounts to a general panic. Within a mile and a half of the village nearly 4000 Indians, country squaws and children, are encamped on the banks of the South Canadian. Many of them have on their war paint, and whose and yells can be heard day and night.

Mrs. Davis, a school teacher at Frisco, became alarmed for herself and came to this city with her children. She says the situation at Frisco is decidedly alarming. Settlers from the surrounding country are flocking into the village and guard is kept day and night. The only building in Frisco capable of resisting an attack by the Indians is a one-story house which had been fitted up as a garrison for women and children while the male population remain outside on guard. Gen. Merritt, in command of this department, has been appealed to for protection.

Deaths in England.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Peel, wife of Right Hon. Arthur Wellesley Peel, speaker of the house of commons, whose serious illness prevented Mr. Peel's attendance at the opening of the parliamentary session, died today. Hon. Sir Walter Huddleston, a justice of the queen's bench division of the high court of justice is dead. He was born in 1817.

Will Not Arbitrate.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 5.—At a meeting of the large coal operators of Alabama yesterday, a resolution was adopted positively declining to advance conference with the executive committee of the United Mine Workers of America. The miners are determined to continue the strike.

For a Brother Newspaper Man.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Herald this morning comes out in favor of Charles A. Dana, as successor to Mr. Evans in the senate.

A Lock-out Broken.

DANBURY, Conn., Dec. 5.—The lock-out of the trimmers, which has paralyzed the hating industry here for two weeks was broken last night. The conclusion has been achieved by concessions on both sides.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Chicago city council last evening passed the ordinance authorizing the issuance of $5,000,000 bonds for World's fair purposes.

It is reported that T. P. O'Connor the Irish envoy and member of parliament will make his permanent residence in New York.

Emin S. Branham of Lithuaniafield, Minn., accidentally shot himself yesterday. He lived but a few hours.

Emin Gets to Victoria.

ZANZIBAR, Dec. 5.—Emin Pasha, at the head of a German expedition, has arrived at Lake Victoria. The expedition had a number of fights with Arab slave traders, but it was successful in all the engagements.

FERTILE SOIL AT Ocala.

Farmer Politicians Blossom as the Rose in Florida.

DAYS DOINGS IN THE CAPITOL.

Proceedings in Congress; The Indian Question; Some Live Washing-ton Topics.

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 5.—S. C. Lever, one of the Kansas delegates introduced and passed a resolution in the national alliance convention, that the United States census returns with respect to farm mortgages was grossly incorrect and calling upon all county and sub-alliances in all states to take immediate steps toward securing more accurate statistics.

T. K. Carscaden of West Virginia, offered a resolution to the effect that the national farmers' alliance, believing that obedience and veneration for the laws of God is the conserving and saving force of human government, desire that the directors of the national fair of 1892 do not desecrate the American Sabbath by keeping open the gates of the same on the Lord's day. The resolution was unanimously passed.

National Secretary Turner submitted his annual report last night, but it is incomplete owing to the constant payment of sub-alliance dues during the session. During the past year 1069 new charters were issued to sub-alliances, as follows: West Virginia, 252; Colorado, 152; Indiana, 132; Michigan, 106; Virginia, 95; Illinois, 87; South Carolina, 83; Ohio, 61; Pennsylvania, 59; New Jersey, 39; Minnesota, 35; Iowa, 3; Oregon, 1; Oklahoma, 1. State charters have been issued to the following states: Indiana, Illinois, Colorado, Michigan, West Virginia, Oklahoma and North Dakota.

The feeling over the passage of the anti-election bill resolution on Wednesday was high and there is strong pressure for the introduction of a resolution to expunge it from the records of the alliance. Great interest is also manifested as to the probable action of the colored alliance today upon a resolution offered yesterday condemning the white alliance action as to the election bill. Some predict that it will be buried in committee, but the republicans say that it will pass that body with practically a unanimous vote. The third party movement is gaining ground rapidly.

Some question having been raised as to the endorsement of the St. Louis platform by the national alliance last year, Mr. Livingstone of Georgia moved its adoption. Some debate followed, but the motion was adopted with an amendment as to demand government control of railroads and telegraph lines, and if this shall not result in relief to the masses and in checking recurring existing evils, the government shall become the actual owner of such lines. This platform does not include the sub-treasury bill.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The President today sent to the senate the following nominations: Romaldo Pacheco, minister to the Central American states; William Monaghan, of Ohio, to be consul of Malaga, collector of customs; Sherman A. Johnson, of Georgetown, D. C.; Alexander R. Fithian, of Bridgeton, N. J.; surveyor of customs, Walter Johnson, Rock Island, Ill., and Frederick Walter Harris, special examiner at San Francisco.

In the house Mr. Cutcheon, Michigan, called up the senate amendment authorizing the secretary of war to issue 1000 of arms to each of the states of North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska. Mr. Holman of Indiana, while not opposing the resolution, expressed his belief that there was no strong ground for apprehension of serious Indian troubles, but he believed that the Indians were not being well treated. He believed that the charges made that rations were not being properly supplied was well founded. He had entire confidence in the present commission in the affairs but he believed that the trouble which exists was the result of the neglect, if nothing more, of some persons connected with the Indian service. On motion of Mr. Carter, Montana was included in the provisions of the joint resolution which was then passed.

Enforcing the Interstate Law.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The federal grand jury returned indictments against John Megan, president and general manager of Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railroad, for giving a rebate to A. C. Davis & Co.; against Thomas Miller, general freight agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, for giving rebate to W. H. Warren & Co., and against J. M. Johnson, general freight agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, for giving rebate to Wright & Haughey.

The Ex-Slave.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Gen. Miles this morning received a telegram from Gen. Brooke, in command at Pine Ridge Agency, saying that matters there were quiet, that the Indians had some cause for complaint with regard to the issue of rations, but that he thought he would be able to remedy the matter shortly, and he was using every effort to further the separation of the hostiles from the peacefuls. Gen. Miles will start for the Northwest Monday.

FROM ENGLAND.

The Gladstonians and Their Movements Today; Not to Receive Parnell's Delegates; The Squabble Active.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Gladstone declined this morning, at a meeting, Parnell's suggestion that Morley and William Vernon Harcourt receive with him the joint delegations of the country from the two sections of the Irish. He insisted that if he received them the arrangements should be at his own discretion.

The Irish whips today, acting for the Irish party, requested Mr. Gladstone unconditionally to receive delegates Lemay and Redmond, representing Mr. Parnell's opponents. To this, Gladstone consented. The colleagues of the liberal leader were not present at the meeting. Their attendance was considered unnecessary, Gladstone having consulted them prior to the interview. Mr. Gladstone at the meeting with the Irish delegates, in no way pledges himself, nor did he use language importing that he was able himself to define the course that the liberal party would adopt in the position in which it was placed.

Parnell Resolutions.

DUBLIN, Dec. 5.—The municipal authorities of Malloy have adopted a resolution denouncing the Parnell party.

THE IRISH ENVOYS.

The Tribune on Their Stand on the Irish Question.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The Tribune this morning says: The Irish delegates will remain in town until they hear definitely from Ireland. Mr. Harrington, who differs from his colleagues, takes a more hopeful view of the situation now and says it will come out all right in the end. Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Connor take this attitude of the Irish bishops as conclusive, but they will not talk for publication.

It is well understood that Parnell will retire temporarily from the Irish leadership. Lord Salisbury's attack on the Irish members and Gladstone has settled everything. The attitude of the Irish bishops has cleared the situation. The priests will, of course, follow that lead. They are the ablest and best politicians in Ireland, and with Dillon, O'Brien and Healy ranged on their side Parnell can make no headway against them.

Parnell sees the helplessness of the situation, and will get out for a period. He will probably retain his seat for Cork, retire to France for a few months, marry Mrs. O'Shea and resume his place in the house of commons as leader of the Irish after the general election.

Will Fill Appointments.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Thomas Power O'Connor, authorizes the Associated Press to make for him and his colleagues the following statement in answer to the statement published in this country and telegraphed to England to the effect that at a conference yesterday, the Irish envoys had decided to abandon their trip, is not true. No such decision has been arrived at.

THE COUNTY COMS.

They Continue Their Regular Monthly Session Today.

The board of county commissioners have been discussing the question of enforcing the penalty in the case of the new jail building today, but have reached no agreement. It is claimed that the contractors were thirty-seven days behind time in completing the work, and if the penalty of $25 is enforced the profit will be cut down quite materially.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon new rules for the government of county prisoners, to fit the new jail, were made out. Mrs. Stearns, Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Phelan petitioned the board for the use of the old jail building as a branch city jail or sort of house of correction for female city prisoners. They propose to ask the city council to appoint a matron to conduct the jail. It was favorably thought of. Commissioners Merritt, Butchart and Wieland were appointed committee to view the line of a road, petitioned to extend through 51 13 and 51-14. The county attorney reported on the petition for the organization of the new town of Industrial.

Auditor La Vaque was instructed to advertise for bids for publishing the proceedings of the board for the year, the forthcoming financial statement and the delinquent tax list.

Another Land Company.

The New Superior Land company filed articles of incorporation with the register of deeds today. The capital is placed at $200,000 of which $113,010 is to be paid in. The limit of liability is placed at $50,000. The incorporators are W. O. Tillotson and W. B. Logan of Duluth and A. Rockwell, Frank Dick, John C. Perry and R. C. Crophy of West Duluth.

Reading for the Prisoners.

The citizens of Duluth are earnestly requested to leave papers and periodicals at the new jail for the use of the prisoners. In the new building the prisoners will be more closely confined than in the old and reading matter of all kinds will be acceptable.

The Tax Delinquencies.

Taxpayers should bear in mind that the 5 per cent penalty will be added to the tax of 1889 remaining unpaid on Jan. 1.

Notice of Removal.

Dr. Bowers specialists in nervous diseases has removed his office to the Woodbridge building No. 108 West Superior street. Stairway or elevator to second floor, rooms 200 and 202.

The Zenith ice rink, corner of Third avenue east and Michigan street, is open to the public every afternoon and evening during the entire season. Band Saturday evenings.

DULUTH IMPROVEMENT

Manager Berkey Here to Begin Work on the River.

TO BE CARRIED OUT AT ONCE.

Arrangements Made for Log Cutting on the Upper River for Duluth.

John A. Berkey of St. Paul, active manager of the business of the St. Louis River Improvement company, was in Duluth yesterday making arrangements for beginning the work of repairing the river dams and putting the stream in condition for log drifting, a work which will employ a large number of men all winter.

"We have been a little slow in commencing operations on the repairs and improvements of the dam and river," Mr. Berkey has explained, "but in the last few months we have received such assurances from lumbermen here that they would drive down the rapids if they could, that we have been encouraged to begin work. So you may be pretty nearly sure that next year Duluth will be saving timber from the tremendous reservoirs of the upper river."

"We have completed all our estimates of work and made out bills of timber to be used. In the sixteen miles of river to be improved, there are twelve miles of flood dams. All of these will have to be repaired in a great deal of drilling and blasting must be done to take out boulders and rock dams that will obstruct free passage of logs. We will use several million feet of 12 by 12 timber for the flood of two years ago broke the top of all the dams. There isn't any question about the matter of getting logs down in good shape; in the year we first made our improvements we passed 20,000,000 feet, and the next year 30,000,000, but the logmen monopoly shut us out after that till the flood of two years ago, when 80,000,000 came over."

"We understand the Water Power company will put in its dams and do its work this winter also, but there can be little or no friction between us, as we claim to arbitrate in charter and they must make allowances and provisions for getting our logs through their power dams. Just as soon as the river is safely frozen I shall come back to Duluth and begin operations. From present outlook this will be in a week or so."

Large Cedar Contractors.

George Co. of the firm of E. E. Nangle & Co., Omaha, railroad supply contractors, is at Duluth with a view of getting out a million cedar ties. He will buy the timber and put a crew in to cut it. The firm, which has heretofore bought its cedar in Michigan and on the Canadian side, expects to go extensively and permanently into the business here. Not only ties, but posts, telegraph poles and paving blocks will be part of the business.

SHORTAGE IN COAL.

That is the case with the Lake Superior.

There is no way about that there will be a big shortage of coal at the head of Lake Superior and a scant supply at Chicago, Milwaukee and other lake ports at the close of navigation. This is especially true of Duluth, where soft coal cannot now be bought by lake ships at any price. The aim among shipmen at present is simply to fulfill contracts made last spring and some of them will not be filled even in this.

The Lake Superior trade will suffer most. The railroad companies in the "Pittsburgh" district have failed to furnish coals and have made their demands upon the mines for their own supplies on account of increased general traffic. Miners have turned attention to manufacturers in and around Pittsburgh and the supply of labor has been short. These, with other causes, have restricted the lake demand until now there is no hope of reaching the agents of shipmen anticipated last spring. Prices have stiffened and the figures demanded by the mines have been many times as much higher than on early sales. Milwaukee's receipts of hard coal for the year, to say nothing of a natural increase in business, which should be 60,000, are not likely to be filled.

EXCELLENT TRACK.

So say the State Commissioners who examined the Duluth & Winnipeg route.

The inspection of the sixty miles of Duluth & Winnipeg track was carried out yesterday. The train left Duluth at 8:10 and reached the end of track, eleven miles beyond Grand Rapids, at 10:40. An inspection of the sixty miles of track, the first inspection was carefully made, and the commissioners were so pleased with the condition of the track, on the whole, that they are not likely to have any more to say about it.

The party was composed of about twenty men from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Arden.

At Grand Rapids are steel rails and iron material for the laying of fifty miles of track while the gentlemen commencing plotted twenty-five miles beyond the end of the track. It was the only one of the kind in the state.

Commissioners yesterday, southward, some clear to the international boundary.

The Duluth Terminal company, to a meeting of the Duluth Terminal company, was held yesterday. W. P. Clough, vice president of the Great Northern, was elected director to fill the vacancy created by the death of Henry D. Minor. W. C. Farrington was re-elected vice president and general manager, and D. G. Cash secretary and treasurer.

San Francisco, the light weight pugilist of England, has challenged Austin Gibbons to fight for $500 a side.

Westing, the famous sprinter of the Manhattan Athletic club, has gone out of training.

Frank Murphy, the English feather weight, is contemplating another fight to America. He is in good trim.

Joe Claydon, the Canadian heavy weight, who recently whipped Jack Foran in Australia, has been called to match him against George Godfrey.

The new home of the Manhattan Athletic club, which was opened in its new quarters last week, will be formally opened on the 10th when Joseph Angerson and others are expected to be on hand.

Killen and Sheehy.

Interest in the Killen-Sheehy fight looked for Dec. 19th at St. Paul is growing apace. Both men are in active training and have taken hold of their preparatory work in a way that would indicate that they really mean business.

In addition to the shakles at stake the fight is to be for the Northwestern heavyweight championship now held by Killen, Donaldson and Manning Van Fleet's trainer, will look after Sheehy, and Denny Kellher and Denny Killen will do like service for Killen. The referee has not yet been chosen.

Commenting on a letter from Manager Watkins of the Kansas City club, reference to the scheme for dropping the Denver, Lincoln and Sioux City clubs from the Western association in favor of Indianapolis, Detroit and Toledo, President Spess of the Kansas City club, said the proposed scheme would undoubtedly greatly strengthen the association.

"Still," he said, "it must be distinctly understood that under no circumstances will the Kansas City club be forced out of the three clubs that are wanted out of the way. The only way to get them out is by some kind of financial proposition from the three cities wanted to come in. If that is done, the association strengthened, but not willing to see it done by any underhand means."

For many years character comedies, with German, English, French and Irish parts, have been played upon the American stage. Almost every city has been dealt with, but not until two years ago were Americans made familiar with the ludicrous possibilities of a Swedish character comedy. Such a play as "Ole Oloffe" was to be the temple tonight, and tomorrow, the piece in the success of two seasons, and this has been drawing crowded houses in all cities visited. It is very funny, and the cast is said to be made up of good people. It was well received here.

A Salvation Army Work Here.

As a result of the Western conference of captains of the Salvation Army held in Chicago this week, it is understood that barracks will be opened in Duluth and regular services begun.

It is a queer thing that the army has never operated in Duluth.

In the list of grand and petit jurors summoned for the January term of the United States circuit and district courts, which opens in St. Paul Jan. 13, are E. L. Fisher, George Ash of Duluth, and C. A. Everett of West Duluth.

"Things Are Seldom What They Seem."

While the above is, in the main, true, still there is an exception to the general rule, as is the case in many instances. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Kidney Pills, which are not only all they seem, but more. In fact, they are indigestion, sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness, and headache, the relief afforded by their use is wonderful.

DALLIES IMPROVEMENT

Manager Berkey Here to Begin Work on the River.

Arrangements Made for Log Cutting on the Upper River for Duluth.

John A. Berkey, of St. Paul, active manager of the business of the St. Louis River Improvement company, was in Duluth yesterday making arrangements for beginning the work of repairing the river dams and putting the stream in condition for log driving, a work which will employ a large number of men all winter.

"We have been a little slow in commencing operations on the repairs and improvements of the dalls," said Mr. Berkey last evening, "but in the past few months we have received such assurances from lumbermen here that they would drive down the rapids if they could, that we have been encouraged to begin work. So now we are pretty nearly ready to start the work of dropping the river dams, and putting the stream in condition for log driving, a work which will employ a large number of men all winter."

"We have completed all our estimates of work and made out bills of timber to be used. In the sixteen miles of river to be improved, there are twelve rapids and flood dams. All of these will have to be repaired and a great deal of arduous and blasting must be done to take out boulders and rock dams that will obstruct the passage of logs. We will use several million feet of 12 by 12 timber for the flood of two years ago broke the top of all the dams. There isn't any question about the matter of getting logs down in good shape; in the year we first made our improvements we passed 20,000,000 feet, and the next year 30,000,000, and the Cleopatra monopoly shut us out after that till the flood of two years ago, when 50,000,000 came over."

"We understand the Water Power company will put in its dams and do its work this winter also, but there can be little or no friction between us, as we claim to ante-date them in charter and they must make allowances and provisions for getting our logs through their power dams. Just as soon as the river is solidly frozen I shall come back to Duluth and begin operations. From present outlook this will be in a week or so."

Large Cedar Contractors. George Cox of the firm of E. L. Naugle & Co., Omaha, railroad supply contractors, is up the Duluth & Winnipeg with a view of getting a contract for the timber. He will buy the timber and put a crew in to cut it. The firm, which has heretofore bought its cedar in Michigan and on the Canadian side, expects to go extensively and permanently into the business here. Not only the logs, but telegraph poles and paving blocks will be part of the business.

SHORTAGE IN COAL.

That is the Case With the Lake Superior Trade.

There is now no doubt that there will be a big shortage of coal at the head of Lake Superior and a scant supply at Chicago, Milwaukee and other lake ports at the close of navigation. This is especially true of bituminous coal. Soft coal cannot now be brought by lake ships at any price. The aim among shippers at present is simply to fulfill contracts made last spring and some of them will not succeed even in this. The Lake Superior trade will suffer most. Railway companies in the Pittsburgh district have failed to furnish tons and have made extra demands upon the mines for their own supplies on account of increasing general traffic. Miners have turned attention to manufacturing iron and around Pittsburgh and the supply of labor has been short. There, with other causes, have restricted the lake output until now there is no hope of reaching the acrements of shippers anticipated last spring. Prices have stiffened and the figures demanded by the mines have been in many cases much higher than on early sales. Milwaukee's receipts of hard coal to October are $2,000,000 short of the previous year, to say nothing of a natural increase in business, which should be $10,000,000.

EXCELLENT TRACK.

So Say the State Commissioners Who Examined the Duluth & Winnipeg.

The inspection of sixty miles of Duluth & Winnipeg track, carried out yesterday. The train left Duluth at 8:10 and reached the end of track, eleven miles beyond Grand Rapids, at 1:00 o'clock. An inspection of the sixty miles built since the last inspection was carefully made, and the commissioners were more than pleased with the condition of the track. On the whole sixty miles there is hardly a curve and the gradients are almost nil.

The party was composed of about twenty-two men from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Arden.

At Grand Rapids are steel rails and other material for the laying of fifty miles of track, while the grade is completed twenty-five miles beyond the end of the track. Had the silly government order not been issued stopping work, the commissioners yesterday would have gone clear to the international boundary.

The tenth rental by the pupils of Mrs. J. S. Driscoll will be given this evening at St. Mary's, 109 West Superior street. They will be assisted by the ladies' society, composed of Mrs. Loman, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Thwing and Misses May Morris and Jennie Moody.

Duluth-Terminal Company. The annual meeting of the Duluth-Terminal company was held yesterday. W. P. Clough, vice-president of the Great Northern, was elected director to fill the vacancy created by the death of Henry D. Minot. W. C. Farrington was re-elected vice-president and general

SPORTS NOTES.

San Blake, the lightweight pugilist of England, has challenged Austin Gibbons to fight for $500 a side.

Westing, the famous sprinter of the Manhattan Athletic club, has gone out of training.

Frank Murphy, the English featherweight, is contemplating another visit to America. He is in good trim.

Joe Cloyd, the California heavyweight, who recently whipped Jack Fotherly in Australia, has been called to return home, as his backers intend to match him against George Godfrey.

The new home of the Manhattan Athletic club, which was opened to its members last week, will be formally opened on the 15th, when Dwyer, Ingersoll and others are expected to be on hand.

Killen and Sheehy.

Interest in the Killen-Sheehy match looked for Dec. 19th at St. Paul is growing apace. Both men are in active training and have taken hold of their preparatory work in a way that would indicate that they really mean business. In addition to the shokels at stake the fight is to be for the Northwestern heavyweight championship now held by Killen. Donaldson and Manning Van Fleet's trainer, will look after Sheehy, and Denny Kellher and Denny Killen will do like service for Killen. The referee has not yet been chosen.

The Western Association.

Commenting upon a letter from Manager Watkins of the St. Paul club, which contains the scheme for dropping the Denver, Lincoln and Sioux City clubs from the Western association in favor of Indianapolis, Detroit and Toledo, President Spang of the Kansas City club, said the proposed scheme would undoubtedly greatly strengthen the association. "Still," he said, "it must be distinctly understood that under no circumstances will Kansas City vote to leave the association. We are not willing to see it done by any underhand means."

Old Olson.

For many years character comedies, with German, English, French and Irish parts, have been played upon the American stage. Almost every nationality has been dealt with, but not until two years ago were Americans made familiar with the ludicrous possibilities of a Swedish character comedy. Such a play is "Old Olson," to be seen at the Chicago tonight, and tomorrow. The piece is the success of two seasons, and it has been drawing crowded houses in all cities visited. It is very funny, and the cast is said to be made up of good people. It will be well received across the bay.

Salvation Army Work Here.

As a result of the Western conference of captains of the Salvation Army held in Chicago this week, it is understood that barracks will be opened in Duluth and regular services begun here. It is a queer thing that the army has never operated in Duluth.

More Duluth Juries.

In the list of grand and petit jurors summoned for the January term of the United States circuit and district courts, which opens in St. Paul Jan. 13, are E. L. Fisher, George Ash of Duluth, and C. A. Everett of West Duluth.

Things Are Seldom What They Seem.

While the above is, in the main, true, still there is an exception to the general rule, as is the case in many instances. We refer to the "Pittsburgh" Railway, which are not only all they seem, but more. In torpid liver, indigestion, sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness and headache, the relief afforded by their use is wonderful.

Norman Lighty, Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Sir: A box of Headache Capsules, which I have used, has cured me of my headache. They can be recommended to all. They could not possibly do without them in my home. I recommend them to sufferers with this common, though terrible complaint. Yours truly, Norman Lighty, Des Moines, Iowa.

Good Mortgages Wanted.

In exchange for cash and real estate, I have $10,000 to loan at 6% per annum. For the Spalding, 21st and 1st Sts. Mornings and evenings. J. H. Smith, 21st and 1st Sts.

THE SAULT'S GREAT YEAR

Statistics of Commerce for the Season Now Closed.

THE RECORD IS AGAIN BROKEN

Winter Quarters of Many of the Boats in Duluth's Trade.

ST. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 5.—

Wednesday afternoon the guard gates of the St. Mary's canal were closed for the first time since the opening of the canal last year.

Since the opening on April 20 the canal has been overcrowded with business. The lake tonnage, which last year seemed to have reached its limit for a year, or so, has increased in such rapid proportions that it is impossible to make a correct estimate.

At the close of navigation last year when the total tonnage was 1,000,000 tons, the nation could hardly believe that report, and yet this year comes an unexpected increase, and the net tonnage through the canal has reached over 1,000,000 tons.

The season of 1890 was shorter than that of 1889, the canal being operated but 225 days. A serious break occurred at the locks which delayed craft several days.

The freight tonnage, which last year reached 7,716,022 tons has this year been increased to 8,111,213, an increase of 20 per cent.

Last year the tonnage took a jump of 20 per cent. When dropped to 1,000,000 tons, it was 1,000,000 tons, but this is explained by the fact that the tonnage has increased 25 per cent. The week is grinding more of its wheat every year. The same can be said of other crops.

At the close of last summer had a good deal to do with the dropping off. Silver ore shows a falling off occasioned by the shipping of the Port Arthur mines. The tables give the increase in various articles.

The great gain cannot be passed without comment. The result only proves the rapid development of the West, whose products and many necessities of life pass through the canal every year on the way to their destination.

All tonnage quantities are in tons of 2000 pounds.

The value of freight tonnage for 1890 was $81,727,715. For 1889 the figures are $64,487,000. The increase in freight tonnage for this year is therefore $17,240,715.

Water carriers of many of the ships in the Duluth passenger and shipping trade are as follows: The Italia, China, Japan, Winslow and Gordon Campbell of the Duluth Buffalo line are laid up at Buffalo. The Oceana and Desa, Rich-land, which have been at Cleveland. The Nyack is at Buffalo. Ward's line boats are scattered. The River Ward is in Oshkosh, Wis. Stevens in Duluth. The Lodge, Moran, Elk, Nicol and Toledo are in Detroit. The Western line has the Laho, Fountain City, Empire State, Badger State, Vanderhilt, Algonquin and Boston at Buffalo. McLaughlin boats are nearly all at Cleveland. The Sitka being here. Half the McDougall boats are at Buffalo, the rest here.

Covered With Ice.

Buffalo Express: The propeller Tower came in yesterday with the 107 in tow. The whole boat appeared little the worse for her accident at the Sault, but was one sheet of ice everywhere above water, presenting a very odd appearance, even for a boat of that pattern.

THE FURST BISMARCK.

She is the Largest Steamship Ever Built in Germany.

The Furst Bismarck, sister ship to the North German Lloyd Hamburg-American line, and the fourth twin-screw vessel of the line's splendid fleet, was launched on Saturday last at Stettin. As the vessel glided into the River Oder the Countess Bismarck-Kniphofel, a near relative of Prince Bismarck, baptised her in this language: "At bestow upon thee the immortal name of Furst Bismarck!" Sail on and bring honor to thy constructors and blessings to thy owners.

The Furst Bismarck was built by the Vulcan Shipbuilding company. She is the largest steamship ever constructed in Germany. She is 310 feet long, 37 feet wide and 23 feet deep. She measures 12,000 tons, and her twin engines are expected to develop 16,000 horse power. Her guaranteed speed is twenty knots. She will make her first trip in April.

With Regular Operations.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 5.—A morning paper says: "The meeting at Boston yesterday of the stockholders of the Kansas City Packing company, the Chase Refrigerator company and the Cold Blast Transfer company, it was commended by business. These three companies issued about two weeks ago to George L. Parker of Boston. The stockholders decided to advance 33 1/3 per cent on the capital stock had paid off all the liabilities which are over $1,000,000.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Dec. 5.—At 10 o'clock this morning fire destroyed St. Mary's convent and two dwellings. The loss is estimated at $50,000; fully insured. The fire was caused by the heavy pressure of natural gas.

CONCERNING THE KICK

Listening to the New York Census.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The house committee on the census today listened to arguments on the resolution introduced by Messrs. Flower and Cummings relative to a report of the recent census in New York city.

The metropolitan city is represented by Messrs. Cummings, Flower, Tracy, Spooner, Murphy and Spear, the latter being the private secretary to Mayor Grant.

The committee is loaded with all the data of every person not enumerated by the federal census takers of the Second census, the being the only ward in which the new federal enumeration has been given to the municipal authorities. They have also over 500 affidavits from heads of families to the effect that although they were living in the city at the time the census was taken, no enumerators called at their residences.

After all the evidence has been taken and the New York census is taken up the Brooklyn census will be taken up.

A BAD SON.

London, Dec. 5.—News from Vendome comes that a family quarrel, which has just happened at the Chateau de la Mousserotte in Villeneuve-la-Guyonne.

A young gentleman named Camille Moreau, 25 years of age, a retired general, had frequent quarrels with his family, which had become so violent that he left home. From time to time the father and son encountered each other and the most violent quarrels immediately broke out.

One Monday when the general was alone in the chateau he was sitting in the room when he was sitting. A fresh attempt to shoot him was made, and he became so serious that M. Morris, being menaced by his son, Camille, drew a revolver from his pocket and fired at the young man. The bullet struck him in the chest and he fell back, gasping for breath. The murderer left the chateau and fled to the garden.

Ministerial Changes.

New York, Dec. 5.—The Hon. William Walter Phelps, accompanied by his family, arrived here today from Washington and will leave on the West tomorrow for his post as United States minister to Germany. Tompkins will be replaced at the United States by thirty of his old friends and neighbors. It will be purely a social affair. The minister is presenting both sides of the political table, but all united in the language of the invitation in expressing their appreciation of his services as minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Germany, as well as their regard for him socially.

A Thoroughbred Sale.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 5.—Breeder and owners of racing stables from all over the country are here today to participate in the annual sale of thoroughbred horses, which opens this afternoon and continues five days. The two most important stables to go under the hammer are those of A. J. McCampbell & Co., forty-one head, and J. K. Mcgibben & Co., a total of thirty-seven head. In breeding stables there are good racers known in training, several horses that have been successful on Western tracks, and a number of highly bred yearlings which were bought at the spring sale and some of which have been well tried.

THE SAULT'S GREAT YEAR

Statistics of Commerce for the Season Now Closed.

Winter Quarters of Many of the Boats in Duluth's Trade.

St. Mar. Mich., Dec. 5.—

Wednesday afternoon the guard gates of the lock closed and the greatest season of the history of the Saint canal was closed.

Since the opening on April 20 the canal has been overcrowded with business. The lake tonnage, which last year seemed to have reached its limit for a year or so, has increased in such proportions that it is impossible to estimate the total tonnage.

At the close of navigation last year the total tonnage was 7,500,000 tons. This year the nation could hardly believe the report and yet this year, comes an unexpected increase and the net tonnage through the canal has reached over 10,000,000 tons.

The season of navigation was shorter this year by six days than that of 1889, the canal being operated but 228 days. A serious break occurred at the locks which delayed craft several days.

The freight tonnage which last year reached 7,500,000 tons has this year been increased to 9,000,000 tons, an increase of 20 per cent. Last year the tonnage took a jump of 20 per cent. Wheat dropped off less than 1 per cent or 191,000 bushels, but this is explained by the fact that flour has increased 25 per cent. The West is sending more of its wheat every year. The same can be said of other grains, although the poor crops of last summer had a good deal to do with the dropping off. Silver ore shows a falling off occasioned by the stoppage of the Port Arthur mines. The shippings of the Port Arthur mines. The shippings of the Port Arthur mines.

The great gain cannot be passed without comment. The result only proves the rapid development of the West, whose products and many necessities of life pass through the canal every year on the way to their destination.

Items.

Items.	1889.	1890.	Increase or Decrease.
Wheat, bu.	9,500,000	10,500,000	1,000,000

All tonnage quantities are in tons of 2000 pounds. The value of freight tonnage for 1889 was $2,777,273.75. The 1890 figures are $3,450,000. The increase in freight carried valuation for this year is therefore $672,726.25.

Where the Boats Are.

Winter quarters of many of the ships in the Duluth passenger and package trade are as follows: The Italia, China, Japan, Winslow and Gordon Campbell of the Duluth Pacific line are laid up in Buffalo; The Oceola and Deau Rich of the Toledo, The Northern line with all their ships are at Cleveland; The York is at Buffalo; The Mer's line boats are scattered; The Elber Ward is in Ogishburg, the Stevens in Duluth, the Hodge, Moran, Fisk, Nicol and Toledo are in Detroit; The Western line has the Liko, Fountain City, Empire State, Badger State, Vanderbill, Wisconsin, Albany and Boston at Buffalo. The Stika being here. Half the McDougall boats are at Buffalo, the rest here.

Covered With Ice.

Buffalo Express: The propeller Tower came in yesterday with the lot in tow. The whole boat appeared little the worse for her accident at the Sault, but was one sheet of ice everywhere above water, presenting a very odd appearance, even for a boat of the pattern.

THE FURST BISMARCK.

She is the largest Steamship Ever Built in Germany.

The Furst Bismarck, sister ship to the Norddeutscher Lloyd Hamburg-American line, and the fourth twin-screw vessel of the line's splendid fleet, was launched on Saturday last at Stettin. As the vessel glided into the river Oder the Countess Bismarck, kneeling in a reverent attitude, prayed for the success of the new ship. The Furst Bismarck, named after the late German Emperor, is the largest steamship ever constructed in Germany. She is 210 feet long, 57 1/2 feet wide and 35 feet deep. She measures 12,000 tons, and her twin engines are expected to develop 16,000 horse power. Her guaranteed speed is twenty knots. She will make her first trip in April.

Will Resume Operations.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 5.—A morning paper says: At a meeting at Boston yesterday of the stockholders of the Kansas City Packing company, the Chase Refrigerator company and the Cold Blast Transfer company, it was decided to resume business. These three companies assigned about two weeks ago to Geo. H. Parker of Boston. The stockholders decided to advance 25 per cent on the capital stock and pay off all of the liabilities which are over $1,000,000.

At Home.

HOMESDEAD, Pa., Dec. 5.—At 2 o'clock this morning the destroyed Mary's con A T went and two dwellings. The loss is estimated at $50,000; fully insured. The fire was caused by the heavy pressure of natural gas.

CONCERNING THE KICK

Listening to Evidence Pertaining to the New York Census.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The house committee on the eleventh census today listened to arguments on the resolution introduced by Messrs. Flower and Cummings ordering a recount of the recent census in New York city. The metropolitan area is represented by Messrs. Cummings, Flower, Tamm, Springer, Duffell, and Spear, the latter being the private secretary to Mayor Grant.

The committee is loaded with affidavits of every person not enumerated by the federal census takers of the Sault, and the fact that the only ward in which the new federal enumeration figures have been given to the municipal authorities. They have also offered 500 affidavits from heads of families living in the city at the time the census was taken, no enumerators called at their residences.

At the close of the evidence, the committee will take up the question of the Brooklyn census which will be taken up.

A BAD SON.

Leopold, Dec. 5.—News from Vendome gives a family quarrel which has just happened at the chateau de Montmorency in Villiers-en-Brie.

A young gentleman named Camille Moras, 28 years of age, an officer in the army, and frequent quarrels with his family, which at last became so violent that he left home. He was encountered by the father and the most violent quarrels immediately broke out.

On Monday when the general was alone in the chateau he was sitting. A fresh attempt to force him out of the chateau became so serious that M. Moras, being annoyed by his son, called a revolver and drew a revolver from his pocket and aimed it at the son. The son, who was behind a door, fired and the bullet struck the father in the chest. The father died immediately.

The murderer left the chateau and sought the nearest town, gave himself up to the gendarmes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Hon. William Walter Phelps, accompanied by his family, arrived here today from Washington and will leave on the Vermont tomorrow for his post as United States minister to Germany. Tonight he will be entertained at the Union league by thirty of his old friends and neighbors. It will be purely a social affair, the guests representing both sides of the political table, but all united in the language of the invitation to expressing their appreciation of his services as minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Germany, as well as their regard for him socially.

A THOROUGH SALE.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 5.—Brokers and owners of racing stables from all over the country are here today to participate in the annual sale of thoroughbred horses which opens this afternoon and continues five days. The two most important stables to go under the hammer are those of A. J. McCampbell & Co., forty-one head, and J. K. McWhorter & Co., a total of thirty-seven head. In both stables there are good racers now in training, several horses that have been successful on Western tracks, and a number of highly bred yearlings which were bought at the spring sale and some of which have been well tried.

THE THIRD PARTY.

There is evidently a strong move in the national alliance convention at Ocala toward the gathering up in one organization of all the floating parties outside of the main republican and democratic columns. This would give a much bigger show of hands in point of numbers, and undoubtedly put the consolidated party nearer on a level with its chief rivals, but it is certainly a question whether there would be any stability to such a diversified compound. The national union party of America is the name proposed for the combination, and time will show whether it can be effected and what it is worth as a political force.

As the grangers view the situation, they now hold the balance of power, and believe that they can control the nomination of the next President as well as both branches of congress. But there is a confessed fear on the part of the more conservative and level-headed that the extreme radical element will get the upper hand in the convention. In this case it is frankly conceded that the farmers' influence in national politics, as a distinctively class organization, will dwindle. On the other hand, should the conservative delegates have their way, the idea of a separate party will be dropped and the conclusion will be to support the preferred republican or democratic candidates. If so, there is substantial ground for the belief that the endorsement of the agricultural bodies will have decisive weight in the next campaign in every close-contested district.

PUT UP THE BARS.

In the first days of the opening session a bill has been introduced for guarding and restricting immigration to this country, and it is high time that some proper measure was pressed to passage. It is notorious that there has been a marked deterioration in the character of this immigration of recent years, and every effort has been made by foreign countries to dump on our shores the dross and refuse of their population. In spite of every present bar such exports have been coming through our port doorways by hundreds of thousands, and a multitude that might fail to squeeze through these bars has been coming in practically unchecked over our unprotected northern border.

The board of immigration at Portland, Maine, has just made a strong report to the secretary of the treasury, pointing out the defects of our present restrictive legislation and the dangers arising from it. All the steamers landing at Portland, they say, bring but a small proportion of their passengers here. "The greater part land at the port of Halifax, in the Dominion of Canada, and for six months in the year they land at Quebec and Montreal, and the most of these come into the United States by railroad without any examination and without paying the capitation tax imposed upon steam and sailing vessels, and our paupers are annually increased by this course, and no legislation is enacted to prevent it. The longer continuance of the present state of affairs of immigration only adds to the great throng of paupers which has, in many of our larger towns and cities, become a burden too heavy to be borne by the temperate and industrious classes, upon whom finally the weight of the burden falls. It is most earnestly hoped that congress will some time see the necessity of doing something to prevent the evils now existing from the very mildly restrictive measures for the regulation of immigration to this country, and that some time something shall be done to prevent our shores from being the dumping ground for paupers and criminals from the Old World and that part of the new contiguous to us."

This is an urgent appeal and should be acted upon without delay. It is entirely true as the commissioners say that our present laws for the regulation of immigration will largely fail of accomplishing any beneficial results so long as railroads from contiguous foreign territory are allowed to bring paupers into this country without being subject to any restrictive measures whatever. Put the bars up and range them along the border lines as well as on the coast.

The Berlin papers are forbidden to make any comments on the health of the German Emperor. From other sources it appears that the young man is in a bad way, physically, and that he is fearful that the trouble which he has will terminate fatally, and that, too, before very long.

The annual report of Postmaster-General Wainmaker is a clear, business-like and comprehensive statement of a business man of the conduct of our postal service for another year. It shows that the service has been brought to a high degree of efficiency, with a due regard all the time to economy of administration. Other improvements and reforms are in a fair way to be adopted, unless congress, for purely partisan purposes, shall refuse to co-operate with the postmaster-general. His most important proposal is the reduction of letter postage to one cent, a move which The Herald has already heartily seconded. Such a reduction might cause a deficiency for the first few years, but our experience with previous reductions shows that such deficiencies would soon be made up. As to postal telegraphy, the postmaster-general has given this subject his special attention, and the arguments which he has had at various times presented in its favor at hearings before congressional committees, and in his published reports, are clear, strong and convincing. There is evidently a growing popular sentiment in its favor, and the establishment of a system is only a question of time.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Stories of Jay Gould are now going the rounds, I have one, told me by a brother of the chief actor, which will be worth publishing. It was long ago when the Missouri Pacific was in other hands, and Jay controlled another road in the same territory. The chief actor ran the Missouri Pacific, and Jay made a verbal compact—he wasn't so well known as he is now—by which both were to do certain things. My friend's brother carried out his part of the agreement and then called on Jay to do his. A flat refusal to fulfill the agreement surprised him. It meant ruin and the wiping out of his fortune built up by years of severe labor. But he said nothing and in the evening invited Gould to his hotel. When both were up in his room the door was locked and he pointed to the memorandum of agreement lying on the table, whipped out a revolver and with a desperate look in his face bade to Gould "now sign those agreements or die." Gould signed and the two have been apparent friends since.

There are always new illustrations of the "influence of example," and here is one of them. One of the proprietors of a large retail establishment in this city strides loftily across its floors and through its various departments daily looking after things. His stride is strong and impressive, and it is a curious fact that this stride has come to be unconsciously copied by all the employees. The heads of departments imitate his example by striding rapidly across the floor; so do the clerks; so do the boys. Some of them formerly walked about in a shuffling way or in other dubious ways; but, after a while, all of them stride in the proprietor's style.

"I assure you," said the doctor, "that many physicians do a great deal of work without pay. There are emergency cases that must often be treated for nothing. Every doctor has scores of relatives who do not expect bills for his services. There are poor people and shabby genteel people who have not much to give for fees. A medical man is sure to have scores of esteemed friends who would be offended if he charged them full rates. Then all kinds of folks with all sorts of ailments seek a few words of advice and a prescription at cost price, which is cheap enough. Do you know of any other business in which there is as much gratuitous labor as in the medical profession? Then it is pretty hard to spend every day of one's life with sufferers who grow under innumerable complaints, half of which can never be cured."

Circumstances generally alter cases, and it's surprising how quickly, in view of results, a man's mind may change. Mr. Hillhouse, the well-known attorney, is the owner of large tracts of land along Knife river, that famous north shore stream. Mr. Hillhouse is also an enthusiastic fisherman, and Knife river is supposed to be filled with gamey trout. The following story the New Yorker tells on himself: "When I bought the Knife river property I thought it would make an elegant preserve. The stream was, so I understand, well stocked with trout, and a man would have no difficulty in catching a basket full. So I prepared my fishing tackle and ordered a lot of signs, prohibiting fishing. I expected to catch fish in proportion to the stories I had heard. To make a long story short I fished all day and never got a bite. Those signs were never used. I concluded not to make a preserve of Knife river."

And This From Wisconsin.
Milwaukee Sentinel: The closing of the Bank of Commerce at West Superior is an unfortunate affair. What excites the most wonder is that though the president is reported to be worth $1,000,000, and two of the other directors are millionaires, they have allowed the bank to go under for the want of $100,000 more cash. But we suspect that these so-called very rich men are inflated with real estate, and as West Superior real estate is just now unavailable their wealth shrivels. The speculative mania has been so rampant in West Superior for the past two years that no outsider is surprised that a dead halt has at last come. West Superior will now have to grind slowly through until it reaches better times.

Ireland's Real Platform.

To the Editor of The Herald.

As one that spoke at a first public meeting in Cork for Mr. Parnell, chiefly to get rid of an old whig who voted coercion; I may be permitted to say that I think his tactics about the police in the next home rule bill unwise and misleading; for in the present temper of the liberal party they may act different now than what they would at another time. But now is the time, it should be distinctly understood, that the Irish scatted all over the world and in Ireland would not tolerate Parnell nor his parliamentary party forty-eight hours if they dare accept any bill that did not include all the local management of Ireland—police, judges and juries. This is the time to state it. This is the real platform that the Irish will stand on, and only for what little resistance was shown by O'Brien and a few others, the home rulers would not be in as good a position today as they are; neither would they be so well backed by the Irish in this country.

THE SUN.

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't; but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper, which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind.

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for Democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose; it is not The Sun's fault if it has seen further into the millstone.

ORDER FOR HEARING ON CLAIMS.

COUNTY OF ST. LOUIS.

In Probate Court, Special Term, December 2nd, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Young, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of said deceased being this day granted unto Oscar L. Young, of said county.

It is ordered, That all claims and demands of all persons against said estate be presented to said court for examination and allowance, at the Probate Office in Duluth, in said county, on Monday, the twenty-ninth day of June, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock a. m.

It is further ordered, That six months from the date hereof be allowed to creditors to present their claims against said estate, at the expiration of which time all claims not presented to said court, or not proven to its satisfaction, shall be forever barred, unless for cause shown further time be allowed.

Ordered further, That notice of the time and place of the hearing and examination of said claims and demands shall be given by publishing this order on Wednesday in each week, for three successive weeks, prior to the day appointed for such examination, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said county.

Dated at Duluth, the second day of December, A. D. 1890.

By the Court,
FREDERICK A. JAY,
Judge of Probate.

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE,

THE VIADUCT TROUBLE.

Now Expected to be Settled in a Short Time

IN ONE WAY OR THE OTHER.

What the Council Expects; The Matter of a Viaduct at Lake Avenue.

It is probable that the matter of approaches to the Sixth avenue west viaduct will be settled in some way before many weeks. The necessity of having the work completed is too well known to need comment.

The council has taken hold of the matter, but as their discussions have been in executive session, just what has been done is not known to the public. But that something will be done is known. The railroad people say that they are now at work on the matter and hope to be able to make some kind of an arrangement within a few days. The whole trouble lies in the fact that a side track which runs from the Omaha tracks west of the Armour building on Railroad street and Sixth avenue and along the Northern Pacific slip must be removed before the approach can be built to Railroad street.

The principal traffic on the viaduct will be to and from Railroad street and for this reason the necessity of completing the viaduct becomes more urgent.
The plan now under consideration is to remove the Armour building and run the side track in from the east instead of from the west. This would not interfere with the approach, and, if possible, this plan will be adopted.

If no other way can be provided for the Railroad street traffic, it is possible that the council will decide to condemn the property and open the street through to Fifth avenue west.

In regard to the proposed Lake avenue viaduct, the railroad company claims that there are only a few engineers in this country competent to make plans for such a structure, and that they now have an engineer in St. Louis at work on the plans.

THE WEST.

Real Estate Business Good; A Church Dedication; West Duluth's Charter;

West End Notes.
Bank quiet has but a very little influence on sales of West Duluth inside property as all of the real estate firms have done a fair business this week and some report extra large sales. Charles Bonnie bought of Erickson & Frey lot 7, block 11, for $1000 yesterday and the firm also sold several other lots.

Church Dedication.
The Catholic church at West Duluth will be dedicated on next Sunday morning. Several Catholic societies of the city will attend the ceremonies in a body.
Division No. 1, A. O. H. will meet at its hall at 8:30 and from there proceed in a body in full regalia to the depot where a special train will be in waiting to convey them to West Duluth. All the members are requested to be present. St. John the Baptist society will also go down.
The special train will leave the Union depot at 10:10, and will leave West Duluth to return at 3 p. m.

West Duluth Notes.
The funeral of Mrs. M. Day was held this forenoon and the body taken to Duluth for burial.
Lewis Skatd, the man injured on the street work yesterday, was more seriously hurt than at first supposed, he having a very bad fracture of the left leg in addition to many bruises. He was taken to his home at Menominee today.

Mr. Lyneman, who has been leader of the West Superior band, has accepted the position of leader and teacher of the West Duluth Union band, and will move his family here in a few days.

Ex-Conductor Niel Darrach is visiting in town.

Milton Bliss of Orange, Mass., grandfather of Mrs. G. A. Brandt, will spend the winter here. He is a fine type of the old New England gentleman.

Andrew Borgstrom and Mary Blander are to be married tomorrow evening.

The cases of Kilton also of Bradley & Hawkins against the Johnson Bros. were both decided yesterday in favor of the plaintiffs.

P. R. Haley received yesterday the sad news of the death of Miss Laura Dawson of St. Paul, a lady to whom he expected to be married about Christmas.

The work of moving the present street lamps to outside localities has been going on today, and the people begin to think they will soon have the electric.

John McGittigan, one of the employees of Olson & Co., Second street south, has gone to Daissy, Minn., to take charge of one of the firm's branch stores.

M. S. Burrows' branch store will be opened this evening, and the West Duluth band will give an outdoor concert in front of the building.

Another New Establishment.

The well-known and enterprising Duluth clothiers, the Great Eastern, M. S.
Burrows & Co., will tomorrow open a store in West Duluth, on Central avenue, opposite Phillips hotel. It will be a gala day for the people of West Duluth and vicinity. Every man, woman or child calling during the day will receive a present of a handsome and useful so-venir of the occasion free of charge, and in the evening a brass band will discuss sweet music for the entertainment of the callers.

"Clothing will be sold from 5 to 10 per cent cheaper than we are selling in Duluth, for two weeks," remarked Mr. Burrows to a representative of this paper, "in order to show people what we can do for them in the clothing line."

Gentlemen's clothing neatly, cheaply and promptly repaired at the corner of Grand and Central avenue, up outside stairs.

WEST END.

Rehearsals of the young people at the Presbyterian church show that the costumes and acting are both to be very attractive, especially the little Indian maiden with her feathers, beads and cane.

The wife of Officer Wade is so far recovered from her severe illness that Mr.
Wade expects her to come home next week and resume housekeeping in their own home. Her friends are much rejoiced.

There will be a grand opening of the skating rink tomorrow night, when electric lights and music will be turned on.
The political pot has begun to boil at the West End, and the name of Mr. Cox, the broom manufacturer is being brought out as a candidate for alderman, and he seems to have no lack of friends to push his case.

Fred Borgesser who broke his leg
the last of August, has been to his home in Wywoga, Wis., and has sufficiently recovered to resume his position in Giesch's market.

To Discuss a Charter.

The citizens are to meet in City hall this evening to discuss the matter of a city charter and a full attendance is requested that a complete interchange of opinions may be had.

Reopening.

Green, the photographer, has sold out,
but will reopen in the rooms recently vacated by L. M. Cormany, Phoenix block, Monday, Dec. 8.

Mrs. K. B. Oleson at 1705 West Superior street, has the finest stock of painted banners, shopping bags, etc., ever seen in Duluth. There are more beautiful Christmas presents than these goods.

Not Straw Ball.

County Attorney Sherwood has begun a suit against Philip Westaway and Thomas Timlin, the bondsmen of Richard Westaway, who left for parts unknown while under indictment for seduction. The suit is brought to recover the $500 bonds which the defendants refuse to pay.

Is City Printer.

The question of the right of The Daily News to become the city printer has been decided by the supreme court.
City Attorney Allen today received the announcement that the order of the lower court dissolving the injunction brought, asked for by The Tribune, had been affirmed.

TO HANDLE PRODUCE.

Board of Trade Forms a Sub-Company for the Purpose.

TO DO AWAY WITH ANNOYANCE.

A Duluth Firm Captures an Excellent Plum that was Generally Sought.

Within a short time the Produce Commission company will file articles of incorporation. Its membership will be made up of board of trade men, and it will be backed by ample capital.

The company will handle anything in the line of produce, outside of wheat.
The originators of this scheme were brought to the conclusion that such a company had a large field for usefulness, for the reason that the board, at times, receives all kinds of produce, and its disposal is a matter of considerable bother.

The Produce company is formed to do entirely away with the old state of affairs. All kinds of produce will be handled excepting wheat. When a member of the board receives a consignment of coarse grain or produce—from a jar of butter to a car of apples—it will be turned over to the Produce company and disposed of by it. A building will be rented for a store room, Kendall's
First street stable being talked of.

A CARD FOR DULUTH.

A Local Furniture Concern Gets a Big Cleveland Contract.

Geo. A. French & Co. of this city, have secured the contract for furnishing a large and very fine hotel just being completed in Cleveland, Ohio. Colgate Hoyt, the millionaire oil man of New York, and representative of J. D. Rockefeller, is with other heavy capitalists, interested in the hotel.

Mr. Strong left on yesterday's Omaha to attend to the buying and furnishing of the new house which has about a hundred rooms and will be elegantly fitted up. Chicago and Cleveland wholesale houses, as well as Grand Rapids furniture makers, were after this contract.

A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THE TREASURY STOCK

OF THE

Northwestern Investment Co.

Is Now Offered for Sale at Par.

Safe, Sure and Profitable Investment for the Rich or Poor.

APPLICATIONS FOR STOCK WILL BE RECEIVED DURING THE NEXT TEN DAYS AT THE COMPANY'S OFFICE, 109
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BLDG.

Read the Following From the Washington Post:

"The Northwestern Investment Company of Washington, D. C., show surprising results from their investments in these remarkable growing and business centers. Realty transfers for 1890 foot up the astounding sum of $35,000,000, with marvelous strides in all channels of commerce, trade, steamship and railroad building. The company made their first investment March 2, 1890, and declared a dividend of 1 per cent per month on the face value of all stock issued August 5, and again on November 4 the Board of Directors declared and ordered issued a 48 per cent per annum dividend, payable in full paid non-assessable stock, on the par value of all stock issued, and will again pay the regular semi-annual dividend of 1 per cent per month for the six months ending January 31, 1891. Thus it will be seen that at the end of the first year's business profits amounting to 60 per cent have been paid to the stockholders, a profit without doubt unequalled by any of its competitors in like enterprise. There yet remain profits in the company treasury, an amount exceeding 10 per cent of the cash capital. The company buys, sells, and exchanges its own real estate exclusively. Its charter provides authority to invest anywhere in the United States. All stock for sale is treasury stock and sold at par only. Shares $10 each, sold on payments of $1 per month. No back assessments, stock issued at any time. Dividends computed from date of issue and paid on face value of installment stock, providing no assessments are in arrears. Parties desiring to invest safely in small monthly payments will find it to their advantage to investigate the merits of this enterprising company. The officers use conservative judgment and have had long experience in buying and selling real estate. The management are well known and enterprising business men. Mr. C. H.
Burgess, president, one of Washington's leading coal merchants; Mr.
George A. Prevost, vice-president, of the well known firm of Whittaker & Prevost, patent attorneys; Mr. George C. Videtto, secretary, real estate dealer, and organizer of the company, and L. W. Spear, treasurer and manager, real estate dealer of Duluth, Minn. The company have moved their office to 610 F street northwest, where the secretary will be found fully prepared and pleased to give any and all information desired. Correspondence and personal investigation solicited. Circulars giving full description of the Twin Cities at the Head of Lake Superior, which challenges comparison with that of any trade center of like size in this country, sent on application."

CITY BRIEFS

The new government letter boxes are being put up about the city. They differ materially from the old style. Sheriff Sharvy wants to thank Rev. C. C. Salter for supplying the prisoners in the county jail with reading matter every Monday morning. Nearly all of these bundles are papers furnished Mr. Salter by The Herald.

A fair is to be held next Monday evening at the Norwegian Methodist church. A small frame dwelling on Fourth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues west, was destroyed by fire last night.

The Ladies Aid society of the Unitarian church met this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Morris Thomas. Private Clark, of Company K, who was charged with leaving his company while on duty at Cloquet last summer and going to Duluth, is court-martialed and sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the national guard of the state.

A St. Paul syndicate of lumbermen are negotiating for the purchase of 250,000 feet of stumpage near Ashland. The deal will involve about $1,000,000. The following variations in temperature were recorded at Pioneer Fuel company's office, Hotel St. Louis, 326 Superior street: 12 m. 8°; 3 p. m. 12°; 6 p. m. 13°; 9 p. m. 13°; 7 a. m. 13°; 9 a. m. 14°; 12 m. 18°; maximum 18°; minimum 8°; daily range, 10°.

The Duluth Street Railway company filed this morning the satisfaction of its old bonds held by the Farmers Loan & Trust company, New York. In the municipal court this morning Henry Bierman, the old-time chronic, was sent up for fourteen days for drunkenness. John Horn went out for seven days. Wm. Patterson, for fast driving, paid $5 fine.

The sale of seats for the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" engagement at the Temple next Monday and Tuesday will open tomorrow at the box office. Receipts of wheat continue to grow less, the cause being railroad troubles. Only 105 were inspected yesterday, three less than Wednesday.

Summons have been served upon County Commissioners Jefferson and Wieland, Attorney Sherwood and Auditor La Vague to collect a claim of $187.79 for services rendered by The Herald in the preparation and publication of the tax list for 1889.

The Bethel boys' brigade meets at 7:30 tonight. The Wells-Stone Mercantile company today secured a judgment for $304.84 against A. Mathews, money due for goods sold and delivered.

Full citizenship papers were issued today to Carl G. Gustafson, a former subject of the King of Sweden. Allan A. Nicholson of Canada took out first papers.

License to wed was issued today to Ole Anderson and Lena Jacobson.

PERSONAL

Wm. Alden of St. Cloud is in the city, and is so well pleased with the prospects that he will probably decide to locate here.

The Day's Business on the Duluth Board.

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO NERVOUS.

Receipts Growing Less and Assuming a Winter Aspect; Shipments Light.

The local market opened weak, with first trading at $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ below last night's figures, ruled dull and inactive for cash and December wheat, with trading in No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern for May delivery at irregular fluctuations of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ above. New York and Chicago appear to be unusually nervous and unsettled, caused by reported failures of banks and others interested in Pennsylvania oil fields. Receipts are gradually growing less from day to day, and assuming the usual winter aspects. Shipments comparatively none.

Cash 1 hard opened with sales of a few car lots at $\frac{1}{4}$ above at 91 $\frac{1}{2}$, declined to 91 closed at 91. No. 1 northern sold at $\frac{1}{4}$ below at 86, advanced to 86 $\frac{1}{2}$ with good business, closed at 86 $\frac{1}{2}$. No. 2 northern no transactions, closed nominally at 81. December 1 hard closed at 91 $\frac{1}{2}$ bid, and No. 1 northern at 89 $\frac{1}{2}$. May 1 hard opened $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 100, good buying at 100 $\frac{1}{2}$, dropped back to 100, sold at 100 $\frac{1}{2}$ with last transactions at 100, closed at 100 $\frac{1}{2}$. Sellers. May 1 northern opened $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 95, fluctuated between 95 and 95 $\frac{1}{2}$ trading near the closed at 95, closed steady at 95 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Today's Movement.
Inspection: No. 1 hard, 5 cars; No. 1 northern, 2; No. 2, 1; No. 3, 1; No. 1 white winter, 4; rejected, 1; flux, 1; total, 94. Receipts: Wheat, 64,550 bu. Shipments: Wheat, 11,320 bu. Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 23; Great Northern, 32; total, 55.

The Flour Market.
MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—The flour output dropped 26,000 bbls last week. The aggregate production was 165,020 bbls against 191,075 bbls the week before and 136,800 bbls for the time in 1889. The bottom has gone from water power, and since Monday little flour has been ground. The water was entirely cut off from the west side mills today, and 11,000 bbls of capacity was thus placed in idleness. There were only nine mills running, and seven of them were running by steam. The flour market is inactive, especially for domestic consumption, and sales for a week back have fallen much short of manufacture. Prices are about 10¢ cheaper. There is still a good export demand for bakers'. Foreigners also seem to want low grades. Little or nothing is being done in patents for export. The export shipment for the week were again large, and a considerable portion was of patents sold a short time back. They amounted to 63,855 bbls, against 86,510 bbls the preceding week.

Minneapolis Close.
No. 1 hard, December, 82; January, 82; on track, 82; No. 1 northern, December, 86; January, 86; on track, 86; No. 2 northern, December, 81; January, 81; on track, 81.

Chicago Close.

BLAINE AND FAIR TRADE.

Shibboleth at Washington of Northwestern Members.

COMSTOCK AND HIS FRIEND STANLEY.

Day's Doings at the Houses of Congress; Good Work for West Duluth.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—The Journal's Washington special says: Henry M. Stanley ran across Congressman Comstock when he visited the press gallery of the house yesterday. When Stanley was a reporter in Omaha many years ago, Comstock resided there and knew Stanley very well. Comstock says Stanley was a thorough Bohemian in those days.

The western members of congress are doing a great deal of figuring on Blaine's chances for a Presidential nomination in 1892. Since their return to Washington it begins to look as though nearly every man from the northwest was an enthusiast of Blaine and reciprocity. While they will not all talk for publication they will tell you quietly that there is a strong sentiment in their states for Blaine in 1892. They are quite willing to omit that two years' flight of time may change the situation and that the Plumed Knight may be as far in the background then as he is in the lead of all other competitors today.

The reciprocity scheme of the secretary of state is credited with having worked up nearly all the sentiment in his favor. "Will President Harrison be a strong candidate for re-nomination?" is a question your correspondent has asked a good many of these members.

"If he is a candidate at all he certainly will be in it against Blaine," is a characteristic reply to this question. Congressman Comstock is going to make a vigorous effort to secure additional clerk hire for the West Duluth postoffice. The population has increased 5000 in the past two years but the office is still in the fourth class.

In the senate, WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In the senate Mr. Paddock presented the protest of the Farmers alliance now in convention at Ocala, Fla., against the passage of the Conger land bill. Mr. Sherman introduced three bills and one amendment to a bill, all of which were referred to the finance committee. The new bills are as follows: To amend the law relating to the refining and parting of bullion; to amend the act authorizing the receipt of gold coin in exchange for gold bars; and a bill authorizing the receipt of subsidiary coins of the United States.

The house, WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Saturday next was set aside by the day for discussion of bills reported from the committee on private land claims.

CANADIAN AFFAIRS.

Parliament Protruded; A New Dominion Militia. OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 6.—Parliament has been prorogued until some time in January. The statement that parliament will meet for the despatch of business on March 1, is entirely without foundation. No date has been fixed.

A militia general order has been issued appointing Col. Herbert, C. B., of her majesty's army to the command of the dominion militia with the rank of major general in the militia. He assumes command at once.

PLENTY OF ASSETS

But Couldn't Realize Quick Enough So Went Under. NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 6.—Late yesterday evening it was rumored that the commercial firm of V. and A. Myer & Co. was seriously embarrassed and would be compelled to suspend payment, call a meeting of creditors and ask an extension.

No official statement has yet been made but it is learned that their assets will exceed three millions, while their liabilities are much less—approximately two million dollars. In reply to request as to the cause of the firm's embarrassment Mr. Myer stated that it was due to the existing financial situation.

Ministers Sail. NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Hon. Wm. Walter Phelps, United States minister for Germany, sailed this morning on the Werra. Minister Fred Douglass, accompanied by his wife, sailed for Havre.

A Lucky Swede. CHEROKEE, Ia., Dec. 6.—Swan Gustafson, a Swede, 20 years old, who was working as a laborer here on a railroad, has just fallen heir to $5,000,000 by the death of a relative in Pennsylvania. He has left for Philadelphia to look after his fortune.

Burned to Death. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 6.—Yesterday afternoon Miss Maud Whitelaw, living at No. 2805 Thones street, was cleaning a dress with gasoline near an open grate fire. While pouring some gasoline on her dress it became ignited. An explosion followed, setting fire to her clothing, and she was so terribly burned that she died at a late hour last night.

The Imperial's Buffalo Branch. The authorities of the Lehigh road at Buffalo have let the contract for extending the farther Trift Farm canal 1500 feet, and work has begun. This extension is to provide the site for the Duluth Imperial mill's large warehouse, of which the preliminaries were arranged some time ago.

TOO BIG A ROLL.

He Showed It Freely, and is now Mysteriously Missing. DENVER, Dec. 6.—George T. McClelland, who for a past week has been a guest at the Hotel Broadway, has mysteriously disappeared. He claimed to be vice-president of the Comstock Virginia Mining company and owner of several other properties. He wrote letters to many prominent mining men. He said he had $210,000 on deposit with C. B. Richards & Co., No. 213 Broadway, New York, and a greater sum with Donatus, Kelly & Co., bankers, San Francisco. He exhibited a roll of $7500 in bills and $413,000 in drafts.

THEY WALK OUT.

The Anti-Parnellites Give an Ultimatum and Leave the Nationalist Meeting After a Stormy Session.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—At 1 o'clock today the Irish members of the house of commons, who are considering the advisability of retiring Mr. Parnell from the leadership of the nationalist party re-assembled in the committee room of the house of commons, which has been set apart for their use. It was the desire of the members to maintain the strictest secrecy regarding their proceedings, and they had requested the officials of the house to aid them in keeping outsiders away from the meeting room. In consequence, no one was allowed in the lobby adjoining the room. Even the courtiers extended to the press was suspended and no reporters were permitted in the vicinity of the place where the deliberations were taking place.

The first business transacted was the reading of Gladstone's letter, in reply to the committee consisting of Messrs. Leamy and Redmond, who represented Parnell, and Messrs. Sexton and Healy representing his opponents, who were appointed to negotiate with the liberal leader regarding the control of the Irish constabulary and a settlement of the Agrarian difficulty.

Mr. Gladstone remains firm in his determination to in no way recognize Parnell as the leader of the nationalists, and his position is emphasized by his letter in which he offers to conduct negotiations with a new Irish leader on a footing of confidence equal to that which he once accorded to Parnell. The reading of the letter was greeted with cheers by the section of the party opposing Mr. Parnell, and with ironical cries by his supporters. A strong debate followed.

Barry, Sexton and Healy made a determined attempt to bring about a final settlement. They insisted that there be an immediate division of the members on the main question before the meeting, namely, the retirement of Parnell. Finally, Sexton gave Parnell his ultimatum on this question was delayed by the chairman, Parnell, that after 6 o'clock this evening the majority of the representatives of his party would hold a meeting of their own and depose him from office. A scene of great excitement followed this announcement.

On resumption of the meeting, Mr. Abraham moved that Mr. Parnell vacate the chairmanship of the party. Mr. Parnell refused to allow the motion to be put, whereupon Mr. McCarthy, followed by forty-four other members who left the room.

In Touch With the Cable.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The Irish envoys continued in consultation this morning. They decided to leave for New York this evening, unless later advices from the scene of conflict in London shall make it expedient for them to remain here. Their object in going to New York is to get closer to the American end of the cable. They received a number of cables this morning the purport of which was the decline, for the present to make public.

Discussing the Letter.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Freeman's Journal says that Mr. Gladstone's letter was received last night and that it was considered by the committee for three hours. The document, The Journal says, was very much beyond the question of granting an interview, being something in the nature of a counter manifesto.

THE FARMERS.

They Continued Their Ocala Session This Morning and Later Adjourned.

OCALA, Dec. 6.—This is labor day of the national farmers' congress, and the delegates have adjourned in recognition of the occasion. This morning there was a mass meeting in the building of the state alliance exposition, at which addresses were made by General Master Workman Powderly, Capt. Trevillick, Grand Treasurer of the Knights of Labor Ralph Beaumont, chairman of the congressional legislative committee, and H. Martin Williams, ex-state lecturer of the Missouri Knights of Labor. This afternoon there will be speeches by representatives of the American Working Men's league, the Working Men's Reform league of New York, and the Free Coinage league.

The alliance met at 9:30 this morning. A resolution was offered by Governor Elect Buchanan to amend the platform adopted yesterday so that the president of the alliance shall not have the power to suspend the editor of any alliance newspaper organ which advocates any policy or any measures in violation of the said platform. Mr. Buchanan said that this gives too much authority to the president, and would be a dangerous precedent to establish. The amendment was discussed and referred.

For a New Party.

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 6.—A call has been issued for a national third party conference, signed by Gen. Rice and John Davis of Kansas, and seventy-five alliance members. The call includes the Farmers alliance, Farmers Mutual Benefit association, the Citizens alliance, Knights of Labor and all other industrial organizations that support the principals of the St. Louis agreement of 1890. The conference is to take place in Cincinnati Feb. 23 next.

THE PEACE PIPE ABSENT.

What the Redskins Want is Told at Council.

CLAIM TO BE STARVING AND WANT FOOD

They Will Have a Big Eat and Then Go to the War Path.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Dec. 6.—Father Jule, the Catholic priest, sent out by Gen. Brooks to the Indians, to pacify them and prevent bloodshed, has returned. The reverend father was accompanied by Jack Red Cloud, the widely respected son of the famous chief, who went more as a guide than upon the supposition that he would be of any use in making the mission a success.

The start was made Wednesday noon. They went down the White Clay creek, a very unusual route, and got lost after crossing White river. All of Thursday night they wandered about, being compelled to keep moving about in order to avoid freezing. Hunger was added to their discomfort, since they had not taken a morsel of food with them.

Ten miles from the hostile camp they were halted by the enemy's pickets who leveled their guns until an Indian runner could be sent into the camp and inquire whether or not they were to be admitted. A favorable reply was received and they proceeded, but between the muzzles of Winchester.

The camp was reached at 11 a. m. the next day and two hours later the chiefs met Father Jule in council. There were present Two Strike, Turning Bear, Short Bull, High Hawk, Crow Dog, Kicking Bear, Eagle Pipe, Big Turkey and High Pipe. The pipe of peace was conspicuous by its absence.

Father Jule opened the council by asking the chiefs to state the particular cause of the grievance that had led them to assume so startling an attitude of war. Their replies were substantially as follows:

"We object to the recent returns of the census agent. The returns as he is now giving them would not give us enough food. We receive food according to that enumeration. We shall starve; we know that we shall starve if the great father chooses to lay a trap for us. We will have one big eat before the starving time comes. After that we shall fight our last fight and the white man shall see more blood, more dead by us from our guns than ever before. Then we will go to the last hunting ground happy."

"If white man did not mean to cheat us out of food the Great Father never would have sent soldiers. There is no need of soldiers if the Great Father intended to be fair with us. We know he intends cheating us by the way the census agent is now cutting down figures that lie and by which we are to be fed. "Great Father has done another wrong, he put a new line, a new boundary between Rosebud and Pine Ridge agency that makes many of us leave our homes and give them to others. The Great Father broke the old treaty when he did this. We can no longer believe the Great Father."

Waiting the Results.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Dispatches from the Indian Territory are being awaited at army headquarters with more than ordinary anxiety today from the fact this is the date for the distribution of rations at Fort Yates, and should it pass off quietly it will be an indication that the red-skins are recovering their sober senses. The troops are all under arms and are ready to respond to field orders at a moment's notice.

Sisseton Indians Destitute.

SISSETON AGENCY, S. D., Dec. 6.—The 1200 Indians on the Sisseton and Wapeton reservations are on the verge of starvation at the opening of winter, because of the government's failure to furnish them subsistence. The interior department has authorized the expenditure of $2000 for the benefit of the Indians. Of this amount, the tribe entire must live for a period of six months through a rigorous winter.

The Indians have presented a petition to the government as follows: "We appeal to the authorities at Washington and our friends everywhere in the East to aid us as far as it be in their power. Unless we are helped in some way, great suffering and actual starvation will be the inevitable."

The Craze Contagions.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—It is said that the Cree Indians are showing signs of joining the Sioux in the Messiah craze. Many are said to have crossed the border. The Creees number about 6000. The government will take steps to prevent the union, but should the Indians once cross the border it is alleged they will not be allowed to return.

Two Wrecked Crews.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The steamer Coos Bay arrived this morning from Fort Bragg, California, bringing the crews of the steamer South Coast, which went ashore at Fort Bragg during a gale Dec. 3, and of the schooner Albion, which went ashore at Capar on the same day.

A Musical Bargain.

A new piano, one of the standard makes and has never been used, will be sold away down for cash or traded for good real estate in Duluth. Address, "Music," care Herald office.

The Zenith ice rink, corner of Third avenue east and Michigan street, is open to the public every afternoon and evening during the entire season. Band Saturday evenings.

GET $200,000.

Practical Co-operation Such as This Solves Labor Problems.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—[Special to The Herald].—The total amount paid to the employees of C. A. Pillsbury & Co. under the profit sharing system is said to be $200,000, divided between 350 men. The average daily salary of the men for seven years, since the system was adopted, has been about $3.05. There has been no trouble with employees since the system was adopted, and on the other hand they have done much more efficient work.

BRICK AT HOME.

The Builder Here to Superintend the Work of Putting up the Large Slate Brick Plant.

In answer to an urgent telegram sent by the Water Power company, R. H. Wilson, president of the Phillipsburg, N. J., brick works, arrived in the city this morning. Mr. Wilson is one of the brick experts of this country, his experience extending over many years and with the largest concerns of the country. He will superintend the erection of the first plant of the Water Power company, to be erected on the first dam to be built. Mr. Wilson has been in conference today with Mr. McIntyre, the dam builder, as to the location and details connected with the power to run the brick plant. The works is planned to turn out over 6,000,000 bricks annually, or over 20,000 per day. The manufactory will be ready for operations next spring.

SETTLERS MURDERED.

Their Lives Probably Taken by Horse Thieves.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A special says that in Greenwood county yesterday a man, woman and child were found dead. The bodies were poorly clad. In the pockets of the dead man were found two letters, one from Palmer, Ill., addressed to Thomas Potter, Englewood, Kan., and the other from someone in Englewood signing himself "Abe" to Thos. Potter, Reece, Greenwood county.

Investigation at Reece showed that about a week ago a prairie schooner, containing a man, woman and child, passed through the town, while the movers intimated that they were leaving western Kansas to return East. It is supposed that in the Flint hills, which present a dreary waste for miles, the movers encountered some of the horse thieves who make their haunts there, and that in resisting an attempt to steal his wagon the husband received his deathblow.

COKE OVENS TIED UP.

An Incipient Strike on the Baltimore & Ohio May Be Serious.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 6.—The strike of yard brakemen with several dissatisfied switchmen in Greenwood on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, still continues. The Wheeling and Connellsville divisions are badly blockaded and the coke regions are murmuring as they have been suffering lately from an extraordinary shortage of cars. Early this morning the railroad company attempted to move freights but so far have succeeded in sending out only two trains. The results of the meeting of engineers and firemen last night have not yet developed and the strike is still confined to the yard brakemen who are dissatisfied with their bosses. Officials of the road say they have sent for new men and will be able to raise the blockade within the next twenty-four hours.

Des Moines Boodle Cases.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 6.—Judge Bishop has sustained the motion of the defense, and directed the jury to find a verdict of acquittal in the case against the ex-aldermen on trial for wilful misconduct in office, in taking from the city treasury $7200 in excess of their salaries. In his ruling, the judge held that it was not for him to say whether or not the action was morally wrong but whether it was a crime under the statutes.

The Woman in It.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 6.—The members of the Deatur colored church held a so-called last night at their meeting house on La Salle street near Compton avenue, this city, and after the entertainment Edward Kinney and Emily Wilson had a fight over a colored widow. Wilson shot Kinney in the side. He is expected to die.

Mrs. Carnegie Dying.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Andrew Carnegie is lying dangerously ill with typhoid fever at her residence, 5 West Fifty-first street. Her physicians say that the case is very serious.

All Hands Drowned.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 6.—The schooner which drifted ashore at Pomquet Forks during Thursday was the W. E. Lloyd of Lockport, N. S. All hands were drowned.

Companies Defy Trades Unions.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Shipping federation has issued a manifesto defying the United Labor council, which yesterday ordered a strike of seamen and firemen employed by several of the steamship companies.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The North Dakota legislature meets Jan. 6. The term of Governor Miller expires Jan. 5. Miss Maud Whitelaw was burned to death at St. Louis yesterday while cleaning a piece of plush with gasoline.

THE PAST SOCIAL WEEK.

Doings in Duluth Social Circles for a Week.

SKETCH OF THE CECILIAN SOCIETY.

Old Settlers' Coming Banquet; Notes of Social Events and of Personals.

"Any effort with honest intention in the direction of truth, will somewhere or at some time meet with deserved success." Impelled by some such thought as this, five ladies of Duluth came together three years ago, for the purpose of uniting in musical study. Their meetings were very informal and their efforts were principally directed towards the study of the symphony, in piano arrangements for four hands. In the following year the number of musical workers was considerably enlarged and several vocalists joined with the pianists, making the afternoon's programs much more varied. The meetings were held quite regularly and were pleasant and profitable, but no regular organization was undertaken and no very definite plan of study pursued.

In the fall of '89 the ladies concluded that a more formal organization would make possible better programs and more systematic study, so a constitution was prepared, officers were chosen, and this little band of music lovers took unto itself the name of the Cecilian society of Duluth. The meetings of this society were held every two weeks on Friday and each afternoon was devoted to the study of one or more composers. Bach, Haydn, Schubert, Schumann and Chopin were some of the composers whose works were especially studied, and the year's work closed with a Beethoven recital held at Steinway hall at which many friends of the members were present.

Now, at the beginning of another season, the little society is starting with fresh enthusiasm and bright hopes for a year of pleasure and profit. The recital given by Edward Baxter Perry under the auspices of the Cecilians was a marked success—artistically and financially, and the ladies may bring one or two other artists here during the year. For its own study this season the society has chosen musical history from its beginning, to the time of Bach. The members, however, expect to alternate their meeting for historical study, with recitals partly miscellaneous and partly representing the music of living composers.

The Last Bethel Concert.
The last of the series of popular Bethel concerts will be given at the opera house next Wednesday evening. The opera house being engaged for Tuesday, the regular day for these concerts, the date had to be changed. It is safe to say that a more thoroughly enjoyable and all around satisfactory series of concerts have never before been given in Duluth, and the Bethel deserves great credit for inaugurating them and Mr. Lachmund for carrying them out so satisfactorily. The last concert will be a fitting ending for the series. The program will be rendered by Mrs. Emil Schmied, piano; Mr. Lachmund, cello; Mr. Theodore Wagners, baritone; and Mr. Claude Madden of St. Paul, a violinist of high standing. That these artists will render a program of the highest excellence goes without saying. The general admission will be 25 cents instead of ten; this is for general admission only. Those holding season tickets can exchange them for reserve seats without extra charge. The entire house is reserved, so that everyone can be sure of a seat by getting it in advance. Financially the series of Bethel concerts have not been a success, owing principally to the lack of room, but their great success in every other way cannot but be gratifying to those who have had them in charge. Lovers of music will need little urging to attend the last concert of the series.

Musical Recital.
The tenth recital by the pupils of Mrs. J. S. Dinwiddie was given last evening at Steinway hall, 105 West Superior street. They were given by the ladies' sextet, composed of Mrs. Loman, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Thwing and Misses May Morris and Jennie Moody.

The Charity Ball.
The ladies of the Relief society are pleased to make public the receipts of the charity ball. From sale of tickets $245 with expenses about $125, this balance of $120 is augmented by the $25 of church collection from the Thanksgiving service and some donations from friends who did not purchase tickets. The members of the society wish to thank Mr. Emerson for his kindness and liberality as certainly the $75 charged for the use of the house and supper in no way paid the expense incurred. To Professor Evans also, thanks are due and the success of the party is in a large measure owing to the very efficient corps of floor managers.

The Old Settlers Banquet.
The last meeting and banquet of the Old Settlers will be held at the Spaulding, Duluth, on Wednesday Dec. 10, at 2 p. m. Ed Ingalls and H. E. Laflitte are respectively president and secretary of the association. It is proposed to invite a number of "junior pioneers" to this meeting.

The Round Table.
The committee which was appointed by the Round Table club to draft a constitution and bylaws will meet next Monday evening at 7:30 at the residence of Mr. A. C. Otis, 303 East Third street.

Literature Class.
The Ladies Literature club will meet Tuesday with Mrs. Billson in Endion. The class will be led by Mrs. Gilbert and will study the French novelists George Sand and Balzac.

The following program was carried out by the Saturday club this afternoon: "Papers on the Life and Works of Charles Leburn," by Mrs. Paddock and Miss Murdoch; "Lumartine," Miss McGonagle; "Outline of Crazilla," Mrs. Woodbury; "Beranger," Mrs. Mahon;

"Readings from Beranger," Mrs. Harris. The general topic of discussion was "The Woman's Commission at the World's Fair, How Created, What are its Duties. How can it best Advance the Interests of America?"

An Information Bureau.
Since the Woman's Exchange has been established there has been a demand for information bureau. At the last meeting of the board of managers it was decided to establish such a department in connection with the work of the exchange. Women who wish to register their names at the exchange office must have a written reference from some former employer. Domestic, nurses, typewriters, plain seamstresses, and those who do any branch of women's work can register freely.

The Mystery Circle.
Eight young ladies comprising the mystery circle gave their first dance Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Inez Hibbard. There were present Miss Field, the Misses Krelwitz, Misses Hogan, Palmer and Butchard, and Messrs. Parker, Redmond, Gardner, Whitmore, Eastman, Speed and Hibbard. After the dancing pleasant refreshments were served.

Social Notes.
Mrs. A. M. Miller entertained a number of ladies at a luncheon and card party Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Barnum gave a card party at their home on East Second street, Wednesday evening. An enjoyable dancing party was given Thursday evening by Mrs. A. L. Brock at the Aye house in East First street. Claude Madden, the eminent St. Paul violinist, will be a welcome addition to the tenth Lachmund concert at the Temple Opera Wednesday, Dec. 10.

The Ladies Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church, gave a tea at the residence of Mrs. T. B. Hoover on West Third street, Wednesday afternoon and a social in the evening.

The members of the Aegis club are making preparations for a reception to be tendered to George M. Ely upon his return from the national convention of retail clerks to be held at Detroit next week.

Cards announcing the marriage of Raymond Moore to Miss Sylvia Lucette Jeffries, at Kent, Wash., to take place Dec. 9, have been received. Mr. Moore has relatives here and was formerly connected with Paine & Lardner's and other banks.

Ernest Lachmund, assisted by members of the society, gave a concert at the New London Presbyterian church last evening. A large audience was present and the affair was a success in every particular. Last evening at the Endion Baptist church James Tulloch was united in marriage to Miss Elsie J. Anderson by the Rev. George H. Keup. They received the congratulations of a large number of friends.

Artist C. H. Hatch of this city has given the ladies of Endion Baptist church an oil painting valued at $150 to $200 for their sale on Dec. 16. The gift is greatly appreciated. The ladies of the First Methodist church are making great preparations for a social to be given next Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Louden, 329 Fourth avenue west. It is in the interests of the church furnishing fund. Mrs. Stewart will give a concert on the last night of the year at the hall. Members will celebrate the anniversary of "Bobby" Burns with a very elaborate banquet. An endeavor will be made to have a speaker from the outside to respond to the toast of "Burns." On Thursday, Dec. 11, during both afternoon and evening the ladies of the Unitarian society will hold a sale of useful and fancy articles at the church, corner of Second street and first avenue east. Admission, ten cents. In the evening there will be an entertainment given by the young people. The sale will continue on Friday afternoon and a supper will be served in the evening. All are invited.

Personals.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lovett left yesterday for a visit in the East. A. J. Crossley leaves tonight over the South Shore for Northampton, Mass. G. E. Saeger has gone to Cleveland, Ohio, where he will spend the holidays. Dr. and Mrs. Alden have moved into their new residence, 1211 East Third street.

Miss Margie Smallwood has returned from Chicago where she has been visiting her aunt. E. S. Upham and wife and daughter will leave in a few days for the South, to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stone left this week on the Great Northern for a winter's stay in California. W. H. Patton left this week for Philadelphia to join his family. They will return about Jan. 1.

Mrs. W. H. Crawford, who has been visiting her son and daughter, has returned to her home in Ohio. Mrs. A. F. Rudolph has returned after an absence of six months in Minneapolis and the southwestern part of the state. Chas. Sternberg of the East Duluth Sidewalk & Pavement company, left today for Gottenburg, Sweden, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Dowse, who have been East for about three weeks on their wedding journey, have returned. Rev. W. L. Clark, pastor of the Lakeside Presbyterian church, has taken rooms for the winter at 305 East Third street.

S. J. Tomlinson, a prominent Michigan lumberman and wife, are spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. J. S. Macpherson, at Lakeside.

Mrs. John C. Hunter and family and R. M. Hunter arrived in New York from Europe a day or two ago and will be in Duluth in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holwick, who were visiting Dr. and Mrs. Ringland, returned to their home at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Monday afternoon.

J. A. Butchart, of the Merchants, left last evening for Quebec, having been summoned by a telegram announcing the death of a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wabber are expected to arrive in Duluth from Boston the 10th. They will return to the "Hub" after a short stay in town.

Mrs. D. H. Stevenson and daughter have returned from a five weeks' visit to Owatonna. Miss Stevenson's eyesight is greatly improved.

KING OF COCOAS—"ROYAL COCOA FACTORY."

Kings are but men, but all men are not kings. Therefore, when the King of Holland says, as he did by deed of August 12, 1889, that he is greatly pleased with

Van Houten's Cocoa,

and, entirely unsolicited, grants the manufacturers the sole right of styling their works the Royal Cocoa Factory, a significance attaches to the act which would not were he not "every inch a king."

Monday and Tuesday to attend the Epworth league convention.

L. H. Whipple of the firm of Myers & Whipple returns today with his family from an Ohio trip. Mrs. Harris of Athens, Ohio, sister of Mrs. Whipple, comes with them to spend the winter. Mrs. F. A. Richardson returned to Duluth yesterday from Delevan, Wis., and will be here for some time—perhaps permanently. She will make her home with her son C. E. Richardson, who latterly suffered a terrible blow in the death of his young wife.

Henry Flat and Miss Kate Jones, both of Duluth, were united in marriage Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herriek, at Superior. Rev. H. F. McDonald, of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by several friends of the contracting parties.

N. J. Upham, O. G. Brice and S. G. McConaughy went Monday to Philadelphia, where the latter was to spend Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Howell Upham, a sister of Mr. Upham. Mr. McConaughy, as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, has made a host of friends in Philadelphia, where he has been for after a tour of three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. McConaughy will take up their residence in this city living on East Third street.

A SINGERS' ROYAL GUEST.

How Madame Albani Entertains Queen Victoria at an Informal Tea.

Once every summer Queen Victoria drives over from her Balmoral castle to the Scottish Highlands, home of Madame Albani-Gye, the famous prima donna, where the latter entertains her at an informal tea. For years the Queen has made a practice of this, a compliment which her majesty bestows upon no other woman in the kingdom. It is a return for Madame Albani's appearance each year at court to sing before the Queen, and to the prima donna it affords an exceptional glimpse of England's royal sovereign.

"No outsiders are ever present," says Madame Albani, "and I see Victoria as a woman; never as a queen."

"How do you entertain your royal guest?" was asked of the prima-donna by a friend.

And for more than an hour the great singer held the uninterrupted interest of a private dinner party with the story of how she served a tea for the Queen.

So full of interest was the narrative that Madame Albani was induced to write out the account, and it will shortly appear in The Ladies' Home Journal, of Philadelphia, under the title of "Victoria at My Tea-Table." Of its freshness of interest the caption of the article is the best indication.

A copy of the last portrait taken of Queen Victoria, and printed only for her majesty and her royal family, will accompany the article. "It will be my last portrait," wrote the Queen on this presentation copy, which is the only copy possessed outside of the royal household.

Conventions and Meetings of Various Kinds

OF PAN-AMERICAN INTEREST.

The American Federation of Labor and Other Bodies in Session.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6.—The tenth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor opens here Monday, and judging by the advice received, it will be one of the most important meetings of the representatives of labor ever held in the country. Very nearly three-quarters of a million of wage workers will be represented.

President Samuel Gompers says: "The recent movement to reduce the hours of labor has been crowned with such success, the whole column of organized labor has advanced with such rapid strides for improved conditions, and the trades unions have received such an impetus that the toilers of our country have become more and more convinced of the advisability and necessity of gathering within the field of our organization."

"On the one hand the corporate and speculative classes have become more arrogant in their efforts to intimidate and crush out the spirits of toilers by methods hitherto unheard of, and on the other hand the demands of the wage workers to be large sharers of the product of their toil has become so loud and impressive that our convention of next week will without doubt, be the most important gathering of laborers hosts within the annals of history."

"We cannot allow any retrogression in the natural development of our movement. The watchword of organized labor must be upward and onward. We should bear in mind that it is not bluster that wins victories for the workers. We should make the trades union stand us in good stead in every emergency that can befall a wage-worker."

Pan-Republic Committee.
New York, Dec. 6.—The general committee of the Pan-Republic congress assembled today at the postoffice building under the presidency of William Arnoux, and with William O. McDowell of Newark as secretary. The purpose for which the committee is organized is to hold a congress of delegates of all the republics of the world and of eminent friends of popular government from all countries at some time during the period of the Columbian exposition and at some point in the United States, for the purpose of drawing the republics of the world into closer sympathy, and of discussing such legislation as shall be best for their mutual benefit and the further progress and welfare of mankind.

The conference is to be held under the auspices of the government and secured by appropriate legislation. Since the last meeting of the committee it has been enlarged to 200 members, and includes prominent men from the world over. Among the English representatives are Mr. Parnell, Mr. Labouchere, Herbert Spencer, Professor Bryce. The American members include ex-Presidents Hayes and Cleveland, Secretary Blaine, Gen. Sherman, Chauncey M. Depew, Bishop Potter, Cardinal Gibbons, David Dudley Field, Presidents Eliot of Harvard, Hutton of Princeton, and Dwight of Yale, and Low of Columbia, and Gen's. Johnston and Hooker. Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, was added to the committee this morning.

Prairie Grove Anniversary.
CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—This is the anniversary of the battle of Prairie Grove, and it is being observed this afternoon by survivors of the army of the frontier who served under Schofield and Blunt in Missouri and Arkansas by a re-union in the parlors of the Grand Pacific hotel. Tonight the veterans will get together around the banqueting table.

Ranchmen Will Resist.
ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., Dec. 6.—The ranchmen and members of the Cherokee Live Stock association say they will resist any attempt of the government to confiscate the cattle left in the strip.

A Good Investment.
Is that which yields large returns from a small outlay. Reader, the way is clear. No speculation, no chance, big returns! If you are like most of mankind you have somewhere a weakness—don't feel at all times just as you'd like to—headache today, backache tomorrow, down sick next week—all because your blood is out of order. A small outlay and what large returns! You invest in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and soon pure, fresh blood courses through your veins, and you are another being!

SOLID GIFTS.

Large Area of Rich Pine to Be Opened for Settlement: Plums to Be Given Settlers.

ASHLAND, Wis., Dec. 6.—Several thousand acres of land, mostly covered with valuable timber, will be thrown open for settlement on December 20, when Congressman McCord's bill goes into effect. The act restores to the public domain, subject to entry under the homestead law, certain lands that had been withdrawn from the market for reservoir purposes. A part of the first section of the bill says that the lands shall be subject to homestead entry only, at the land office at Ashland, Eau Claire and Wausau.

Several hundred squatters are now on the land. Some of them have been there for a year or more. Their prior residence however, gives them no more right to the land than anyone else. Whoever files first has the best claim. So far as the Ashland land office is concerned the lands to be thrown open on December 20 lie in the southwest part of Douglas county, in the northeast corner of Burnett county, and in the south half of Ashland county.

Tonight's Game.
The game of billiards which determines the championship of Minnesota, as well as the ownership of $500, to be played by Toke and Mayer at Ingalls hall this evening, promises to be the sporting event of the season, as well as a decidedly interesting entertainment.

A Hero of a Practical Joke.
Philadelphia Enquirer: A young man of about 25 is just now the hero of a select circle of friends in the southern section of the city, and in view of his peculiar history he quite deserves to be lionized. Five years ago he was a clerk in a bank on a meagre salary, and one time some of the same devoted friends of these days thought it would be a good joke to pretend the bank had been robbed and warn him that he was suspected. This a number did, only they called him up about midnight, so as to give the joke a more natural appearance. After telling him that two hours before burglars had stolen $50,000 in bank notes they added that the police were on the way to arrest him as a suspect.

It so happened that he had but two hours before been in the vicinity of the bank, and fearful of not being able to prove an alibi, he gathered his available belongings together and caught an early morning train for the north. Of course there was a big row in the vicinity of the young fellow's home and his funny friends had to leave town. Fortunately the young fellow was a bachelor, and he was not hunted up. Recently he wrote to an old acquaintance here from Montreal and after the first shock had settled down to work and gradually by lucky speculation had grown rich.

WITHOUT CUTTING UP.

Two inadvertent errors in the new tariff law are noted, an omission of a paragraph providing for a rebate on tobacco and a violation of the existing treaty with Hawaii. Both sides of the house are willing to correct these, but it is feared that opening up the way for these amendments, will open the flood gates for amendments of every kind which free trade fancy and the ambition to cut a figure will suggest. The amendment to correct the law, so far as the Hawaiian treaty is concerned, has already been introduced by Major McKinley in the ways and means committee and this ought certainly to be reported and passed. But correcting the tobacco section would inevitably reopen the entire schedule for amendment on the floor, and unless some way is devised to shut out the probable flood, the ways and means committee may decide to let the section stand as it is.

We hope that common sense will be shown in dealing with this matter, and that the house, if necessary, will adopt an unusual course, correcting such inadvertent errors without attempting to dispute the intent of the law. There is no sense or advantage to any public interest in a wrangle at this time over the tariff.

The Hessian fly has got in his fine work in Illinois and reports from many sections of that state show that this pest has done more harm this year than ever before. The wheat sown in September has suffered especially, and what was attributed to drought is now charged up beyond dispute to the fly. In our own state, however, so far as heard from, there are no flies on the farms or farmers alliance this fall. Kittel and the rest were born under lucky stars.

One of the best certificates yet given of the value of Professor Koch's discovery is furnished by Sir Joseph Lister, the eminent Scottish surgeon, to whom the medical profession owes the antiseptic method in surgery. It is reported that he has implicit confidence, by his own positive demonstration, in the new consumption cure, and announces that Koch has reached other results of even greater importance to science. Eighteen hundred and ninety is the banner year of triumph in the art of healing since the world began, if present assurances are confirmed. From now on the practice of medicine will not be groping in the dark, and it will be a black art no longer in anybody's eyes.

An observer of the day is noting the passing away of the great American cast iron stove. This will vex Eugene Field, who recently published a paean of rejoicing on his return from abroad to this country of stoves. But in Eastern cities, and in New York especially, there can be no doubt of the disappearing of this type of earlier comfort and custom. Furnaces and steam heaters of various kinds and scales have run it out, with the accompaniment of milder winters and changing taste and fashion. Fireplaces with wood fires are now preferred in the rooms of costly city houses, and little grates dot the rooms of steam-heated flats. The dominion of the stove is no longer what it was a generation ago.

Congressman Henry Cabot Lodge has put in an immigration bill, which may make his name as familiar again as his federal election bill did, the famous "Force" bill. It is probably the most stringent restrictive measure which has been introduced in congress, but The Herald for one finds no fault with its exactions. Other bills have contemplated receiving a certificate only of good character from the intending immigrant and of freedom from mental or physical disability that might make him a public charge. But Mr. Lodge would have our government do more than this, and receive of newcomers proof of a certain degree of intelligence. His test would demand that applicants for certificates should be able to read and write their native language. Popular ignorance is one of the chief perils that menace a republic, and we have an appalling mass of illiteracy of our own, without drawing on the unlimited supply in Europe. The exclusion of illiterate foreigners would benefit this country in two ways. It would tend to check the growth of the ignorant and credulous classes of our population, whose existence and increase are, socially and politically considered, the statesman's despair and the demagogue's opportunity, and it would also supplement the whole-some operation of the protective tariff in maintaining the high standards of American labor. For the unskilled laborers who crowd to America and, by their willingness to work for a pittance, depress the wages of American mechanics, are largely of the class that would be excluded by the reading and writing test of Mr. Lodge's bill. That is the kind of protection that would protect as nobody can deny.

The administration is at length getting down to business in its measures for settling the Indian troubles. It proposes to feed the starving and discontented Indians properly, and then put down any continuance of disorder with a strong hand. To master the unruly and prevent any uprising in future, the secretary of war seeks to increase the maximum strength of the army to its former force of 30,000 men of all arms. If this is done, he would enlist and equip two full regiments of Indians, and employ them at the stations about the Indian reservations, in keeping the peace and quelling outbreaks. It is admitted that the Indian scouts now in army employ are among the best troops which the government has for such service. They readily submit to military discipline and take an exceptional pride in their duties and efficiency. It would be entirely feasible to enlist the regiments proposed of first rate Indian troops, and experience has shown that confidence may be placed in their fidelity. It is judged also that these Indian recruits would keep the war department in closer touch with the Indians and give the quickest warning of danger. Feed all and employ the best in mastering the worst. That is common sense dealing with the present threat of outbreak.

SEEN AND HEARD.

The Hardy school kindergarten is a great institution. Every forenoon, at the large room in the Masonic building, a score or more of charming children assemble, and until noon they play and have such good times as only children can have. They spend the hours in nothing but play—to them. Some of the time they weave mats, and others of colored paper, then, at other times, other amusing occupations are found for them, all of which teaches them some general idea that will be useful to them in after life, although the little ones think their employment is only amusement. Some of the small "kiddies" are as dignified as their elders, and many funny remarks have been overheard. One little girl, who came to the school one morning after a walk through the crisp air, eagerly remarked to a four-year-old companion: "The atmosphere is very brisk this morning. My walk was very refreshing."

"For breakfast," said the doctor, "I take a bowl of oatmeal porridge with milk, a cup of coffee, a couple of soft-boiled eggs, when I can get them fresh, and bread or corn doughnuts with butter. At noon I take the fruits in season, or else apples, pears, bananas, pineapples or some other kind of succulent and nourishing comestibles, even if they are canned. For dinner, at 6 o'clock, I go through the menu from soup to dessert, and give an hour's time to it. At 10 o'clock I am in bed. I have none of the complaints that keep so many people grooping and that are brought on by baneful diet."

It has been suggested that the "Phoenix National bank" would be an appropriate name for the new bank which may be established in the place of Hall & Eyster's. The suggestion is not a bad one.

Talking yesterday with a leading local mining expert on aluminum and the probability of the superabundance of iron, he said: "I look for an increase in the consumption of iron resulting directly from that of aluminum. Its chief use is as an alloy and it will wonderfully extend the demand for all classes of metal. But the current opinion that wherever exists a day bank is aluminum in plenty is wrong. It was supposed that all Chicago, for instance, was underlaid by a bed of clay exceedingly rich in metal and that it could be dug up and converted. The clay is rich in the metal all right but it is not the right chemical compound to reduce economically, and it is so with most clay. The fact is that clay beds, suitable for the manufacture of aluminum are about as scarce as deposits of iron ore. I am told that the clay about Duluth is in great part suitable for reduction."

"OLE OLSON."

One of the largest houses of the season laughed at the oddities of R. L. Scott, the original "Ole Olson," last evening. The piece is a combination of comedy and melodrama, the story told being that of a Swede who saved a family from starving, spoiled the scheme of a child stealer and was instrumental in recovering a fortune to its rightful owner. "Ole Olson" is the first Swedish character ever played in English drama, and furnishes abundant material for hearty laughter. R. L. Scott makes the most of the part, and in smile making he is ably seconded by Belle Connolly, the Irish woman, and Marie Heath, who takes the soubrette role, Gentle Dimple.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Frederick Paine: The Produce Commission company will fill a long felt want, not only by its organization, but when it sells produce to customers.

Board of Trade man: No, we haven't sent a committee to wait on the Great Northern people, I hardly believe that the $1 hold-out charge will be enforced, such a fuss was made about it.

Journalistic Pleasantries.

Superior Leader: The use to which a certain junior member of a real estate firm not far from the corner of Tower avenue and Winter street claims to devote the regular issue of The Daily Leader probably accounts for the altogether unusual location of the seat of his little intelligence he is known to possess.

But They Didn't Put up.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: That the Bank of Commerce of Superior, should be compelled to close its doors notwithstanding the loyal manner in which the other banks and business men of the city came to its aid when the run was started on it last week indicates a more serious condition of affairs there than was at first supposed to exist.

The Prices of Farm Produce Improving. Cincinnati Enquirer: I sat down with John W. Bookwalter of Springfield, Ohio. "Now," said Mr. Bookwalter, "I make the prediction that the next boom in the United States is going to be in farm lands. I had the foresight several years ago to buy a large quantity of land in Kansas and Nebraska—the very states that have been swept over by this protest against the McKinley bill. My argument was that we had taken up nearly all the good lands. That is so much the case now that there is, literally speaking, no more great West to occupy. The only way we can add to the productive lands of the United States hereafter is by reclaiming the swamp lands and by irrigating the desert and dry lands. Both of those processes are very slow and very expensive. The natural land has been taken up, and if in large quantities that means a subdivision into small quantities, and with the subdivision must ensue higher prices for land."

Mr. Bookwalter took out a pencil and began to demonstrate to the following effect:

"We are now able to export a surplusage of breadstuffs and other food enough to supply only 3,000,000 people. All the rest that is raised out of the ground is consumed by our 63,000,000 or more of Americans. At the present rate of the increase of our population, and considering the fact that the supply of new land, we shall in six years eat ourselves everything that we raise in the country. This is so inevitable that there is going to be an increase of the farming population; it is going to pay hereafter to be a farmer. When we have no surplus to export, the world still desiring to partake of our crops, the prices must go higher, and I think that the farmer, after having had a few years of low prices, is going to have good rates speedily."

"They are a little better now than they have been, and he feels encouraged. This occupation of the soil, extends also to the cattle ranches, of which there are fewer than there were. In short, the country is settled up, whereas for about twenty years we have been rushing upon new land, breaking up too much soil, and making the competition too great among the farmers."

Gold Disturbed by Bankers.

Indianapolis Journal: "Do you know that gold is the most unwieldy of all the different kinds of money now in circulation?" said a prominent banker.

"Why?" was asked.

"Because it is not bankable without careful scrutiny."

"How is that?"

"Simply this: Take a greenback, a silver certificate, a gold certificate or a national bank note to your bank, and it is received and placed to your credit without a moment's delay. Not so with gold. A few days ago a gentleman brought to our bank upward of $3000 in gold of different denominations, and was much provoked because we would not receive it forthwith, and give him credit with the amount the face of the coin represented. This we could not do, because the law requires that gold shall be redeemed only at its actual value. Coins carried in the pocket for any length of time naturally lose something in weight by abrasion, probably but a fractional part of a cent on a $10 piece, but it is a loss, nevertheless, and bankers cannot give credit for gold deposit until the coin shall have been weighed."

ORDER FOR HEARING ON CLAIMS.

COUNTY OF ST. LOUIS.

In Probate Court, Special Term, December 2nd, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Young, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of said deceased being this day granted unto Oscar L. Young, of said county.

It is ordered, That all claims and demands of all persons against said estate be presented to this court for examination and allowance, at the Probate Office in Duluth, in said county, on Monday, the twenty-ninth day of June, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock a. m.

It is further ordered, That six months from the date hereof be allowed to creditors to present their claims against said estate, at the expiration of which time all claims not presented to said court, or not proven to its satisfaction, shall be forever barred, unless for cause shown further time be allowed.

Ordered further, That notice of the time and place of the hearing and examination of said claims and demands shall be given by publishing this order on Wednesday in each week, for three successive weeks, prior to the day appointed for such examination, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth, in said county.

Dated at Duluth, the second day of December, A. D. 1890.

By the Court,
FREDERICK AYER,
Judge of Probate.

EVENING SESSIONS

Parsons' Business College

Are now open, at which the student receives the same advantages as during the day. Pupils can enter the Business, Short Hand or Literary Course and receive either individual or class instruction. Special pains will be taken to advance any who may wish to study the Common English Branches. Young and middle-aged men and women who wish to advance their prospects in life cannot do better than spend their leisure evenings at this institution.

WHAT WE TEACH.

We teach Bookkeeping, by single and double entry, in a thorough, scientific and practical manner. We teach Actual Business by training students in the transactions of real life, by the use of offices representing the various commercial pursuits, and by correspondence between the students of Parsons' Chain of Colleges. We teach Banking by the use of a genuine bank of real money. Students deposit and handle actual money, and thereby learn the art of transacting bona fide business. We teach Rapid Business Calculations, and our students become ready, accurate accountants. We teach plain, practical, rapid style of business writing.

Proof, Our Students Become Good Penmen.

We teach the Laws of Business, by means of recitations from a text book of our own, and by a thorough course of lectures. Frequent examinations and reviews are held. Students are carefully questioned on every point presented in the lectures, and no pains are spared to impart to every pupil not only an accurate knowledge of business laws, but also a thorough acquaintance with the principles which underlie the welfare of the state and the rights and duties of the citizens.

The teacher in this branch is a graduate of the Law Department of Michigan University, and numbers among the former pupils two prominent judges and a score of able lawyers.

We teach the Munson System of Shorthand and use the Remington Typewriter. Our students attain a higher degree of proficiency in these branches and secure good paying situations. At present the demand for our graduates is far greater than we have been able to supply.

Ten thousand of our graduates in the highest ranks of business, professional and political life in all the cities from Detroit to Duluth, attest the practical values of our course of instruction.

They are found—not a few of them—among the heaviest pine dealers of Duluth, in the legislative halls and the executive councils of the State of Michigan on the staff of Gen. Alger and Gov. Luce, on the judicial bench, and at the head and in the front rank of the strongest and best reforms of the nation.

Citizens of Duluth, if you wish your sons and daughters trained to habits of high thinking, and fearless, decisive action in all the vocations and duties of life, send them to an Institution of learning, whose graduates are among the strongest and ablest thinkers of the land. We are willing our work should be judged by results. Question any of our graduates. Examine their record. If you find that success as the result of high intellectual development is written upon the banner of every faithful, diligent student who has gone forth from our ranks, give the credit where it belongs. Send your sons and daughters to Parsons' Business College. The College is in charge of

Prof. A. C. Parsons,

Founder of Parsons' Michigan Chain of Business Colleges and a graduate of Oberlin College and the Law Department of Michigan University. In the State of Michigan, during the past twenty years, thousands of young men have gone out from these Colleges who are today conspicuous leaders in business, professional and political life.

ADDED TO THE LIST.

Another Fine Factory Will Start Up Next Week.

THE WEST DULUTH FURNITURE CO.

Collected News of the Day from West Duluth and the West End.

The machinery for the new furniture factory has all arrived, and is rapidly being put in place. The engine is of 150 horse power and from the Griffith & Wedge company at Zanesville, Ohio. There are two 50-inch, six-flue, steel boilers. The company will run its own dynamo and light the entire buildings and yards. Hot air pipes run all through the building and they are substantially and warmly built. Work will go on as well in winter as summer.

There are two buildings, each 60 by 150 feet, two full stories high, built of red brick and upon the most substantial stone foundations. The engine house is 36 feet square. A side track runs along by the packing house and dry house doors, and everything is arranged for convenience. Several car loads of lumber have already been received and put in the dry houses, and work of manufacturing will begin about Dec. 20. The site is very commanding, and taken altogether it is no wonder that President Frank Barrett and Superintendent John P. Morrow are much pleased with the outlook.

Mr. Redman, late of the Phoenix Furniture company of Grand Rapids, is to be foreman, and has the reputation of being a first-class man for the place. In a few days, therefore, another splendid industry will be added to our booming manufacturing town.

The New Charter.
There was a meeting in the city hall last evening to talk over the matter of a city charter. J. T. Gunniss presided and J. D. Boyd read and explained some of the provisions of a charter which was drawn up by the council of 1889 and some other citizens. In the main those present seemed satisfied with most of the charter as it was, but some points elicited argument and will undoubtedly be changed as it was agreed that a committee of citizens act with the council and look the matter up more fully.

West Duluth Notes.
Miss Flossie Moore has nearly recovered from her attack of the measles, but the four younger members of the family are all down sick with the same disease. Niel Darrah will accept a position with the Terminal Railway company. M. J. Costello of Elk river is in town a guest of R. D. Cogin. A trip to Alaska is what many would like to take, but as most of us can not do this the next best thing will be to listen to one who has personally visited this wonderful country. Mr. W. W. Sanford will give an account of his trip to Alaska with stereopticon at the Baptist church Friday evening, Dec. 12, 7:30 p.m. The postoffice will be removed this evening to the Silvey building and people will have plenty of room tomorrow which they will appreciate.

C. A. Everett says he is in favor of an increase of the pay of jurymen. Within a year he has served on one corner's jury, two justice court juries, one term on the grand jury, on the condemnation jury in the Grand avenue cases, and now is summoned on the United States circuit court at St. Paul. On all these cases he has had to sacrifice his business and almost get nothing at all for time spent.

West Duluth Churches.
Baptist church—Sunday morning subject "The Duty of the hour," evening subject, "Salvation to the Chief of Sinners." Lord's supper at close of evening service.

Congregational church, 10:30 a. m. Subject "Sweet and Garbaged," 7:30 p. m. lecture on "Oliver Cromwell and the Puritan Revolution." Congregational church service at New Duluth at 3 p. m.

The morning services at the Methodist church will be held at 10:30, followed by Sabbath school at 11:45. In the evening at 7:30. Epworth league meeting, Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Presbyterian church, services Sunday at 10:30 a. m., subject, "None of Those Things More Me." Evening at 7:30 p. m., "Come and See."

At the Episcopal chapel on Grand avenue there will be lay services at 10:30 a. m. and in the evening a sermon by the pastor.

Gentlemen's clothing neatly, cheaply and promptly repaired at the corner of Grand and Central avenue, up outside stairs.

WEST END.
The statements made relative to the Bell bank seem to inspire confidence in the depositors at the West End, and all hope to realize something on their deposits very soon.

The Ladies Aid society of the Second Baptist church will give a social entertainment Tuesday evening, Dec. 9, at the church. All are welcome.

John Heuser left today for his old home in Canada, where he will spend the winter.

Thomas Roen, formerly of West Duluth, is very sick at the house of N. C. Biley, 2511 West Second street.

West End Churches.
Dr. J. C. W. Cox will not preach at Grace Methodist church at 10:30 o'clock. Regular services will be held.

Reopening.
Green, the photographer, has sold out, but will reopen in the rooms recently vacated by L. M. Cornany, Phoenix block, Monday, Dec. 8.

Mrs. K. B. Olson at 1705 West Superior street, has the finest stock of painted banners, shopping bags, etc., ever seen in Duluth. There are more beautiful Christmas presents than these goods.

CELEBRATE A BIRTHDAY.

A White Stone Day for Methodism in Duluth.

A CHURCH DEDICATED AT LAKESIDE.

The Energetic Society Celebrates Therein Its First Year of Existence.

Just one year ago today a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing a Methodist society at Lester Park. The society was organized with eighteen members and the following were elected as trustees of the organization: William C. Sargent, A. W. Bradley, Henry N. Brown, C. E. Shannon, E. J. C. Brown, M. W. Lewis and Arthur E. Brown.

The organization completed immediate steps were taken towards securing a church building, and the new edifice which today stands completed and ready for the dedicating services which will be held tomorrow is the result of just one year's work. It is purely a Lester Park enterprise and the good people of that suburb may well feel proud of it. Through the assistance of the Lakeside Land company a suitable site was obtained on the corner of East and Grand avenues. Palmer & Hall donated the plans, specifications and superintendence of the structure. The entire cost of the site and building was about $8000.

The building is a frame one, but from an architectural point of view is one of the handsomest at the head of the lakes. It is Gothic in design, entirely covered with shingles and painted a handsome dark green.

The auditorium is large and well-lighted. The seats are oak and are arranged in amphitheater style. The seating capacity is about 250. A feature which attracts everybody are the three large stained glass windows furnished by Brown & Haywood of Minneapolis. The cushions were partially donated by George A. French & Co. and the carpets by Herman Beier. In the rear of the auditorium are the parlors and Sunday school rooms. A handsome mantle and grate, from the store of J. J. & R. A. Costello adorns the parlor. In the basement is the kitchen which will be furnished with a range to be used for social gatherings. The entire building is heated by a furnace furnished by Burrell & Little.

As before stated the dedicatory services will be held in the church tomorrow morning at 10:15, one year and a day from the day of organization of the society, and a special program has been prepared. The dedicatory service will be delivered by C. C. Mandeville, D. D., of Chicago, assisted by Dr. Stocking of the First church, Duluth; Rev. C. C. Merritt of Onondaga and Rev. S. S. Forbes, the pastor of the new church. The latter is a graduate of Evanston university and has resided at Lester Park since October, but no regular services have been held heretofore. The musical program will be in charge of Professor Myers. No services will be held at the First Methodist church and the members of that church with their friends are urged to attend the dedicatory services. A special train will leave the Union depot at 9:30 o'clock and ample facilities for transportation will be furnished.

AT CITY CHURCHES.
Sunday Services at Many of Them; A Lot of Interesting Topics.

It is not intended in the following to note all the church services of Duluth, but merely those where special topics are discussed tomorrow. A full church directory will be found elsewhere.

Epworth Baptist—Morning topic: "An Old Man Called to His Life Work." Evening subject: "Cora in Egypt." Communion at close of morning service. Pilgrim Congregational church—Morning subject: "The Mote and the Beam." Y. P. S. C. B. at 6:40. St. Paul's Episcopal church—Holy communion, 8 a. m.; holy communion and sermon, 11 a. m., subject: "What Has Evolution to Say About Man." Evening service and sermon, 7:30 p. m. Meeting of Ladies Aid society in the church, Monday, 3 p. m.

Bethel—Illustrated lecture 7:30 p. m., "The Gift of Healing Then and Now—at Berlin and Jerusalem."

St. John's English Lutheran church at Parsons college hall, No. 18 Superior street—Rev. H. L. McMurray, pastor. Services Sunday at 10:30 a. m., subject: "The Sign of His Coming." Sunday school at 11:40. Evening services at 7:30.

First Presbyterian church. Morning subject, "The Apostate Apostle." In the evening the seventh of the lectures on "Gerees." There will be no morning services at the First Methodist church. The church will join with the Lester Park church in dedicatory services. In the evening the subject will be "The Epworth League as the Latest Development of the M. E. Church."

Unitarian services, Sunday evening in the city hall at 7:10. A cordial welcome to all. Rev. T. Jefferson Volentine, minister.

Christian Church—Morning theme, "What We Are Here For." Evening sermon on "The Bible a Lamp for the Path of Life." First Unitarian church—Subject: "Life Beyond the Grave."

CHARTER CHANGES.
No Very Radical Inferences From the City Laws.

The council committee on revision of the city charter met yesterday afternoon and read a large portion of the charter, but made no material changes.

I don't intend to make any very radical changes, the most important one being a clause which will provide for the sale of property for delinquent assessments by the city comptroller instead of by the county auditor, thereby saving considerable money to the city.

NEARLY ALL PAID.

Over $10,000 Paid by the City on the Forestal Contracts.

The city treasurer has already paid out over $10,000 to the laborers on the Forestal Bros' contracts. There are about sixty men yet to be paid and that will require about $600.

This money is paid out under the direction of A. H. Truett as agent for the bondsmen and practically amounts to their paying the money while they receive the estimates allowed by the council. In this way the amount beyond the estimates must be shouldered by the bondsmen instead of the city.

South Shore Prominent Officials.

A special train from Marquette brought to Duluth last night at six o'clock, F. N. Finney, vice-president of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and the Soo roads; W. F. Fitch, general manager of the South Shore, and his wife; D. M. Philbrin, South Shore superintendent; F. C. Gibbs, Minneapolis, A. H. Wright, Milwaukee and P. H. Stafford, Marquette. The party put up at the Spaulding, some of them afterwards enjoying the theater. Mr. Finney went to Minneapolis last night, the others remaining in the city during today. "Business has opened very well for the South Shore," said a member of the party. As to matters affecting the condition of the South Shore, Geo. and Red Wing & Southern the officials were very close mouthed.

Trained Animals.

Prof. D. B. Harburt's Hippocorynagon was booked this morning for a performance at the Temple next Saturday. In explanation: The Hippocorynagon is a show of trained animals. A part of the program is taken up with Max Zimmerman's band of gymnasts.

Changes in Time.

The Duluth & Winnipeg puts a new time table into effect at once. It changes the time of the west bound train only. A change also goes into effect on the Iron Range, affecting two suburban trains.

In Lower Court.

In the police court this morning, Mollie Murray, an old timer, fat, not fat, and forty and colored, was sent up for ten days on the same old charge drunk. Three other drunks were assessed $5 or seven days with the street gang. J. H. Isban and J. C. Van Norman failed to appear as jurors and they were brought in on the charge of contempt of court. They gave good excuses and were discharged.

OF WINTER SPORTS.

Skating Takes the Bun Over Everything Now.

TONIGHT'S FINAL BILLIARD PLAYING

Winds Up the Tournament; Ledger Footings of the Clubs; Notes of Sport.

King Winter is here, with all its attendant sports. Skating has begun, and in a month more the toboggan slide and all the rest of the cold weather amusements will come to stay with us two months and more. Duluth is a summer resort, she should be a place where winter lovers could hold high carnival. In the winter there is no Canadian city like Montreal; in both winter and summer there should be no city like Duluth in the United States. We have the environments and advantages that make Montreal the veritable home of the ice-crowned king. Why should not Duluth be a winter as well as a summer resort.

Tols and Meyer play billiards tonight, the third game of their championship series. The man who wins tonight will have conferred upon himself the title of champion of the Northwest. Bets are in Tols's favor with few takers.

[Pittsburgh Leader.]

There was a little league
So promising and bright,
That made a great big blizzard
And quite a show of light.
It lived one little year,
Then dropped into the soup,
So please excuse a tearlet;
It's not our way to weep.

Billy Tols says: "If Meyer wins the game he will have to play better billiards than he did in the two first games."

"WOE IS ME!"

Lament of Secretary Brunell Over What "Might Have Been."

Secretary Brunell of the Players' league has set to work with his little pencil and figured out the losses of both leagues. This work is a sequel to his spring arithmetic in which he figured out $300,000 gain for the Players.

"The losses of the Players' league clubs during the season were light considering the fight, and not, at a conservative estimate, much more than half as heavy as those of the National League clubs. Here are some more estimates as they come to me:

Clubs.	Players' League.	National League.
Boston.....	$15,000	$45,000
New York.....	20,000	60,000
Philadelphia.....	15,000	45,000
Cleveland.....	20,000	60,000
Pittsburgh.....	15,000	45,000
Buffalo.....	10,000	30,000
Brooklyn.....	15,000	45,000
Chicago.....	10,000	30,000
Total.....	$125,000	$375,000

"Not a League club made money. Palmer O'Neill claims that Pittsburgh lost $57,000. The Players league figures are nearer correct than those of the National league.

"To the Players National league losses may be added the equipment costs in round numbers, about as follows: "Boston, $40,000; New York, $30,000; Philadelphia, $35,000; Brooklyn, $41,000, but not paid for by the club, but by outsiders, who also assumed the rent; Chicago, $25,000; Cleveland, $20,000; Pittsburgh, $15,000; Buffalo, $13,000, $10,000 of which were paid to Love and White for the old international franchise in the shape of stock in the new club, $2500 cash or notes and debts of theirs assumed by the new company. This shows a total investment for plants of $215,000, which, added to $125,000 lost, shows a grand total of $340,000. In this is included the cost of running the league for the expensive year, about $45,000, including all legal fees, etc. What did the Players league get for this money? Players and franchisees which, if bought in non-interfering times, were worth $1,000,000 at a low estimate under baseball prices for the last two preceding seasons. Sold judiciously in a group, such property and the prospect incident on a clean field without serious competition and reduced costs in operating the game, was worth at least $400,000 to the old masters—not masters at all while the Players league was in the field. 'Oh, it was pitiful!'"

Bicycle Gossip.

The first ladies' club in Detroit has been organized as "The Detroit Lady Cyclers."

The cushion-tired bicycle is being put upon the market, and is meeting with favor for road use.

The wheeling season in Australia begins with September and is in full swing until May. From all indications this season will eclipse all previous years, both in racing and touring.

A number of Harvard men are planning to take a trip through France on bicycles next summer. A quartet of Swarthmore students travelled through England in that manner a few years ago.

At the request of a large number of wheelmen the Staten Island Athletic club has changed one of the bicycle events at its Madison Square garden meeting to a race for safeties. This is the two mile race set for Friday evening, Dec. 15. The regular race, which is a three mile ride, will be on the evening of the 11th.

An "Icecycle" has been patented in the United States and Canada that, it is thought, will have an exclusive sale, especially in the latter country. It partakes somewhat of the appearance of a tricycle, there being two runners in front, and the power is secured from a rear driving wheel, from the tire of which protrude small spikes.

Baseball Notes.

Loftus and Coniskey will winter in Dubuque.

Ed Crane is now one of the howling swells of South Boston.

Artie Latham will play third bag in Cincinnati next year.

John Irwin claims that Buffalo still owes him $800 for back salary.

After a year's rest, Fred Dunlap is ready to resume work on the diamond.

John M. Ward has invested largely in electric railway stock in Uniontown, Penn.

Tom McCarthy, the dashing little right fielder of the St. Louis Browns, has signed for the season for more money than he received before.

According to Secretary Brunell's official figures the home receipts of the Boston Players league club last season was $88,385.90. This was outside the privileges.

Kyan, Pfeiffer and Farrell were stockholders in the Players' league club of Chicago. The stockholders will be paid pro rata out of the sum realized out of the sale to Spalding.

All Sorts.

John Teemer has been offered the position of trainer of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Boat club.

Dean's Donohue, ex-champion amateur sculler of America, will spend this winter in Toronto, working at his trade of cigar making.

The Iverna is said to be the fastest sailing yacht ever turned out across the herring pond. She is said to be much faster than the Thistle.

Cornell university has added a gun club to its sporting institutions.

Harry McMurphy is going to challenge J. R. Elliott to shoot for the American Field Cup, now held by the latter.

The colored pugilist, Peter Jackson, sailed Thursday from Sydney, on the steamer Mariposa for America.

J. G. Gaudaur, the famous sculler, has bought the hotel at the Narrows, Lake Couchiching, Ontario, and will make his home in future in the neighborhood where he was born. He takes possession in a few weeks.

Minnesota's Best Talent.

The precision, delicacy of touch and steadiness of nerve essential to a good game of billiards will be illustrated by Minnesota's best talent. It is too bad that it cannot be arranged so that ladies may witness it, as in other large cities.

It is expected that a large number of Mayer's friends will accompany the St. Paul man, and letting will no doubt be very spirited.

THE MINNESOTA MINE.

Next Year's Output Expected to Reach 600,000 Tons.

The output of the Minnesota mine this year, while an increase over last year's, did not reach the estimates made during the fore part of the season, or a year ago. Assistant Manager Pope says:

"There were two, possibly three, causes for our shortened output. The burning of No. 8 shaft early in the season and the cave in at No. 8 pit without doubt cut down our output some 60,000 tons, as No. 8 was the most productive shaft of the mine. In addition to this remains the fact that we could have worked more men were they to have been had. With the above advantages our year's work would have amounted to about 600,000 tons. However, we are now again in splendid working condition and I see no reason why it should not reach that figure next year."

OFFICIAL PREPARATIONS.

President Gage Talks on Matters Pertaining to the Fair.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—President Lyman J. Gage of the Columbian exposition says that no attempt will be made to float the newly authorized issue of $5,000,000 for at least six or nine months.

"Before we shall call on the government, we will spend $5,000,000 out of $5,000,000 capital stock. After that we will call upon our city reserve fund, but not until it is absolutely necessary. By this mode nearly a year's interest will be saved."

Vice-President Bryan is preparing a certified copy of the World's fair bond ordinance and collecting affidavits and papers tending to show the legality of Chicago's assurance that she is ready for the World's fair. On Monday Director Peck and Secretary Butterworth will present these documents, together with the rules and regulations governing foreign exhibitors to President Harrison for his consideration in framing the proclamation to the nations of the world.

Wanted—A Change.

Old King Solomon said: "There is nothing new under the sun." Probably he made the remark in a fit of disgust after vainly endeavoring to quiet some hair-pulling discussion among the thousand ladies who each claimed a share in him as a husband. At any rate, the mind of man is so constituted as to desire change, variety, something new.

The world is built on that plan, too. No two mountains are just alike. No two faces in all the world's millions are exactly similar. Shakespeare said of one of his characters: "Age cannot wither or custom stale his infinite variety." No man likes to have, or should have, his life always bounded between four walls.

We all like to have a change of scene now and then to see new faces, to travel to far countries. The United States has a greater variety of climate and scenery within its borders than any of the Old World states. About now is a good time to plan a journey to the South—the land of delightful winter resorts. Low rates are made for excursionists, and "The Burlington" is the route par excellence to all points South. For tickets and information call on any of its agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

THE HERALD BINDERY.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. For sale by druggists.

Relative Values.

Referring to the lot on the corner of State and Madison streets, Chicago, the value of which was estimated of sixteen thousand five hundred dollars per foot, it is worthy of note that in every town there is always a center of extraordinary value, and values fall off rapidly in all directions according to their distance from this, as out in the outskirts (of Chicago) where platting is going on it would take more than a hundred acres, and two or three miles further a thousand acres to equal this lot in value.

Belmont Park and Sharp's additions are but a few blocks from the center of values in West Duluth. This fact, in connection with the paving of Central Avenue through Sharp's Addition, makes lots there the best investment at the head of Lake Superior. Besides, the best residence part of West Duluth will be between the foot hill and the boulevard.

CITY BRIEFS.

A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wieland.

The steamer H. R. Dixon will leave Sunday morning for Port Arthur, making her last trip of the season.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at Pioneer Fuel company's office, Hotel St. Louis, 336 Superior street: 12 m. 18°; 3 p. m. 22°; 6 p. m. 23°; 9 p. m. 20°; 7 a. m. 16°; 9 a. m. 16°; 12 m. 20°; maximum 24°; minimum, 16°; daily range, 8°.

The Cottonwood Lumber company is closing its business in Superior and moving away.

The last ferry trip of the year was made last night. The ferry company is well satisfied with the business done and will procure two boats for next season, one to be built and another to be bought. During the winter the company will make many improvements and procure permanent dock facilities.

The rumor that a fine summer hotel is to be built on Minnesota Point for next season's business is revived. There is nothing in it, at least not for 1891.

The receipts of wheat still continue light. Only 115 cars were inspected yesterday.

Board of trade men think that the Eastern Minnesota will enforce its $1 charge on cars marked "hold out."

Licenses to sell were granted today to John Stavo and Henrietta Jentoff, Ole Tanske and Belle Dunham.

Timothy Sheehan, a former subject of Queen Victoria, took out first papers today.

PERSONAL.

E. M. Miller left this morning for a visit to Rochester, N. Y.

F. B. Smith, Chicago; John Donahue, Detroit; E. D. Gibbey, St. Paul; R. D. Watson, Fargo, N. D., are registered at the St. Louis.

Among the guests at The Spalding today are H. P. Gleason, George H. Green, L. W. Heyman, New York; A. L. Reid, Boston; R. M. Hall, Fredonia, N. Y.; John Watkins, H. C. Hellen, Chicago; J. J. Mueser, Aberdeen, S. D.; C. S. Cairns, Minneapolis; E. W. Tucker, Milwaukee. A. J. Whiteman returned this morning from a business trip to New York.

Fred Doty of Buffalo, who has been visiting friends in the city several days, left this afternoon for St. Paul.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A very agreeable surprise party was given last night at the residence of Mrs. Will Parsons, 1409 Beach street, in honor of Mr. Parsons' birthday. Dancing, music and cards contributed to the enjoyment of about thirty guests, and a most delightful time was spent.

DREDGE CONTRACTS.

Work for Next Year Let This Afternoon: The Successful Bidders.

Bids were opened this afternoon for the enlarging of the channel between Rice's and Grassy Points. The first work on this channel was begun last year, the government appropriating $60,000 for the purpose. The contract let today is for the completion of the channel to a sufficient depth and width to admit the passage of large boats.

The contracts were let as follows: Grand Marais—Williams, Daugherty & Upham, 20 cents; C. S. Barker, 23 cents. St. Louis bay—Williams, Daugherty & Upham, 14 cents; C. S. Barker, 15 cents. Maj. Quinn takes great satisfaction in the fact that, while in all other dredging districts prices have been raised, in his district contracts have been let at a reduced figure.

Elder Services.

On the first Sunday in December of each year the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks hold a lodge of sorrow, and the Duluth lodge, in consequence, will meet at its hall in the St. Louis hotel building tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock for this purpose. The services will be conducted by members of the lodge and visitors are invited to attend.

Some Important Chicago Shipping Cases.

FOR VIOLATING THE INTERSTATE LAW.

Duluth Markets for the Close of the Week; Local Rates.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The indictments returned by the federal grand jury against the railroads yesterday for violating the interstate commerce laws, has created great excitement in railroad and commercial circles. Board of trade men are especially interested, as the action of the grand jury strikes at the root of a practice of which the smaller dealers have long been complaining.

In the pursuit of their business they have found that a few heavy firms on the board have been able to secure rebates from the railroads on grain shipments from western points to this city which enabled them to sell grain at rates which would ruin the smaller men. It is this which has made business on the board for several years unprofitable for any except the heavy dealers and the lucky speculators.

N. H. Warren of the firm of N. H. Warren & Co., commission men on the board of trade, for granting rebates to whom General Freight Agent Miller of the Burlington was indicted, has told a reporter the story as he told it to the grand jury. He said that his firm had some thirty elevators in Nebraska, which, together with its corn cribs, represent an investment of $200,000, and continued: "We kept on doing business until about eighteen months ago, when men like Connelman and Armour came in and offered such prices as drove us out of business. They would buy the grain under our noses and set it down here in Chicago at two cents less than we could. It was apparent that they had some advantage over us in rates of transportation. We noticed that the grain was taken off the Burlington & Missouri River railroad as soon as possible—at Omaha, generally—and shipped by some other route to Chicago. A good deal of it came over the Santa Fe and Rock Island.

I appealed to Miller of the Burlington, to carry out its solemn agreement to protect us in rates. We had done a business that was worth as much as $1,000,000 a year to the railroad company. He said the interstate commerce law prohibited cutting rates and was exceedingly strict. I told him we did not want to violate the law, but we must have rates to protect us against competing lines or else go out of business. The indictment of President John M. Egan grow out of an allowance made to a certain firm to construct grain elevators at stations where no railway facilities existed and was in lieu of elevator charges.

Local Market.

The week's closed with a dull and declining market. The first transactions were made in May No. 1 hard at $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ below last night's close. May wheat rallied $\frac{1}{4}$ on second sales, followed by a long period of inactivity, when business was resumed at 1 below. Cash wheat, first trading at 2 decline on No. 1 hard and $\frac{1}{2}$ lower for No. 1 northern. The premium on May wheat over December widened out, commencing at 3, advanced to $\frac{3}{4}$, which is an index of the tightness of money matters. The bulk of transactions throughout the session were mainly in changing December over to May.

Cash No. 1 hard small transactions in car lots reported at 2 below at 80, closed at 82 $\frac{1}{2}$. Cash 1 northern opened with light business in car lots at $\frac{1}{2}$ below at 85, closed at 84. No. 2 northern neglected, closed $\frac{2}{3}$ lower at 78 $\frac{1}{2}$. December 1 hard, no transactions, closed $\frac{2}{3}$ lower at 88 $\frac{1}{2}$. December 1 northern, opened $\frac{1}{2}$ lower at 85, sold at 84, closed at 84. May No. 1 hard, opened $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ below at 94 $\frac{1}{2}$, followed by sales of several car lots at 93 $\frac{1}{2}$, closed at 93 $\frac{1}{2}$. May 1 northern commenced at $\frac{1}{2}$ below at 91 $\frac{1}{2}$, dropped to 94, closed at 94.

A Bad Statement Again.

New York, Dec. 6.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes:

Reserve, decrease.....	$2,512,000
Loans, increase.....	3,221,000
Specie, decrease.....	4,830,300
Legal tenders, increase.....	241,800
Deposits, decrease.....	1,654,000
Circulation, decrease.....	8,900

The banks now hold $429,550 less than the requirements of the 25 per cent rule.

Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, December, 88; January, 87; on track, 88; No. 1 northern, December, 85; January, 84; on track, 85; No. 2 northern, December, 81; January, 80; on track, 81.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(15 p. m.)—Wheat, cash, 89; January, 91 $\frac{1}{2}$; May, 92 $\frac{1}{2}$; corn, steady; cash, 51; December, 51 $\frac{1}{2}$; January, 50 $\frac{1}{2}$; May, 53 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Today's Movement.

Inspection: No. 1 hard, 13 cars; No. 1 northern, 88; No. 2, 7; No. 3, 1; no grade, 3; oats, 1; flax, 1; total, 112. Receipts: Wheat, 26,000 bu.; corn, 250 bu.; flax, 2,750 bu. Shipments: Flax, 120 bu. Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 66; Great Northern, 25; total, 91.

Weekly Grain Movement.

Duluth Market Report: Estimating receipts of wheat today at 75,000 bu., receipts for the week will aggregate about 628,000 bu. Estimating that no wheat will be shipped today shipments for the week will foot up to about 10,000 bu. This indicates an increase in stock of wheat in store of about 612,000 bu during the week. Our stock of other grain will show but slight changes. Oats and flax seed probably slightly increased this week.

DUN'S REVIEW.

An Encouraging Outlook for Finances in General.

New York, Dec. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The stringency in commercial loans last week is now almost the only remaining cause of disturbance. The influence of European troubles has passed. Foreign commerce is heavily in favor of this country. There has been improvement in the disposition of banks and money lenders to give necessary support to legitimate business, curtailing speculative advances as far as possible. Their wiser disposition is shown in the much larger volume of clearing house certificates and larger loans here, and in discharges from "other places." The cheapness of cotton at the South, and the delay of winter weather at the North have reduced transactions and caused tardiness in collections. In general, the volume of trade throughout the country is so heavy that, with the advance of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent in prices since a year ago, larger supplies of money are absorbed. The amount of currency in circulation is now over \$15,804,000,000, being \$87,000,000 larger than a year ago. Demand for finished products of iron and steel are still large, though distinctly less than a month ago, and rails are weak with scanty sales. The failures during the last seven days number, for the United States, 252, and for Canada, 30, a total of 312, as compared with a total of 249 last week.

A WEB-FOOTED GIRL.

A Freak Which Arrived at New York from Bremen; Going to Minneapolis.

New York, Dec. 6.—Jennie Clipier, is the name of a little girl who arrived in the steamer yesterday and whose appearance at the barge office was greeted with considerable interest. Jennie, who is 9 years old, was accompanied by her father and mother, and the interest she caused arose from the fact that her fingers are all attached to one another by a web-like skin that prevents them from acting independently. They are, in fact, webbed like the feet of a duck, and her parents said her toes were attached to one another in the same manner. Jennie is a blonde with light brown hair and blue eyes. She can read and write in German. The family is bound for Minneapolis, Minn.

LEVY BROS., PROP'S.

Both Better and Cheaper.

The Royal Baking Powder, as an actual fact, is the most economical in use of any made, because of its greatly superior strength.

Both the United States and Canadian Governments in the reports of their investigation of baking powders have published this fact officially.

The other baking powders known in this vicinity are shown by chemical tests to contain from 20 to 80 per cent. less leavening-gas than the Royal. So the Royal, even should it cost more than the others, would be much the cheaper.

In addition to this the superior flavor, sweetness, wholesomeness and delicacy of the food raised by Royal Baking Powder would make any difference in cost insignificant.

When the Royal makes finer and more wholesome food at a less cost, which every housekeeper familiar with it will affirm, why not discard altogether the old-fashioned methods of soda and sour milk, or homemade mixture of cream of tartar and soda, and use it exclusively?

HIS KNOWLEDGE ON TAP.

Bill Nye Answers Another Batch of Inquiries.

A COLLECTION OF FUGITIVE FACTS

About Calvary, Libby Prison, Managerial Prevaricators, McKinley Bill and Slot Machines.

[Copyright, 1890, by Edgar W. Nye.]

The following notes and inquiries are waiting for reply this month, and I hasten to attend to them in this issue of the paper. Others are in hand, but space will forbid my attention to them for some time at least, if not even longer than that.

Mr. St. Clair Hinckley of South Mandan, writes to know "if it is really true that a company has been organized to acquire title to Calvary for exhibition purposes, and if so, briefly, what are the particulars? Is Libby prison on exhibition?"

Such a syndicate—an unparliamentary one—has been formed in London with Sir Andrew Clarke as the head. It is not always the Yankee who buys up holy ground for such purposes.

The idea is to put a barbed wire fence around Calvary and other places of sacred interest and charge an admission. Whether Kirby will give his spectacular show inside the enclosure every evening, closing with a ballet, I do not know, but the sultan has granted to the new corporation special privileges in Asiatic Turkey and Palestine. So that those who desire to see this sacred spot before admission is charged should lose no time in going.

Certainly the commercial spirit has advanced with rapid strides during the past 2000 years. Some time ago a man living in California whose wife had been dead for ten years removed the body from its original place of burial, and on opening the casket it was found that the body was completely petrified. The husband, who had long wished to pay a visit to his old home in New England, therefore started out, giving exhibitions of the body in order to pay expenses, as he was a poor man and had not visited his boyhood home for many years.

He did well, traveling in good style all the way, and taking his time to make the trip and see the sights. Reaching a town of some size, he would get out some doggers, hire a rink for a day or two and do first rate. His attraction was tractable, easily managed, no board to pay, no quarrels, no late hours or dissipation. All was comfortable, quiet and respectable. It partook of the solemn, fearful nature of a public funeral, with the comforting box office reports of "The Clemenceau Case."

People came from a long distance to see the petrified partner of the door-tender, who was bawled in tears. People who had infested funerals for years came and brought their families. Also their dinners. They speak of it yet with pride.

A friend of mine, who is a sort of scientist, sort of a self-made scientist, who has kept it very quiet, shrinking as he does from publicity, the publishers also shrinking from publishing his writings, asked the husband if it would be possible for the advancement of science to obtain at a reasonable figure a toe or finger of the remains. He had no hope of doing so, but he was that kind of man. He would do anything in the world for science. So the impresario broke off a finger as you would divide your stick of peppermint candy with a friend, and when the scientist took out his check book to adjust the claim, and asked rather apprehensively what the price would be, the stricken man said: "Well, of course I don't know what I'd ort for to charge ye; but do you think six bits would be too much?"

He was like everybody who is careful of small matters, viz., an ass in heavy transactions. He could just as well have charged the scientist $25 as seventy-five cents. Did you ever see a skinflint who could successfully operate on a big scale?

I CANNOT PASS A SLOT MACHINE.

On second thought, however, there is a notable exception comes to my mind now. It is a man in New York who is worth at least a score of millions of dollars, and yet he hangs around in the depot sometimes for hours waiting for some one to put a nickel in the slot of the little locomotive model, so that he can hear it play and "see the wheels go round." Twice he has maddened me by this course. He knows my weakness. He knows that I cannot pass a slot machine, even if it be out of order, without monkeying with it, and so he follows me around at the depot sometimes for hours hoping I will start one up.

Artemus Ward used to tell about two New England brothers who met after a separation of ten years and saluted each other as follows:

"Hallo, Henry! By George, how be ye?"

"Oh, tolerable for an old man. How be you?"

"Wall, fair to middlin'. What's the news?"

"Oh, nawthin' speshal. 'Member that old hoss I used to hev?"

"Sho! Yis, yis, of couse. What of him? Is he dead?"

"No. I sold him!"

"Thundah!"

"Yis. Got $150 faw him."

"Well, well, well! Must hev picked up a suckah, didn't ye? Who did ye sell him tew?"

"Guess."

"My patience! I never could guess in fawty years. Who d'ye sell him tew, Henry?"

"Well, sir, I sold him to mothah."

As Americans we allow few other nations to outdo us in thrift, but I admit that lately several of them have laugh on us. In Berlin a while ago when the procession turned out to do honor to Von Moltke, the thrifty Germans turned their coats inside out because it sprinkled during the march, and now along comes an English syndicate with royal permission to inclose and sell hot pop corn or start a razzle dazzle on the site of the crucifixion.

Libby prison is removed now to Chicago and is exactly reproduced. It is also one of the best war museums in the country. Among other things there I noticed recently a picture of Gen. B. Harrison, taken in war times, as Riley would say, when the army broke out. It is a photograph in uniform and is quite plain. If it had been used during the campaign of 1890 I think the results would have been different.

The uniform was no doubt been hastily and has no doubt been bitterly regretted since by the man who did it. It was put on hurriedly also, I would say, upon hearing the call to arms. The sleeves are made long, so as to obviate the necessity for mittens, and should have been rolled up before the picture was taken. The trousers are made full at the hips and gores, evidently for an Englishman, while the bosom of the coat is flaccid and prehensile.

In the picture Gen. Harrison wears his hair long, and his whiskers strive in vain to look warlike. The picture does not inspire one with awe. Many go to look at it because it is said to be his only photograph in uniform. But few are awed by it. Many hundred go way apparently pleased about something. If I were Gen. Harrison I would buy it at an early date and conceal it. I would not mind the price.

S. G. G., Dallas, Texas, writes: "I see that you are advertised to lecture in several Texas cities this season. Is it true that you are to be here this season?"

No, it is not true; at least, I think not. After the reunion and camp fire of the men who think they are managing me of course I can tell better. One man especially is quite obnoxious to me in this way. He makes engagements for me and then consults me about it afterward. He made a triumphal tour for me again this year before saying anything to me about it, and when I refused to go he wrote the committees that I was dangerously ill. The letters are now coming in on every mail inquiring about it. This party has every year asked me if he might join the joyful multitude of men who manage me, but I have annually requested him to let my affairs alone. He does not seem to be able to control himself, however; so this year he planned a preliminary farewell tour and contracted with quite a number of cities.

IN LIBBY PRISON.

Then he came blithely to me and asked me to throw up my other engagements and go. I hate to have these misunderstandings, and "would rather follow my manager to his grave" than see him act that way.

Mastodon, South Brooklyn, asks: "Can you not say a word against the dark closets and clothes presses which infest this country? They make me very hot sometimes. Oh! will you not throw light on the dark closet? I cannot think of anything more poignant than of a nervous man in the dark closet trying to find the key to the wine cellar in his wife's other dress, when he fears every moment that she will return and discover him."

Yes, the unlighted and ill ventilated clothes closet is a most disagreeable feature of our modern civilization, and I feel like rising as one man to protest against it. It is not healthful. It is not convenient. It is not nice.

A friend of mine the other day was called hurriedly west. His wife packed his grip for him, and hastily throwing his overcoat over his arm he jumped into a close carriage and lit out. As the train sailed out of the depot a friend on board said:

"Going to Chicago?"

"Expect to go out a good deal there, I presume."

"Oh, no. Going on business."

"Ah! thought you would probably mingle in the giddy whirl a good deal whilst there."

"Why?"

"Well, I see you have your dress suit on your arm."

Sure enough, he had though he had his satin lined overcoat over his arm, and was on his way to Chicago with a dress suit instead. It was a case of dark closet. I dislike this institution, and hope the day is not far distant when air and light will be admitted to the clothes closets of this country, so that poor, weak man will not find himself in church at evening service wearing his wife's crocheted petticoat around his neck, because it is annoying to those who are sensitive to ridicule.

Eltingville, Staten Island, asks who was the author of the popular poem entitled "My Daddy Underlirt."

The poem was written by Willis B. Hawkins, then on The Chicago News. The Chicago News has so many beautiful and brainy things from "Gene Field's pen that everything funny and bright that is unsigned is apt to be credited to Mr. Field; but this poem was written by Hawkins. It was, in brief, a funny description of how the flannel lingerie of the old gentleman gradually shrank to meet the demands of the older son, then the second, and so on till the baby closed the deal.

It was credited to Mr. Field, and a big flannel manufacturer, who had the honor of shrinking his goods before they left the factory, sent him a bolt of bright red flannel, not for its intrinsic value, but as a recognition of genuine genius and worth.

Whenever Gene desired to make Hawkins hot he would pull up his sleeve and show him the nice warm wristband of his unshrinkable flannels.

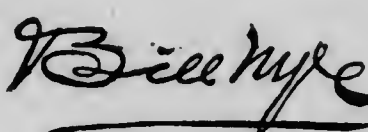

Amity, Scorbatic, Plainfield, N. J., asks: "What do you think was the cause of the great political change last election? Was it because people did not understand the McKinley bill?"

No, I think not. I am a republican with tariff reform tendencies, and I am quite sure it was not because the people failed to understand the bill. That is charging the American nation with a degree of ignorance which 65,000,000 people could hardly possess, it seems to me.

When I lived in Wyoming I ran for the legislature. I was defeated. On counting the votes, it occurred to me that the people of Wyoming had a political or personal repugnance for me and did not desire to have me legislate for them.

It was not because they misunderstood the bill.

A charming little brochure is just out containing gems of oratory from Ingersoll, Blaine, Daniel Dougherty and Chauncey M. Depew. They are the mature thoughts of these great men, and are entirely new, never having been published before or even publicly delivered. The book contains about 300 pages, well printed and carefully and neatly bound. It was compiled by an old stenographer who was for ten years an after dinner cabman, and thus was enabled to hear and take down some of the oratorical gems which these eminent gentlemen afterward wished they had expressed at the dinner. The author asks me to kindly withhold his name.

Causes of Death.

Shakespeare says, "Men have died and worms have eaten them, but not for love." Some one else says very few men die of age. Death is the result of disarrangement, personal, mental or bodily, or accident. We often see the strong man cut down suddenly, and the invalid living his fourscore years and ten. The fact is that the strong man uses up his strength, and the weak one nurses the little given him. The passions certainly shorten life, and sometimes suddenly end it. "Choked" with passion is very often not an exaggeration. The lower animals which live temperate lives have their prescribed term of years.

The horse lives twenty-five years, the ox fifteen or twenty, the hog ten or twelve, the rabbit eight or nine, the guinea pig six or seven. The numbers all bear proportion to the time the animal takes to grow to its full size. Man is the only animal that seldom comes up to the average. He ought to live 100 years, according to the physiological law, for five times twenty are 100, but he scarcely reaches an average of four times the growing period. To sum it all up, man is the most hard working and laborious of animals, also the most irregular and intemperate. He is irritable and often wears out, or is consumed by fire of his own reflection.

Kindness Unappreciated.

Youth's Companion: A little boy who did not know what it was to feel the effects of poison ivy one day carried an armful of its autumn tinted leaves to his teacher and laid them on her desk as a pleasant surprise. That morning she came late to school and approached her chair just as the head master had finished conducting devotions. She glanced at the offering on her desk, started back and put her handkerchief to her face.

"Who brought this?" she called, with one glance at the leaves.

The little boy rose, proud of receiving public thanks.

"Take it away at once," was the peremptory command. "The smell, the very sight of it, poisons me."

"Poor Johnnie, very much depressed," gathered it in his arms and deposited it in the waste basket.

"Not there," said the teacher; "the janitor might touch it. Go down and put it in the furnace."

Then Johnnie, amid the titters of his fellows, took his embarrassed way out of the room. All his pleasant anticipations had been turned to bitterness by the mortifying fact that he had done the wrong thing.

Graves in the Crimea.

Boston Transcript: Some interesting results were obtained from the archaeological explorations carried on in the Crimea during last summer. Prof. Vesselski found painted human bones in two graves—six skeletons in one grave and one in another. The well-known archaeologist, Prof. Grempler, of Breslau, who was present last year at the congress of archaeologists at Moscow, is of opinion that these graves belonged to the original inhabitants of the Crimea, the Chimerians of Herodotus. It was a usage with them to lay their dead on elevated spots so that the birds might consume the flesh. When quite bleached they painted the skeletons with some mineral pigment. Graves containing such painted skeletons have been found in Central Asia, but only in a few instances. Only three such graves had been previously found in the Crimea. Prof. Grempler proposes to take the skeletons with him to Paris, and exhibit them at the congress of anthropologists to be held there during autumn.

What Krause's Headache Capsules Are.

These capsules were prescribed long before the days of antipyrine—which, as is well known, has a depressing influence on the heart and causes a derangement of the kidneys. No drug-gist should advise or recommend the use of antipyrine any more than chloral, morphine, etc., unless under the direction of a physician. Every box sold on a positive guarantee. THE NATURE OF CURE.

Professor Rene Bach on the Lymph and Bacilli.

IDEAS OF A NOTED MEDICAL EXPERT.

Who Explains the Nature of the Injected Curative Agent and Its Result.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—What is the nature of this lymph which Professor Koch injects into people's veins for the cure of consumption?

The medical authorities of the government here in Washington have been forming most interesting conjectures on the point, their original notion being that the lymph in question was a solution of what are called "phagocytes." But this theory has been abandoned as untenable, for the simple reason that Dr. Koch's fluid is sterilized, that is to say, it has no life in it and cannot, therefore, contain such things as phagocytes. There is only one other conclusion apparent to the great official physicians at the capital. This is that the mysterious injection must be of a material known as "ptomaine."

This "ptomaine" is one of the most interesting and peculiar substances imaginable. At the army medical museum here, Dr. Billings will show you a glass tube stopped at its open end with cotton, with some gelatine at the bottom. The gelatine, after being put into the tube to be begun with, was heated in an oven until all the germs of whatever sort in the tube were killed. Then a wire, previously rubbed upon a scrap of diseased tissue taken from a dead person or animal affected by tuberculosis, was inserted into the tube and scratched once or twice across the surface of the gelatine. The deadly germs, finding food to their taste, immediately began to multiply, so that within a few days enough of them were produced to inoculate with consumption the entire population of Washington.

Now a single one of these myriad germs might be made by a simple operation to produce tubercular consumption in your own lungs. By chemical processes, may be separated from them their own particular poison, which, injected into the veins of a human being, will produce, not the disease itself, but merely the symptoms that accompany it ordinarily. This poison is called "ptomaine."

To illustrate what this means, take the case of typhoid fever. From the germs of that complaint is readily obtained by chemical means its "ptomaine." The disease itself is an inflammation of a certain portion of the bowels. But, when you are inoculated with the typhoid ptomaine, you have not this inflammation, but merely the fever and other outward symptoms.

It is the same way with all the other horrible complaints, such as carbuncle, diphtheria, pneumonia, etc., of which the museum keeps on hand stores of germs bottled up for each kind a ptomaine is obtainable.

But, happily, some kinds of these symptom-producing cells found in the ptomaines are deadly foes of other kinds, and the medical authorities at Washington are at present disposed to believe—not being able to imagine any alternative—that Professor Koch has discovered a kind of ptomaine which fatally attacks the bacilli of consumption or any other sort of tubercular life.

Inasmuch as there are not fewer than 500,000 or 600,000 people in the United States at present who are afflicted with consumption, it is not surprising that this new discovery should have created a widespread interest on this side of the water. It is estimated that 1,000,000 persons die each year in Europe from tuberculosis, mostly of the lungs, and one individual out of every seven born into the world is destroyed by the disease. Supposing that Professor Koch's invention is as represented, he is incomparably the greatest benefactor of mankind known to history.

Suppose that, as constantly happens, one breathes in a tubercular bacillus—may be on a street car, where they are apt to swarm. If one is thoroughly well, its attempt to find a lodgment is likely to be resisted by the healthy tissues. But, if one should be troubled with such a thing as a cold in the chest, for example, the little fox might succeed in getting a resting place in one of the air cells which compose the lungs, where there was some inflammation and the phagocytes were not in condition to gobble it up. Having accomplished this much, the bacillus immediately begins to propagate its kind with great rapidity, throwing off four or six infant cells of its own sort, which in turn multiply progressively. The presence of a colony of these creatures sets up an inflammation which soon results in the breaking down of a small portion of tissue. In and around this portion of dead, cheesy matter the germs go on multiplying, though nature tries to shut them off from the rest of the lung by surrounding their colony with a cellular envelope. This is made what is called a "tubercle."

Unfortunately the tubercle in its early stages is filled with veins, through which the bacilli are communicated to other parts of the lung, and in this way the whole organ may become rapidly affected. Of course, the tubercles occupy with dead matter the air spaces, and so diminish the breathing room. But the way in which people are ordinarily killed by consumption is different. The tubercles attack the upper part of the lung, inflammation induces suppuration, there is quick death of tissue and the patient succumbs. Such is the disease for which a cure is said to have been found in its commencing stages. But tuberculosis is a complaint that attacks many parts of the body besides the lungs—in the glands in the throat or elsewhere, the joints, the bones and the skin. In all such places the bacilli are much more readily got at and the tubercles broken up by kneading the parts. The cases of disease touched by Professor Koch's discovery is a most extensive one, entirely outside of consumption of the lungs.

People say: Why does not Professor Koch communicate at once the ingredients of his lymph to the world? Perhaps it is because he knows that the publishing of the secret before sufficient and satisfactory experiments have been concluded might seriously interfere with the results he hopes for. What has been the fate of Dr. Brown-Sequard's elixir of life? Physicians today are largely of the opinion that there is something in that elixir. But quacks took it up and manufactured it for themselves, advertising to make old people young; failures or worse were made on all sides in the administration of what purported to be Dr. Sequard's preparation, and the consequence has been fiasco. Professor Koch is even now instructing many young physicians secretly in the composition of his remedy, which will very soon be placed at the disposal of mankind in the shape of a prescription. If it fulfills expectations, the United States government ought to erect gigantic hospitals for the treatment of consumptives. At all events, it is to be hoped that the greatest curse of the human race is on the point of being to a great extent removed.

NEW EVENING WRAPS.

Some of the Prettiest of Designs for the Present Winter.

The latter days of the century are making evident the fact that the dwellers in this republican country are in the matter of personal adornment rising with and in some cases surpassing the aristocracy in European lands. Year by year the demand of society people in our big cities grows more complex and extravagant, and our women strive to see which shall pile upon her person the most unique and costly raiment. Besides the dainty underwear, the gloves, shoes, hosiery and other minor articles, the leaders of society must have their gowns by the score, with hats and bonnets to match; they must have their parasols, fans, muffs, their costly furs, their tailor coats and other wraps. And with the beginning of the series of dinners, dances and opera nights, they require the most sumptuous and elegant of evening wraps that can be contrived. These garments may be varied in shape, size and style, but the materials must be as rich and costly as the purse can buy, and its beauty can be enhanced by rare fur and feather trimmings, and jeweled embroidery or passementerie. If the wrap is small and short it may be modelled after these designs by Reifern, of which the first is a cape of pale yellow cloth lined with bronze brown velvet, and made with cape epaulettes of the same velvet. A braided design in brown and gold mixed braid is on the front corners, and a band of ostrich feathers shading from brown to light yellow borders the entire wrap. The high Medici collar is lined with jet.

The other model is a small dolman of peach blossom satin, with bands of leaf green velvet arranged in points down the back, which is finished with a fancy silk fringe of the contrasted colors. The sleeves are covered with an intricate braiding in green and silver and are bordered like the collar with a band of sable.

AN INTERESTING NEW YORK LETTER.

Sardun's Already Famous Thermidor; Notes of the Drama and the Theater.

Next week "Little Lord Fauntleroy," with Dick, the groceryman, the gruff earl and the rest, holds dates on the evenings of the 8th and 9th. This pretty piece is too well known to need any extended description. Sufficient is it to say that St. Paul papers speak very favorably of the company now producing it.

On the evening of the 10th the Bethel entertainment should pack the house, while on the 11th comes Lutteman's Sextet, made up by C. Frohman, P. Erickson and C. Smith, tenors; N. Lonnemark, G. Kindlundh and E. Schill, bass. Hugo Lutteman, the great Stockholm director and manager, has charge of this tour.

Manager Miller has filled the week beginning the 15th with excellent entertainment. The six days are divided between "Twelve Temptations," Sol Smith Russell and "McCarthy's Mishaps," "The Great Metropolis" will be the only attraction on Christmas week.

Chicago Tribune: "The man I am looking for," said the detective in a low tone to the conductor, "travels sometimes as an actor. I have reason to think he is in this car."

The detective threw an egg against the door at the opposite end of the car, where it broke with a dull, sickening thud.

A man half way down the aisle at once made a frenzied attempt to crawl under his seat, and the next instant was dragged out and handcuffed.

"This is the man!" exclaimed the detective, triumphantly.

All of M. Sardun's admirers hope that he will take his revenge for "Cleopatra" in his new comedy of "Thermidor," which was read recently to the artists of the Comedie-Francaise, says the Paris correspondent of The Mirror. Sardun is a millionaire, and has no need to write pieces that have no other merit than that of making money. "Thermidor" will stand or fall upon its dramatic merits. It is an historical piece, recounting in a dramatic manner the fall of Robespierre. Interwoven with this page of history there is an intrigue of which the actor Labussiere is one of the heroes.

The first act takes place on the borders of the Seine, near the old island of the Louviers, which no longer exists; the second in the chamber of Jacqueline, the costumer of the Comedie-Francaise; the third, in Labussiere's room, represents a meeting of the committee of public safety; the fourth shows us the courtyard of the conciergerie and the departure of the last cart load of prisoners for the place of execution. The third scene is an echo of the famous sitting of the convention which put an end to Robespierre's dictatorship; at each instant a messenger arrives from the assembly, bringing news of the struggle against Robespierre.

There are twenty-seven roles, of which three are important. Labussiere, to be played by Coquelin-Huon; Martial Hugon, a soldier; by Fabienne Lecouteux, by Mlle. Dartet.

One of the most interesting incidents of the Middleton campaign to the outside public was the visit of Mr. Gladstone to Madame Patti after the concert in the Music hall in Edinburgh. The few favored witnesses of the interview describe very fully how, after the congratulations and salutations were over, the great orator and the diva seated themselves on a sofa and began to discuss most earnestly the relative merits of the various lozenges they used in their respective callings, and Mr. Gladstone received from Madame the one she found most efficacious, and consumed it on the spot with greatunction.

A great deal has been written about that "grossly immoral" drama "Clemenceau Case." As the prohibition of the mails to Tolstoi's book caused its wonderful popularity, so the New York papers, in condemning this play as vile, gave it an advertisement that makes the thing pay. As for the sensationalism with which the piece has been invested, that is purely American veneer. When first played in New York it attracted no particular attention. Only when a shameless woman paraded herself in flesh colored full tights did the prurient mind rush to see it and to write of it in pretended condemnation. It is this spirit which is keeping the sensational interest awake today.

There is in the much-talked of studio scene nothing to raise a hubbub about. The curtain rises on the studio of Pierre-Clemenceau. Standing upon the model's platform is the wife, posing for a statue. She is clad in form-fitting white and stands with her side to the audience. In her hand she holds a light silken drapery which partially conceals the outlines

BOOKS AND BOOK-MAKERS

A Milwaukee Librarian on the City's New Building.

TO BE THE BEST IN THE WEST.

Many Notes of the New Books Out for the Holiday Trade.

Milwaukee is to build a fine public library and museum building, and Librarian Linderfelt has lately been looking up plans. He says: "We visited Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, New Haven and Boston. I visited the various libraries about Boston and then visited successively Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, Ann Arbor and Muskegon, Mich. At Washington I was told that the library of congress would be finished in about four years, and it has been building for years. It will cost about $2,000,000. It will have room for 500,000 books and have the ideal book-shelf."

"We saw a good many buildings that were built for from $100,000 to $400,000. At Muskegon is one of the handsomest in the country, has cost Mr. Hackley, who presented it to the city, $110,000 for the building alone. A good many in different cities have been given by private individuals. In the little town of Woburn, just out of Boston, a very fine and beautiful building has been erected, very striking externally but not practically arranged within. While the new Carnegie library, given to Alleghany City and costing $300,000, is a very fine structure, its interior arrangement is unsatisfactory. The case is the same with the new public library in Boston, opposite Trinity church, which has already cost $1,200,000 and will require another $500,000. Architecturally it is the most pleasing building imaginable, but the arrangement is poor. The Buffalo library and museum is probably the best arranged of its class. It cost $300,000 and is built on a three-cornered lot. The library is on the main floor, with the museum on the ground floor."

Milwaukee is to have the library and museum in separate buildings, although they will join each other. This will decrease fire risk, and enable each to locate its principal departments on the ground floor. The library part will have one large circulating room for the public, and attached to it a back room, to accommodate 150,000 volumes their cataloging rooms, work rooms and the like. A large reference library room capable of accommodating at least 200 readers and opening from it special booths or studies where persons may carry on special research, and which can be locked and kept in order for them while they are out. Separate reading-rooms, one for newspapers, another for periodicals, and a ladies reading room. A separate reading and delivery room for children. Also rooms for special collections; one for patent reports, one for Milwaukee publication, books by local authors and books about the city; one as an art room, and one lighted from above for the display of engravings and art illustrations. A vault to keep especially rare books, and where newspapers can be stored. A lecture room also. Also a music room. The idea is to have a circulating library of musical scores, all the best compositions and so on.

A Laurel-Crowned Series. A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, issue a series which they appropriately call laurel-crowned. There are tales, such as a Vicar of Wakefield, Rasselas, Abdulla, Raphael, Epicurean, and Perriola, and letters, such as those models of Lord Chesterfield, written to his son and godson. They are all handsomely printed in handy size, on excellent paper, with neat binding and gilt top. The books are quite elegant and are sold at the low price of $1 each and with such an admirable selection at such a price no one can say he cannot afford to own such classics. The Best Letters of Lord Chesterfield, the latest in the series, cannot add to the grace of both body and mind of every reader, and should be read, and their words heeded by this stiff and graceless generation.

Some Fall Fiction. "The Bridge of the Gods," a tale of Indian Oregon, just out by A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, is one of the fall novels that once taken up is hard to leave. It weaves a well told romance about the great federation of mountain tribes two hundred years ago, with the life of a New England ascetic who gives his life for salvation. To build his story the author has assimilated a quantity of Indian traditions and romantic story and the graphic pictures of the convulsion of nature, when the volcanoes of the coast were active, the fall of the natural bridge of the Columbia and the story of the white daughter of the war chief, add great interest. It is sold at $1.25.

The latest work of Ellen Okney Kirk is a story partially explained by the following lines:

A little child, a limber elf,
Singing, dancing to itself;
A dainty thing with red, round cheeks,
That always finds, and never seeks."

Miss Kirk is known the world over as the gifted author of "The Story of Margaret Kent," and her other writings are nearly as popular. "Walford" is not drawn upon conventional lines. In it as in other of her books there is somewhat of a talent, an insight that seems to belong to a great novelist who has come from an earlier time. "Walford" is a story of love and a child. It is a pretty story, sweetly told. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., $1.25.

"Diana's Livery," a peculiar exposition of Shakerism, by Eva McGlasson, is a book just issued by Harper & Brothers. The writer aims to describe the essence of the subject and with a number of odd characters whose lives make up the typical members of a slow though not always peaceful community, tells a pleasant tale. The inability of the heart to exist without love and at the same time accept the doctrines of the sect, forms the dead heart of an otherwise perfect organization. The hero and heroine are very human, so much so as to make the story altogether within the limits of possibility and always true to nature.

Good Books for the Young People. Three Vassar girls have "done" Switzerland, and Elizabeth W. Champney describes what they saw and experienced in a very attractive book from the press of Estes & Lauriat, entitled "Three Vassar Girls in Switzerland." Young people who have read Mrs. Champney's "Three Vassar Girls Abroad" and "Three Vassar Girls in England" need only be told that the new book is uniform with the books of the Vassar series to arouse a desire to learn how the "girls" got along in the country of the Swiss.

The study of folk-lore is a science by itself, and already has its societies and its organ. One of the most untiring workers in this field is Joseph Jacobs, who has collected forty-three tales among the English and their descendants in America and Australia, and put them into a volume with the title, "English Fairy Tales."

"How New England Was Made" contains many historical incidents of the early settlement of several New England towns and woven them into an interesting book. "Two Little Tots on Their Way through the Year" is prettily told in verse and picture. Beginning with January, the tots are shown shivering through the winter, playing through the spring and summer, and getting ready for cold weather in the fall.

Estes & Lauriat's Chatterbox for 1890 is a volume which, like the former issues, will prove a delight to the young people. All the young people fancy "Chatterbox," for it is a king among juvenile publications, so full of good reading and with so little of nonsense generally found in such publications. The reading is all that can be desired, for it covers a wide range of topics and is instructive and amusing. And the illustrations are so excellently done that there is nothing to be desired except more of such pleasing literature. Nearly fifty tons of this paper are used in this king of juveniles, and month after month the presses turn out the printed material for the holiday demand.

On The Book Table. Captain King's novel "Between the Lines" has won high praise from the foremost military authorities in Great Britain.

Harper & Brothers have just published the eleventh bound volume of "Harper's Young People," also "Freedom Triumphant," the concluding volume of Charles Carleton Coffin's history of the civil war.

D. Lothrop company issued Dec. 1, the first number of a new illustrated quarterly, entitled "Best Things." It is a large twenty-four page paper, fully illustrated, and its design is to afford good reading for the family and to suggest high ideals of life.

Rev. F. L. Clark, president of the united societies of Christian Endeavor, has in press with D. Lothrop company, "Ways and Means," treating of the organization and conduct of Christian Endeavor societies.

The number of Harper's Weekly issued on Dec. 3, contains an article on "The New Indian Messiah," by Lieut. Marion P. Maus, aide-de-camp of Gen. Miles. It

The J. G. Cupples company, Boston, will soon issue a very dainty holiday book entitled "Auntie's Elfin Land." It is a collection of fairy stories; or, rather, the combined histories of three children who had most strange adventures in the land of "the little folk." The book will commend itself to those who are in search of holiday gifts for children who have outgrown nursery rhymes.

"The Story of my House," the new book by George H. Ellwanger, author of "The Garden's Story," which is to be published shortly by D. Appleton & Co., is described as a fine example of dainty book-making. Though seemingly devoted to the house proper, the author's essays reproduce the fresh spirit of country life and the beauty of nature.

Inazo Nitobe, a Japanese writer, in a historical sketch on "The Intercourse Between the United States and Japan," pays a handsome compliment to the author of "The Mikado's Empire," Dr. William Elliot Griffis.

"A Washington Bible Class," by Gail Hamilton, might have for its motto Professor Huxley's declaration: "I have always advocated the reading of the Bible. It is so certain to my mind that the Bible contains within itself the refutation of nine-tenths of the mixture of sophistical metaphysics and old-world superstition which has been piled around it." This vigorous Bible class seems to have followed the straight lines of Bible teaching, throwing to one side "sophistical metaphysics" and "old-world superstitions." Its first objective point, What does the Bible teach? Its second, What does the Bible mean?

IG. WRIT IT. He is the Author of "Cesar's Column" but Used a Nom de Plume.

The author of "Cesar's Column," the latest politico-economic romance, is none other than Ignatius Donnelly. The book has made some little stir. The name given on the title page as the author was "Edward Boisgilbert, M. D." and as this was given out by the publishers to be a nom de plume the book was credited to various writers.

Mr. Donnelly admits that he was the author of the book. He used a nom de plume in order to prevent the adverse personal criticism "The Great Cryptogram" had excited. The book has gone through ten editions and is selling at the rate of 1000 a week.

A LESSON IN GEOGRAPHY. The Thorough Way in Which the German Child is Taught.

Mr. H. H. Boyesen, writing in The Christian Union of educational reform in Germany, is of the opinion that the Germans are disposed to over-educate their children; that they pay too little attention to the development of the body, and too much to that of the mind. Making due allowance for this tendency, he finds much that is admirable in instruction of the primary and secondary German school, and relates some of his experiences in the best schools of Berlin.

He one day obtained a permit to be present at the lesson in geography in the lowest class, the Sexta. The pupils were all boys about 8 or 9 years old.

This was the second or third lesson of the school year, and accordingly very elementary. The teacher, a man, called up a small boy and asked him pleasantly where he lived. The boy replied that he lived in Ritter strasse.

"Where is Ritter strasse?" asked the teacher.

"Number 171."

"Mark on the blackboard the place where your house is. Right. Now, when you started for school this morning in what direction did you walk?"

The little boy looked for a moment perplexed, and the teacher said: "Did you walk North, South, East or West?"

"I don't know."

"Then let us find out. Was the sun shining when you started from home?"

"Yes."

"Did you have the sun behind you or in front of you, or on your right or left hand?"

"For a while I had it in front of me."

"In what direction did you then walk?"

"Toward the East."

"Right. And how long did you walk toward the East? Or did you continue to walk toward the East all of the time?"

KEEP OFF CONSUMPTION

It may turn out that Professor Koch's wonderful remedy will not prove efficacious in curing obstinate cases, but none the less an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. Nothing is so unreliable as the weather, and no man, however rugged his constitution, can afford to trifle with it. Be prepared for rapid changes in temperature. A little recklessness may cost a valuable life. If you have not purchased your winter overcoat, there never was a more opportune time for doing it. We are now offering

OUR IMMENSE LINE OF

OVERCOATS, ULSTERS & SUITS

At Greatly Reduced Prices.

Evidently the Ulster is to be the popular garment in the Winter Clothing line, the demand being far in excess of any season since the "big snow" year.

Our tailors are humping themselves to keep up. We cut Ulsters rather late, figuring on December and January trade, but have no objection to selling them cheap early in the season. Boys or Men wanting Ulsters can find them here now at very close prices.

OVERCOATS

The last lot put in stock is an Irish (i. e. Irish-American) Frieze, double-breasted, full back, wool-lined short Overcoat, at $20. It is a tickler for the stylish young men.

Another, the plain Kersey Box Overcoat, with shoulders silk-lined; not many of them left; have to look to Custom Department soon, as we shall make no more for stock.

Simonds' celebrated Chinchilla Overcoat; sold on its merits, and known by dealers and consumers to be the best cut, best sewn and best trimmed Overcoat for $20 shown in this market. See them.

THE CONVENTIONS HELD.

Gompers Calls to Order the Federation of Labor.

THE CLERKS ALSO IN SESSION.

While in Florida the Farmers Alliance Continues Business at the Old Stand.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 8.—Nearly six hundred and fifty delegates representing trades organizations in every part of the country were gathered in Clawson's hall at 11 o'clock this morning when President Samuel Gompers, of New York, called to order the tenth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The proceedings, as usual, were conducted in secret. It is said that one of the important questions that the conference has to face is that of socialism. The socialists have determined to gain admittance to its councils if possible and to force their views down the throats of the conservative delegates. Ever since the socialist trades union withdrew from the Central Labor Union in New York and formed the Central Labor Federation, they have made efforts to secure a charter from the American Federation but have failed. President Gompers has steadily refused to grant a charter on the ground that the socialist labor party is a political organization, was a member of the Central Labor Federation.

The convention will this year depart from its usual rule and discuss a political question. All the delegates have been furnished with a copy of a circular signed by President Gompers, intimating that one of the subjects of discussion will be ballot reform. The document points out that the safety of the wage-workers can be secured only through the ballot, and urges careful and serious consideration of the question.

The delegates were welcomed to the city by the president of the board of aldermen in the absence of the mayor, and President Gompers, of the Federation, responded for the delegates. After these ceremonies the convention settled down to business, which was opened by President Gompers' annual address. President Gompers, in his address, said among other things: A demand for an eight-hour day will be made by trades in series, and if success cannot be questioned. The next industry to make the demand will be the coal miners. They will move May 1, 1891. During the year the federation has established 274 local branches and the National Trades union reports 913 local branches established. Existing branches have added from 5 to 45 per cent in membership.

The address declares in favor of the system of national trades. During the year, 1,163 authorized strikes have taken place. Of these, 930 succeeded, 76 failed, and 98 were compromised. Besides many concessions were gained without resort to strikes. The people who propose a strike are warned that bluster will not win, and that they must be prepared for whatever battle they propose.

The federation is not always able to assist strikes financially. President Gompers refers in commendation of the project of an internal federal congress in 1893, to be coincident with the eight-hour day in government work, suggests the extension of observance of labor day as an annual holiday; warns against child labor and declares for international copyright and ballot reform.

President Gompers meets the charge of excluding socialists by saying that he has ever tried to exclude anyone for his economic opinions, and insisting that the only requisite to the trade union movement is good standing in a local union.

Retail Clerks Union. DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 8.—The national convention of retail clerks, organizations was called to order at noon today at Leys hall with George M. Eby, of Duluth, presiding. The object of the convention is to further the organization of the clerks for the purpose of improving their condition. The call for the convention says: "That the condition of the retail clerks is a lamentable one is acknowledged by all classes, and everywhere they have organized unions they have met with merited success and support. Stand among your peers and secure that to which you are justly entitled—recognition. If you are not already organized lose no time in doing so."

It is the intention to secure a charter and become a branch of the American Federation of Labor now in session here. The attendance is large.

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 8.—The national farmers alliance assembled again this morning at 8:30. After reading papers and a few speeches giving newspaper correspondents a drubbing because they have obtained a report of the proceedings beyond that given out by the press committee, the convention listened to a report of the committee on legislation with reference to the sub-treasury, and this matter has been under discussion for over two hours. The exact nature of the report and discussion thereon has not yet been learned, but a warm controversy has been going on all the morning, if one may judge by the loud voices, applause and frequent raps of President Folke's gavel, the sound of which came through the open windows. The report is said to have recommended numerous changes in the bill as originally drawn, presumably with the purpose of securing democratic support.

Capt. C. A. Power, of Indiana, has been circulating a petition to the national alliance, asking that it rescind its action of Saturday night, naming

Washington, and the third Tuesday in November, as the time and place for holding the next annual meeting, and making Indianapolis the place. Many signatures have been secured already among the delegates and it is predicted that a change will be made. About half of the delegates, with ladies, have gone on an excursion to Homosho, the phosphate field on the Gulf coast. It is now predicted that the alliance may remain in session two or three days longer.

National Board of Trade. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8.—The annual convention of the National Board of Trade opened this morning in the Chamber of Commerce, under the presidency of Hon. Frederick Fraley, of Philadelphia. The attendance is large, delegates being present from nearly all the boards of trade and chambers of commerce of the country. Today will mainly be devoted to routine business. Elaborate arrangements have been made by the local committee for the entertainment of the visitors.

FOR PEACE. Parnell's Paper Urges a Conference of Both Sides in Paris Over the Irish Question.

DUBLIN, Dec. 8.—The Express (Independent conservative) says: The prospects for home rule for Ireland at the next election are as dim as Queen Anne. Irish public opinion points to the continued popularity of Parnell.

The Freeman's Journal, in which Parnell is understood to have an interest, today advocates on its own responsibility without recommending the plan to either side on the grounds beyond its reasonableness, that efforts be made by the two factions of the Irish party in the direction of conciliation and peace. It urges Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien to return from the United States to Paris forthwith and that all the nationalist members of the house of commons or delegates from each section of the party assemble in conference in that city, with a full knowledge of all that has happened, to decide with them what course to pursue. Such a conference, The Journal says, would not only prove that the sections desire to hang together, but would attract attention to the fact that the men in the front rank are of the best and bravest of the Irish party and will preclude the setting on foot among their own people of an utter break up in a temper of the party it took so many years to establish and consolidate.

During the coming week Mr. Parnell will make addresses in Dublin, Cork, Limerick and Waterford.

London.—In response to the call issued by Justin McCarthy, the leader of the anti-Parnellite faction of the Irish party, all who were opposed to Parnell assembled today. They discussed the line of policy to be adopted. A copy of the call had been addressed to Parnell and his supporters but it is hardly necessary to state that none of them were present. A council comprising eight members, Messrs. Abraham, Dillon, Healy, O'Brien, Arthur O'Connor, Thomas Power O'Connor, Sexton and Sheehy was appointed to assist Mr. McCarthy in deciding the future action of the party.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. McCarthy. After the appointments of the council an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock tomorrow.

Mr. Parnell arrived at the house of commons at 2 this afternoon.

The Tobacco Tax. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The ways and means committee today voted to report the bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to refund so much of the taxes collected on tobacco which shall be in the hands of dealers on Jan. 1, which was abolished by the recent tariff act. Mr. Turner of Georgia, moved a substitute providing for the rebate, but avoiding reference to the tariff act which was supported by the democratic members of the committee. The committee also voted to report the resolution declaring that nothing in the tariff act should be construed to impair the provisions of the Hawaiian treaty. The democrats opposed the resolution.

Appraisers' Warehouse Site Selected. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Secretary Windom has selected a site for the appraisers' warehouse in New York city the square bounded by Christopher, Washington, Barrow and Greenwich streets. The square contains 50,000 square feet, and is owned by Trinity church. The price to be paid for it is $500,000.

In the Senate. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Mr. Casey offered a resolution (which was referred to the committee on agriculture) calling on the secretary of agriculture for a statement of the progress made in the investigation for irrigation purposes.

Mr. Dawes read a portion of a letter written by Mr. Lee, a census Indian agent from Pine Ridge agency to the interior department going to show that there is no lack of food among the Sioux. He said that he read this to relieve the public anxiety and to show that the Indians are not on the war path on account of want of supplies.

In the House. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—E. B. Taylor, from the committee on judiciary, reported back the Enloe resolution for the arrest of George Minot for attempting to prevent Mr. Enloe's leaving the house one day in August last. The committee reports that the action calls for no response and the resolution was laid on the table without objection.

Strikers Go Back. LONDON, Dec. 8.—The striking stove-dores employed by the New Zealand Steamship company and the British Indian Steamship company resumed work on the steamers of those companies at Albert dock today.

THE GREAT NORTHWEST.

A Wife Murder and a Suicide in St. Paul Today.

DAKOTA FARMERS DO PROTEST.

Have Loaned $400,000 in Minneapolis and Duluth and Do Not Want Help.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was a brutal murder in St. Paul last night, and it was followed this morning by the suicide of the murderer. Ed Finley, a colored tough, killed his wife last night after they had quarrelled and then fled. The police were soon on his track. Supposing he had gone to Minneapolis they notified the authorities there, who arrested a suspect at the Union depot.

The man was held until Chief Clark could go over and identify him. When that official arrived he found the suspect not the man he wanted, and a few minutes later received word from St. Paul that Finley had just been found in a hospital with his throat cut from ear to ear. Finley is still alive, but the chances are against his recovery. The murder was done with a butcher knife.

The Farmers Are Rich. GRAND FORKS, N. D., Dec. 8.—The chamber of commerce and the Business Men's association have administered a severe rebuke to Congressman Hansbrough for introducing a resolution in congress asking for an appropriation of $500,000 for destitute citizens of North Dakota when the six counties of the Red River valley alone in the state raised during the crop season of 1890, 25,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals, and have loaned to wheat buyers of Minneapolis and Duluth $400,000 during the last thirty days to tide them over the crisis caused by the stringency in Eastern money markets.

These business bodies insist that North Dakota is able to provide for all its needs, and protest against the adoption of the Hansbrough resolution.

Mrs. Brackett Dies. MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Anna M. Brackett, wife of George A. Brackett, died at an early stage of this morning at their residence, 625 Fifth street south. She had long been ill and her case was known to be hopeless.

SCRAMBLE FOR TOBACCO. Eastern Buyers Take all They Can Find in Sight.

EDGEWATER, Wis., Dec. 8.—Something of the craze of '84 is present now, and when the dealers lose their heads it is not at all strange that the farmer is almost afraid to set a price upon his tobacco. Never before in the history of tobacco growing has so much of the leaf been purchased in so short a space of time as during the past two weeks.

These trades have been made too, while the greater portion of the tobacco has been hanging in the sheds too dry to be handled or examined, and they partake much of the nature of unsight and unseen transactions. There is apparently no good reason for this rush and stampede, but the dealer who is afraid he will be left in the lurch, and this includes all those in the field. The wild tobacco buyer is the hardest animal to "head off" there is.

The present crop is one of the largest ever grown in the state, and granting that half or more has been contracted for, and unseasonable transacted, there is the buying should stop now from 30,000 to 35,000 cases of bundle tobacco will be dumped at the doors of the warehouses in this state soon after the holidays. Some dealers there is more than 37,500 cars of tobacco already contracted for. Whether the greedy tobacco buyer has bitten off already more than he can chew, figuratively speaking, remains to be seen.

READY FOR A CRUISE. The New Naval Squadron Gets Ready to go South.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Orders have been received by Rear-Admiral Bancroft Gherardi, commandant of the North Atlantic squadron, to have the repairs on the flagship Philadelphia, the Dolphin and the Petrel completed without delay, preparatory to the usual winter cruise in the West Indies. The vessels will be ready to start about Dec. 15.

The Philadelphia is now at anchor in the North river and will take in coal. The Dolphin is at the navy yard, but she needs a few repairs.

DISEASED CATTLE.

Several More Ships Detained From Carrying Live Stock.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 8.—The minister of agriculture received a cablegram from Sir Charles Tupper yesterday stating that, in addition to the Linda, the imperial board of trade had prohibited two other vessels from carrying live cattle to Great Britain. Sir Charles does not say whether the vessels have been plying from Canadian or United States ports or whose vessels they are.

The dispatch also conveys the intelligence that a number of animals by the Korean have been detained at Liverpool on suspicion of disease.

A Boulangerist Wins.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—At the election held in this city yesterday to fill a vacancy in the municipal council, M. Grenbonval, the Boulangerist candidate, was elected, receiving 1360 votes against 1240 for M. Gely, a possibilist republican.

THE INDIANS.

They try to do Cowboys: Women and Children Moved.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Gen. Miles this morning received a letter from Buffalo Gap, S. D., under date of Dec. 6, which says:

"Yesterday afternoon in a party of fifteen Sioux at the entrance to the 'Bad Lands,' and ordered to cut off and capture three cowboys. The ranchmen in the vicinity of the bad lands are sending the women and children into this town. There are no rifles or ammunition and none have been received here, although application has been made for them in order that the settlers may arm themselves."

Shortly after this letter was received, a telegram came from the same place, dated today, saying:

"Ranchmen and Indians had a slight skirmish. The situation is becoming serious for the settlers are unarmed. Can you supply fifty good rifles and ammunition so that settlers can defend themselves?"

Gen. Miles will leave for the scene of the Indian trouble tomorrow.

WHO GETS THE MONEY?

The Parnell Dilemma Raises a Question as to the Funds Here.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The peculiar position in which the Irish evicts, Messrs. Dillon, O'Brien, O'Connor, Gill and Sullivan, find themselves, as evidenced by the reports from Chicago, that they contemplate abandoning their tour throughout this country, was the occasion of considerable discussion among prominent Irishmen in this city yesterday.

The question which received most consideration was what disposition will be made of the funds in this city and elsewhere. Banker Eugene Kelly is the custodian of the money subscribed at the Metropolitan Opera house, and it is understood that he will refuse to hand it over to Parnell. It amounts to over $30,000. Other large sums are tied up in a similar manner in various parts of the country.

THEOLOG STAGG.

The Noted Athlete of the Yale Theologian School Gets an Offer.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—The directors of the Johns Hopkins University Athletic association are endeavoring to secure the services of Stag, the noted Yale athlete, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Hartwell, associate professor in the physical department and director of the gymnasium.

The Hopkins men felt the need of a trainer in field sports and believe that Stag, with his abilities as an all-around athlete and "coach," would soon place Hopkins in front rank in athletic sports.

TERRIBLE IF TRUE.

Reported That a Belgian Train ing Ship has Foundered at Sea.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 8.—A fishing smack which arrived at Ostend today reports that the Belgian training ship Ville Danvers has foundered at sea. She has on board 100 naval apprentices. The government has received no advice of any disaster, and does not believe the report. Later—The report is known to be false.

FAIR MONEY IS OVERDUE.

Only 22 Per Cent of the Subscriptions Paid, Many Have $2,000,000.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The financial department of the World's fair under Treasurer Seaborg is devoting all its energies just at present toward collecting subscription moneys which are long overdue. The ordinance which was passed by the council favoring the issuing of the $5,000,000 bonds had a string tied in it that the World's Columbian exposition is required to show a collected cash subscription of not less than $3,000,000 before the city comptroller shall dispose of the bonds. The total amount of subscriptions paid into the treasurer's office up to date is $1,000,000, but an amount much larger is due and payments of late have not been made with the promptness that is required.

The American Newspaper Annual.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—N. W. Ayer & Son's American Newspaper Annual for 1890 has just been published. With the growth of years it has become not only merely a newspaper directory but a compact cyclopedia to which one may turn for information upon topics only connected with newspapers in the way that every human interest, sooner or later, comes within the scope of journalism.

ABOUT BRICK OF SLATE.

President Wilson Talks of the New Industry.

GREAT DEMAND FOR THE BRICK.

Sure to Come Into General Use in the West When It Can Be Made Here.

R. H. Wilson, president of the American Brick and Tile company, reached Duluth Saturday, as The Herald stated, and has been in conference since with Messrs. Emery and Taylor and others interested in the development of the St. Louis river water power and the erection of a slate brick plant near Thomson. It is his first visit to Duluth, and he is very strangely impressed, as he says, with the commanding location and prospects of the city. The superb winter weather of the past few days is an agreeable surprise to him in the matter of climate, as he, like others, has been looking for a snow bound city at the head of the lake.

The works of his company at Phillipsburg are overwhelmed with orders and turning out all the brick they can possibly deliver. The Dakota slate, the most commanding building in upper New York, is constructed of this pulverized slate brick, and for court yard and stable flooring, and sidewalk and road pavements it has given the best satisfaction, though with the present capacity of the Phillipsburg works, the demand for building brick engrosses all the product. It is an extremely fine, close grained, rich colored brick with a tensile strength and resistance to crushing weight three times greater than the ordinary clay brick. As soon as one building front is constructed of this brick in Duluth, Mr. Wilson has no question of the demand here for building purposes, as the work will speak for itself more strongly than any words or certificates.

Prior to his connection with the Phillipsburg works, Mr. Wilson was for years engaged in slate quarrying and making, and was a pioneer in the development of the great slate quarries of Maine. It is the trimmings and refuse slate which are employed in the brick manufacture, by crushing, pulverizing, shaping and burning like ordinary brick. For shaping the brick a special machine has been designed, subjecting the brick to extraordinary pressure, and turning out the pressed brick ready at once for the kilns. By this process there are only three handlings of the material from start to finished product, a notable saving of labor in production compared with ordinary brick making. The brick absorbs little water, and is practically impervious to moisture and unaffected by frost, making it peculiarly adapted for use in severe northern climates.

A number of samples of the St. Louis river region slate have been sent on to the works at Phillipsburg for trial and have made entirely satisfactory brick. Mr. Wilson intends to inspect the slate croppings and veins on the river line near Thomson today, with the directors of the Water Power company, and locate precisely the site of the new slate-brick works. As soon as this is decided upon, the equipment will be pushed at once, and the building for it has already been ordered. From the samples and descriptions already before him, Mr. Wilson has no doubt of the entire feasibility of the manufacture at a satisfactory profit, and of an assured demand for all the works can turn out.

THE NEW CHURCH.

Nearly All the Debt Paid at the Initial Service Yesterday.

The dedicatory services of the Lester Park Methodist church, of which a description was given in Saturday's Herald, were held yesterday morning. The beautiful little edifice was well filled, many members of the Duluth Methodist congregations, as well as the pastors, being present. An effort was made to pay the debt due on the building so that it might start as nearly free as possible. After a stirring plea, $3,100 was raised, leaving a debt of but $1,700, an excellent showing.

The following was the order of service:

Organ Voluntary.
Announcement of Dedication.
Hymn—Rev. S. S. Farley, the pastor.
Prayer—Rev. Mr. Clark (Presbyterian).
Male quartet—“Wandering Down.”
Scripture lesson—Rev. S. S. Farley.
Hymn—“The Lord Our God is Strong.”
Sermon—Rev. C. E. Manderville, of Chicago.
Financial Statement and Collection.
Responsive Reading of Psalm CXXII.
Presentation of the church for dedication.
Reading of the dedication—H. M. Brown.
Prayer—Rev. C. E. Manderville, D. D.
Prayer of dedication—Rev. C. H. Stocking, D. D.
Doxology—Rev. S. S. Farley, the pastor.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

A Regular Session of the Board of Education Saturday Evening.

The total children enrolled at the close of November in Duluth public schools was 3,349 an increase of 600 over the year before. At the close of the month this total was reduced by those who had left by transfer and otherwise to 2,003, an increase of 358 over the year before. In November there were 500 visitors and 30 cases of corporal punishment. In the night schools 220 were enrolled, and 146 below, 35 being the average daily attendance.

Miss Fleming resigned to accept a position at Lakeside. In the matter of contact between the board and Messrs. Waterworth & Pee for the building of the superstructure of the new high school contractors' bonds were accepted. Bills amounting to $12,000 were allowed. The secretary was ordered to advertise for bids for the Emerson school, corner Third street and Eleventh avenue west. The superintendent recommended the removal of scholars from Ray building to the Jefferson school; also removal of the Jefferson school children to the Edison school in January. E. V. Robinson was appointed janitor of the Edison.

The Famous Cocoa of Europe.
The Coming One of America.

Van Houten's has fifty per cent more of the flesh-forming elements of cocoa than is obtained by the best processes of other manufacturers.

Van Houten's Cocoa

"BEST & GOES FARTHEST."

Doctors and analysts of the highest standing all over the world, certify to this immense saving, and by VAN HOUTEN'S special process only can this be attained.

Van Houten's Cocoa ("once tried, always used") possesses the great advantage of leaving no injurious effects on the nervous system. No wonder, therefore, that in all parts of the world, this Van Houten's Cocoa is recommended by medical men, instead of tea, coffee or other cocoa or chocolate, for daily use by children or adults, and coffee or other cocoa or chocolate, for daily use by children or adults, and coffee or other cocoa or chocolate, for daily use by children or adults.

Sells Buffalo Property.

John Otto Jr., of Buffalo, has bought from Alonzo J. Whiteman, of Duluth, the property on Main street, that city, known as "the Holland." It was the old Kip homestead, and has a frontage of 100 feet on Main street with a depth of 230 feet to Pearl street.

What Constitutes a Nation.

Lyman Abbott in December Century: Fifty millions of people on 3,000,000 of square miles do not constitute the United States of America. A million or so of people occupying 21,000 square miles did not constitute Greece. It was the Greeks who constituted Greece; it is Americans who constitute America. So many people thrown together on one territory, no more make a nation than many blocks of stone thrown together in a pile make a temple, or so many types in a pile make a temple, or so many threads in a tangle make a fabric. Every nation has its own distinguishing features, its own type of character, its own consciousness, its own life. To constitute a nation there must be not only people and land and laws, but laws that are self-evolved, literature that is the expression of national life, language fitted to express that life, and therefore a life to be expressed.

IRON TON

The Future Iron Center of the Northwest.

Without doubt IRONTON is to become the business center of one of the largest manufacturing centers of the West.

Iron-ton Steel

COMPANY

Have contracted for mammoth iron and brick buildings, which, when fully completed, will cover fifteen acres of land and will be fireproof. This company has given a bond in the sum of $100,000

Conditioned that not less than 1000 men shall be employed continuously for a period of one year. That means a population at IRONTON of from 5,000 to 6,000 within a year, and probably more, as both the IRONTON LAND COMPANY and ST. LOUIS BAY LAND COMPANY propose to secure other large iron and steel works, foundries and machine shops.

You All Know

THE YEAR IN IRON ORE.

Figures of Superior Ranges for the Season.

FINDS ON THE EAST MESABI.

Remarks of the Iron Trade Review
on the Ore Situation.

Late reports from the north are to the effect that the good finds in ore on many properties lately mentioned are holding out well. There are half a dozen exploring and development camps on the Mesabi easterly from the Mallman locations, near the Iron Range crossing, and at each of these interested state they are perfectly satisfied. The Chicago owners of several of these properties have crews at work and ore has been found. It is expected that by another year there will be several working mines beyond the Mallman, all of which are the direct result of the activity caused by the fine showing at the Mallman itself.

Speaking of iron ore the Iron Age Review says: The season is at an end, and the result is just about that foreshadowed in these columns, or a trifle more than 7,500,000 tons of ore shipped by lake. [It has been, however, 8,140,000 tons.] Considering all the disappointments of the ore trade during the season the output is not unsatisfactory, but the average price was hardly up to the expectations of the trade. There are at this writing still a few vessels making ports. Locally, the only news of any account is the announcement by the Penokee and Gogebic consolidated mines of the appointment of Messrs. Ogilby, Norton & Co. as sales agents for the Colby, Aurora, Superior, Palms and Comet mines, representing a total output of 750,000 tons. There is still occasional inquiry from Eastern parties for Bessemer ore, at a considerable advance over the original price, and for immediate shipment; but not a word is heard of any demand for next year's ore, which is in confirmation of the opinions expressed heretofore. There are those who say that it will be June before any sales will be made.

SPORTING NOTES.

Spalding's reorganization idea is to make the National league and American association equally strong in playing strength, shorten the season and then exchange games in the spring and fall. In the fall the leaders of the two organizations are to play for the world's championship, and the other fourteen clubs in their respective positions, exchange a series of games.

The sons of the late August Belmont will reluctantly comply with the wish expressed in their father's will and dispose of the entire racing interests of the estate. Potomac, winner of the Futurity and candidate for the American Derby, should bring more money under the hammer than any thoroughbred ever sold at auction in this country.

The consolidated New York club has not concluded whether it will use next season the Polo grounds or Brotherhood park. In Chicago the congress street grounds will continue to be the stamping-ground of Spalding's team.

A number of the old-time baseball stars will find places upon the shelf next season. The young bloods have come to stay.

Fight Sixty-one Rounds.

OMAHA, Dec. 8.—Before the South Omaha club Saturday night Tommy White, of Chicago, and Dan Daly, of Bangor, Me., fought five hours and fifty-five minutes without reaching a decision. White had the best of Daly in height and reach, but Daly was the cleverest of the pair. In the first few rounds White tried for a knockout and landed several times heavily. In the 20th round Daly closed White's left eye and in the 34th the Chicago man's mouth was smashed so hard that it bled until the end. In rounds 37 and 42 White tried hard for a knockout, but Daly avoided him, and until the 71st round it was a walk-around, when Daly did a little more fighting. White was badly wounded but fought well. In the 91st round both men were too tired to proceed and the fight was drawn.

Big Billiards.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Roberts, the champion billiardist, has issued the following challenge: "I, John Roberts, offer any man in the world, including all advertised champions, half a game's start, 12,000 points in a game of 24,000 points up, for £1000 a side or any part thereof, for not less than £200. The match to be played at the Egyptian hall, London, within six weeks from this date.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy."

There never was a book written about children and for children in which grown-up people take more interest than they do in that prose idyl of home, "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Mrs. Burnett's dramatic version of the story will be presented at Temple Opera tonight. So familiar has it become to the public that as much interest centers in the company producing the piece as in the play itself. The title role will be assumed by Bertie Homan and George Cooper, while Frank Aiken takes the part of earl of Dorincourt. B. W. Singer and Russell Bassett will do respectively Dick and the grocer.

This week is booked solid with attractions. The Bethel concert comes the 10th, Luttman's sextette on the 11th, Hurlburt's show of trained animals Friday and Saturday.

Roland Reed plays in "The Woman Hater" at West Superior next week.

PARNELL AND MRS. O'SHEA.

It has become the custom among some Irishmen to call Mrs. O'Shea "Dervorgill the Second." Dervorgill is somewhat of a legendary character who is made responsible for 700 years of Irish misfortunes. Thomas Moore has immortalized her as the "faisle of women," and Irish men and women shall love to sing his charming melody proclaiming that "on our side is virtue and Erin; on theirs is the Saxon and guilt." She was the wife of O'Ruarc, prince of Breffny, and is supposed to have eloped with Dermot MacMurrough, king of Leinster and ancestor of the legless and armless Irish tory leader, Arthur Ruanagh, who died recently. The elopement is probably a myth, as she was a woman of middle age at the time, but Mrs. O'Shea is "fair and forty," if not fat also. Dermot brought the English over to help him in his war with the aid of Roderick O'Connor, king of Connaught, and last monarch of Ireland. Mrs. O'Shea has set the Irish chieftains and chieftains of today fighting among themselves and the hated Saxon will be the only gainer by the fratricidal strife.

Mrs. O'Shea is no ordinary woman, and least of all is she an adventuress. She is of the bluest English blood and a woman of intellect and refinement. Her brother, Sir Evelyn Wood, is one of the best generals in the British army and, after Lord Wolseley and Sir Frederick Roberts, who are both Irishmen, next in the line of promotion for commander-in-chief. He has a bitter quarrel with his sister over a fortune of $100,000 left her by an aunt, recently deceased, and is known to have been for a long time urging O'Shea, with Joseph Chamberlain, whose motive was political, to the action which has brought disgrace on the Irish leader. Mrs. O'Shea is handsome, with a pearly white skin, a wealth of golden hair and a graceful, voluptuous figure. She has a fascinating manner and is charming in conversation, with cultivated literary tastes and a man's knowledge of politics. The breath of suspicion had never touched her until she met Parnell. She started in to help him politically and ended by becoming infatuated with him. The fascination was mutual.

O'Shea is the son of a Limerick attorney who left him a large fortune, which he squandered in horse racing and gambling. He was an officer in a crack cavalry regiment, a dashing, lady-killer fellow with a good figure and attractive manners. He married Kitty Wood when she was in her teens, but the pleasures of the mess room and the race course had more attraction for him than home. When he lost his money he left the army and lived on his wife's spending it freely on wine, women and horses. He often remained months away from home and utterly neglected his wife. Getting into parliament for county Clare through the influence of the catholic bishops, he foisted himself on Parnell through his wife's extraneous and proceeded to earn a good government berth by making himself useful. He closed his eyes to what everybody knew and finally only acted from mercenary motives. He is the most thoroughly despicable cad in London today. Under other circumstances and with a man for a husband Mrs. O'Shea would have made a good wife. There can be no doubt that Parnell will marry her.

NEWS OF WEST DULUTH.

The New Woolen Mill Is Doing Good Business.

CATHOLIC CHURCH DEDICATION.

General News of the Day at Both West End and West Duluth.

At the woolen factory about twenty-five hands are now working and very soon the number will be increased to the full capacity about forty. In the spring the manufacturing of the cloth into garments will be commenced and the force increased to seventy-five or more. The company is now working on Scotch chevrons, of different styles, and the first shipment of goods will be made Monday. Foreman Abe Mellor seems to be a very competent man and looks close after the business.

Dedicating the Church.

About two months ago the catholics of this place commenced the erection of a church which has now been completed at a cost of about $2500, and yesterday it was dedicated with great solemnity. A special train brought the officials, several catholic societies and a large number of people from Duluth, who were met at the depot and welcomed by J. T. Gunn, Esq., in a short and appropriate address. Bishop McGorrick replied in a fitting manner. The procession was then formed, and headed by the West Duluth band, marched to the church, where the special services were performed in the presence of a large congregation. The blessing was conferred by the bishop, assisted by Rev. Fathers Roy, Giroux and Kosmell. The musical part of the ceremony was in charge of Miss Annie Corral, who is to direct the choir hereafter, and she was assisted by Miss Burns, of Superior; Miss Collins and Mr. Collet, of Duluth, and Mrs. Sims, of West Duluth. Dinner was served at the Phillips hotel.

West Duluth Notes.

Landlord Stone of the Phillips, is still confined to his room. His daughter, Mrs. Bissett, returned to Minneapolis today and Ed goes there to engage in business, and Eugene is to take his place as clerk of the Phillips.

C. W. Hoyt's house on First avenue west, above Sixth street. George Yeager has returned from a visit to his parents at his former home in Lebanon, Ohio. After the regular evening service of the unitarians at the city hall last evening C. W. Hoyt read the articles of incorporation of the society and a sufficient number signed them to constitute a legal organization and officers will be chosen soon. The society will hold regular services at the city hall until such time as they can provide themselves with a more desirable place.

F. A. Larson who has been a student at Hamline university is spending the holidays with his brother W. A. Larson, and will then go to Denver, Col., to take a regular course of study preparatory to entering the ministry. Tomorrow evening Mr. Magoon of the Electric Light company will turn on fifty lights and the town will have reason to rejoice. Hans Nelson Lund will have charge of the plant.

There will be a meeting of the Masonic fraternity at K. of P. hall this evening at 7:30 sharp.

The Village Council.

A regular meeting was held Saturday night. Thirty-three cents a foot was assessed against property on First avenue, in Fifth division, for the building of sidewalks. A communication was received from the purchasers stating that the interest on $20,000 of 5 per cent bonds would soon mature. Willard & Harrington asked a rebate of assessment against their property, which was referred to the attorney to report at next meeting. The regular monthly bills were allowed.

The postoffice was moved to its new quarters Saturday evening, and when the door was opened yesterday a crowd poured in and soon commenced to crowd and jostle in a most ridiculous manner, and Postmaster Mallory had to read the riot act to them in a way that soon quieted them. There will be a rail in front of the delivery window, and all persons will have to put themselves in line and take their turn, so that ladies and gentlemen will not have to submit to the crowding and jamming of a few thugs that regularly go there to make themselves conspicuous, with no expectation of receiving any mail.

The New Burrows Store.

Three weeks ago Wednesday M. S. Burrows commenced the erection of the large good-looking building now completed opposite the Silvey building. Saturday the store was opened with a full line of ready-made clothing, gents' furnishing goods, trunks, bags and everything in the line carried by Mr. Burrows in the Great Eastern at Duluth, of which this is a branch. The West Duluth band was in attendance Saturday evening and an immense crowd thronged the store until very late and a large sale was made. This is probably the quickest job yet done in the way of opening up a large business and Mr. Burrows has added to his laurels as a genuine business hustler and he and the people of West Duluth are both to be congratulated on having so fine an establishment in this prosperous town.

Notice of Removal.

Dr. Bowers, specialist in nervous diseases, has removed his office to the Wood-bridge building No. 108 West Superior street. Stairway or elevator to second floor, rooms 200 and 202.

Mr. George Goldsmith who has been manager for William Harwood's dray line while Mr. Harwood was in England, will be found in future at Northwestern Fuel company's dock office, foot of Fifth avenue west.

LYMPH IN NEW HAVEN.

Injected Below the Shoulder Blade With the Usual Result.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 8.—Koch's lymph has arrived in New Haven. A small amount in a glass bottle, reached Professor Russell Chittenden, head of the Yale biological laboratory. He obtained it from a medical friend in Heidelberg, where Professor Chittenden spent two years in study.

A few hours after its receipt in New Haven Dr. J. P. C. Foster, to whom Professor Chittenden, not being a medical man, intrusted it for experimental use, injected a small dose with a hypodermic syringe below the shoulder blade of a patient. The reaction noted in cases abroad was speedily observed. It is believed this is the first injection of the lymph in America, and the widest interest in the result is felt here among medical men. There is no possible question as to the genuineness of the lymph. It is a clear, perfectly transparent liquid, dark brown in color. Three designations only were sent to Professor Chittenden, and this will be no more than enough to treat the case on which injection was made today and two others arranged for. These will be treated tomorrow.

Professor Chittenden and Drs. Bacon and Barstow, of Flushing, L. I., were present today at the time of injection. The amount used was one-half of one milligramme, and the reaction was very slight, as Dr. Foster intentionally used half the minimum dose recommended by Dr. Koch for adults. It is believed these three cases will fairly illustrate the workings of the lymph.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Representatives of the barbed wire manufacturers of the United States met this morning in response to a circular sent out by J. Gates, representing the St. Louis wire works. Mr. Gates was asked the object of the meeting, and he replied:

"It is our intention to put up the prices on barbed wire one cent per pound and form a trust, and we are going right at it in a business-like manner."

The meeting is held behind closed doors.

Nonagenarian and Octogenarian United.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 8.—A remarkable wedding took place yesterday at Parkersburg. The oldest citizens of Ritchie county are Norman Calhoun, who was 90 years of age a day or two ago, and Mrs. William Dixon, a widow who was 81. The old couple met at a Thanksgiving party, and were so deeply impressed with each other's society that they met again, talked and walked together, and, like giddy young folks, loved and determined to wed. Yesterday they were united in marriage in the presence of 100 relatives and friends.

Legislation Ruins Business.

DENVER, Dec. 8.—The unsettled condition of the silver market is causing serious trouble among Colorado smelters, and those mines producing low grade ores, and unless something is speedily done by congress, hundreds of low grade mines in the state will be compelled to close down.

LAKE FLEET DOUBLED.

Statistics Showing It Has Done So in Four Years.

OVER TWO THOUSAND SHIPS

In the Commerce of the Great Lakes Today; Some Pointed Figures.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8.—Statistics compiled for the census show that the lake fleet has nearly doubled in value in four years. In 1886 the business fleet consisted of 2,055 vessels of $26,360 net registered tons and of the value of $58,128,500.

Of these vessels 1,158 are steam, with a tonnage of 563,702 tons and a valuation of $48,434,350; 902 are sail, with a tonnage of 302,658 and a valuation of $9,684,150. Of the steamers, 232 are steamers of over 1,000 tons.

There was carried on the great lakes, during the season of 1889, 27,417,395 net tons of cargo, as follows: Iron ore, 7,450,455; coal, 6,800,897; lumber, 5,676,420; shingles, 1,018,611; lath, 73,437; flour, 823,764; wheat, 960,144; corn, 1,929,613; oats, 413,222; barley, 126,085; other grain, 105,412; salt, 236,540; pig iron, 147,553; miscellaneous, 2,901,780. One and one-half mills per ton per mile may be fairly adopted as the cost to shipper of lake transportation.

The saving to the public by the use of water transportation on the lakes in the single year 1889 was, therefore, $110,801,742.81.

A Great Record.

Lake shipments of iron ore for the season of 1890 aggregate 8,145,850 gross tons, a gain of 1,241,330 tons over the shipments of 1889, and of 3,423,903 tons over the quantity sent to market by water in 1888. As the shipments by rail will certainly reach 400,000 tons, the output of the Lake Superior mines for the year will exceed 8,500,000 tons—a magnificent showing for the iron fields of this region. This is a larger product by far than the mines expected to achieve at the opening of the season, and that such an enormous quantity of ore has been shipped testifies to their wonderful productive capacity.

The shipments from the several ranges and ports for the season have been as follows: Marquette range, 2,656,420 tons; Gogebic, 2,490,569; Menominee, 2,158,010; Vermilion, 870,848; Port of Marquette, 1,316,353; Escanaba, 3,742,219; Ashland, 2,109,555; Two Harbors, 870,848; Gladstone, 90,254; St. Ignace, 15,911. Of Vermilion shipments 525,905 tons were from the Minnesota, 331,900 from the Chandler and 11,853 from the Pioneer.

Marine Matters.

According to a dispatch from Bay City F. W. Wheeler is now in New York, to close a contract for a steel coal-carrying steamer. The steel side-wheel steamer, City of Chicago, hauled out at his yard, will be lengthened twenty-eight feet.

Statistics of lake transportation for 1889, compiled by the Lake Carriers' association for the census report, show that 27,417,395 net tons of freight were carried on the lakes last season.

The Colgate Hoyt passed Detroit, bound down the other day, so thoroughly covered with ice that the marine reporter could not board her. There was nothing to fasten a line to.

The 107 delivered at Buffalo 79,417 bushels of wheat in good condition and had only about 1000 bushels wet. The bill of lading called for 55,000 bushels. About 14,000 bushels were lighter off her at the South where she was sunk. The damage to the hull will not reach an average, and the owners have to foot the repair bill.

Retrenchment Imperative.

YANKTON, S. D., Dec. 8.—A movement is on foot among the members-elect of the legislature looking to the abolishment of many of the state offices in the interest of economy. The finances of South Dakota are in bad shape. Warrants on the treasurer remain unpaid and expenses continue greater than revenue. Independents will demand that they control the state legislature, and they propose to abolish the position of commissioner of immigration. An effort will be made to reduce representation to about 100 members.

Germany's Samoan Justice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Judge C. De Cedarcrantz, the new chief justice of Samoa recently appointed at the Berlin conference, arrived here last night en route to Samoa. He will sail for Honolulu on the next steamer, and will hasten from there to Apia by the first vessel on which he can obtain passage.

Protect the Seal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Sheldon Jackson, general agent of education for Alaska, has returned from the scene of his labors and talks in an interesting way of that country. He advocates the stringent protection of the seal industry and claims that at the present rate of poaching the seal will soon be exterminated.

St. Paul Blaze.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 8.—Fire last evening, originating in the livery barn of Campbell & Dempsey, corner of Bedford and Decatur streets, nearly destroyed the building and damaged three others adjoining. Loss, 17,000; insurance, $14,000.

Village Entirely Burned.

CAIRO, Ill., Dec. 8.—A train which arrived here yesterday brings the report that the village of Sykesstown, Mo., on the Iron Mountain road, had been totally destroyed by fire. The total damage could not be ascertained.

Oklahoma Needs Aid.

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 8.—Oklahoma is covered with snow from five to twelve inches deep. The demand for aid increases from the poor settlers. Of the amount appropriated by the government for the poor there remains scarcely anything. Aid must come or the suffering will be intense.

TO SECURE PARDON.

Under Sentence for a Most Brutal Murder.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Strenuous efforts are being put forward to induce the queen to exercise her prerogative of mercy in behalf of Mary Eleanor Pearsey, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Phoebe Hogg and her baby, and who, unless a reprieve is granted, will be hanged in Holloway jail a week from today. Petitions are being largely signed in the poorer residence districts of London, urging that the sentence be commuted to penal servitude for life. The Criminal Law Reform association is moving in the same direction, and so are a number of prominent humanitarians.

On the morning of Oct. 24 Mrs. Hogg received a note from Eleanor Pearsey asking her to take tea with her that afternoon. She accepted, and at 3 o'clock was seen to enter the house of the murderess in Priory street with a baby carriage. About 5 o'clock the same night a resident of Belgrave Park, about three miles away, found the corpse of a woman in some brushwood on the side of the road.

The body of the baby was found by a gypsy in a field over a mile away, while between the two points the policeman on duty came across a baby carriage containing a woollen rug and some linen, both saturated with blood. The poker, which stood in the fireplace, was covered at its end with blood and matted hair. The kitchen itself looked like a slaughter house. There were evidences of a frightful struggle. As a final proof in the evidence, the murderess was wearing the wedding ring of her victim at the time of her arrest. She was tried on Thursday last, promptly convicted and sentenced to death. The defence was insanity.

Hogg, the husband of the murdered woman, was driven out of the neighborhood, where he had resided all his life, by his indignant neighbors, who threatened to lynch him if he continued to remain among them. His present whereabouts are unknown.

Effectually Removed.

NAVAJO SPRINGS, ARIZ., Dec. 8.—Bud Blake, a noted desperado, was shot near this city yesterday. Blake was drunk at the time, having been in the city. He met two telegraph operators who had been out on a hunt and attempted to hold them up. They fired and wounded him so that he died in a few minutes.

Instantly Killed.

OMAHA, Dec. 8.—Martin Overbeck, cashier of the Chicago Lumber company, was run over and killed by a Missouri Pacific express train in this city yesterday. He was intoxicated and was attempting to drive across the track in front of the approaching train.

A Drawn Fight.

OMAHA, Dec. 8.—Before the South Omaha club, Saturday night, Tommy White of Chicago and Daly of Bangor, Me., fought five hours and fifty-five minutes. They fought ninety-one rounds. The fight was a draw.

The Christmas Holidays.

Are an especially enjoyable season of the year, and is the one festival universally celebrated among all civilized nations. Popularly, it is supposed to have its origin in commemoration of the day Christ was born, but the literary people who are versed in folk-lore, tell us that a festival of similar character was observed among the Teutonic and Norse peoples, long before any knowledge of Christianity reached them. However this may be, it is a priceless benefit to us that we have a breathing spell in our hustling for a livelihood, when we do really "take a day off," try to enjoy ourselves, and make ourselves happy with gifts. Why not make yourself and family happy by taking a trip to the sunny and flowery South in the two weeks' holidays? It will be the best thing you ever did for pleasure and rest. From the great Northwest and the Upper Mississippi valley, "The Burlington" is the only route worth naming. It has its own tracks all the way to either Chicago or St. Louis. Buy your tickets by this line. Any ticket agent can supply you, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Wanted—A Change.

Old King Solomon said: "There is nothing new under the sun." Probably he made the remark in a fit of disgust after vainly endeavoring to quiet some hair-pulling discussion among the thousand ladies who each claimed a share in him as a husband. At any rate, the mind of man is so constituted as to desire change, variety, something new. The world is built on that plan, too. No two mountains are just alike. No two faces in all the world's millions are exactly similar. Shakespeare said of one of his characters: "Age cannot wither or custom stale his infinite variety." No man likes to have, or should have, his life always bounded between four walls. We all like to have a change of scene now and then to see new faces, to travel to far countries. The United States has a greater variety of climate and scenery within its borders than any of the Old World states. About now is a good time to plan a journey to the South—the land of delightful winter resorts. Low rates are made for excursionists, and "The Burlington" is the route par excellence to all points South. For tickets and information call on any of its agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

LAKESIDE LAND COMP'Y

507 FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

On Saturday, the 10th day of January, A. D. 1891, the LAKESIDE LAND COMPANY will place upon sale at its office in Lester Park, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, the Fourth Division of Lester Park.

On all sales made before the first of January, 1891, there will be a discount of 20 per cent from the list price, after which date the company guarantees to sell lots only as listed.

We will reserve from the first sale one-half of the lots in each block facing on each street. That is, when one-half of the lots in any given block facing on any street are sold, the balance of the lots in that block facing on that street will be withdrawn.

On the day of the sale excursion trains will be run by the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to the property, and agents of the company will be on hand to answer all questions; also at some date prior to the sale, an excursion will be given and maps distributed so that all intending purchasers may have an opportunity of viewing the property and becoming acquainted with it before the day of the sale.

The desirability of this property for residence purposes is so well known that it is useless to say very much on that score. The wonderful improvements in the village of Lakeside which have been made during the past year are well known to all the people of Duluth. We claim for this property that it is the best in every respect that has ever been put on the market for purely residence purposes.

We have an assurance that the electric cars will be running through it inside of a year from the first of the coming January. We have water works in operation, good schools and all the advantages of the city, and by the first of next September there will be as good a drive-way from the center of Duluth to this property as can be found anywhere. London and Grand avenues are now graded and in good shape.

Maps and full particulars can be obtained at the office of the company.

We have also a large number of lots in all parts of the village on which prices will be advanced after February 1, 1891. We make special inducements to those who buy to build.

POLICEMAN HORGAN.

His Examination Held Today in Municipal Court.

The examination of Frank Horgan, charged with assault in the second degree upon H. W. Friedland, a window trimmer at Hutton & Watson's, was held today in the municipal court. There were a large number of witnesses on both sides, and the examination consumed considerable time. When the case was called, C. D. Bradley, the attorney for the defense, moved to dismiss on the grounds that the complaint had been before the deputy instead of the clerk of the municipal court. The motion was sustained, but Judge Morris refused to discharge the prisoner and a new complaint was filed.

H. W. Friedland, the complaining witness stated that he was washing the windows of the store on the night of the trouble, shortly after 10 o'clock. The sidewalk was considerably flooded and he heard a melody call out for him to stop the water. Directly Officer Horgan appeared and ordered him to stop the water or he would arrest him. He asked him to show his authority and Horgan replied that he would be damned if he did. The request and denial were repeated several times, and Horgan went into the store, where there was considerable loud talking. When he came out the altercation ensued. Friedland claims that Horgan hit him twice before he got an opportunity to defend himself, then he struck back and finally got his head under his arm and gave him a number of upper cuts. Horgan started away and Friedland started after him and in a few seconds the fight was resumed. Friedland claims he was knocked down and kicked and choked until he could hardly speak. When he arose again Horgan showed his badge and placed him under arrest. He related the story of how he was abused on the way to the patrol box and his subsequent illness.

He is still very weak and hardly able to move about.

Several witnesses corroborated the testimony of Mr. Friedland. Horgan testified that he acted only in the capacity of an officer, that he did not use the language attributed to him and that he did not strike Friedland until after the latter had struck him first.

Wall Street Expects More Favors From Government.

LOCAL MARKET AND MOVEMENT.

Grain Business for the Week; A Small Change in the Visible.

New York City, Dec. 8.—Wall street's opinion of Secretary Windom's circular of Thursday evening calling for proposals for the sale of $5,000,000 of the 4 percent bonds as expressed this morning is favorable as offering some relief in itself to the monetary stringency, but still more so from Mr. Windom's interview by a Sun Washington correspondent, that the amount of fractional currency in the treasury might be paid out in the purchase of bonds.

Wall street regards this as an intimation of early action in this direction on the part of the secretary of the treasury. The improvement in the opening prices this morning is attributed as much to this anticipated action as to the circular calling in $5,000,000 of 4s.
